

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

Skater Brakes His Neck.

Asheville, August 22.—A man named Elds, from Chattanooga, Tenn., a visitor to Asheville, fell at the Asheville skating rink to-night shortly after ten o'clock, breaking his neck and dying almost instantly. Mr. Elds was with his wife visited the rink to-night. The husband put on the skates and went on the floor while his wife looked on. After skating for some time Mr. Elds leisurely started to where his wife was sitting, and leaning over the railing, talked and laughed with her. Suddenly the man's skates shot forward, he lost his balance, fell backward and striking the floor, broke his neck. He died in an instant or two.

Life a Century Ago.

One hundred years ago a man could not take a ride on a steamboat.

He had never seen an electric light or dreamed of an electric car.

He could not send a telegram. He couldn't talk through the telephone.

He could not ride a bicycle. He could not call in a stenographer and dictate a letter.

He had never heard of the germ theory or worried over bacilli or bacteria.

He never heard a phonograph talk or saw a kinetoscope turn out a prize fight.

He never saw through a Webster's unabridged dictionary with the aid of a Roentgen ray.

He had never taken a ride in an elevator.

He had never seen his wife use a sewing machine.

He had never struck a match. He couldn't take an anesthetic, and have his leg cut off without feeling it.

He had never seen a reaper or a self-binding harvester.

He had never crossed an iron bridge.

NOTES OF THE BOSTON TRIP.

Our second day's stay in New England was made more pleasant than the first. Promptly at 9:30 Mr. Fairbanks and his committee called for us at our hotel and piloted us to two special street cars reserved for the party of the Virginia-North Carolina Press Association. The cars passed out through some of the principal thoroughfares of Boston, across the Charles river and into Cambridge, the seat of Harvard University. Our first stop was made at the famous institution of learning, the oldest in the country. Here guides took us through the beautiful grounds and pointed out many of the buildings. As our time was limited we went through only two or three of the buildings.

Perhaps the most interesting place visited here was the building containing the wonderful collection of glass flowers made by Leopold and Rudolph Blaschka of Germany. Here are seen almost every variety of flower known showing every color, made of glass. There is no other collection like it in the world. The process of making and coloring these flowers in glass is known only to the Blaschkas. We also visited the great dining hall, seating 1,000 students. This hall is 160 feet long, 60 feet wide and 80 feet high. This building is known as Memorial Hall and was erected in memory of Harvard students who lost their lives in the Civil War.

Harvard is not only the oldest college in America, but it is also the richest, owning property worth $12,000,000. More than 3,000 students are enrolled each year. The faculty numbers more than 300.

As we passed out of Cambridge we passed near the Washington Elm, the tree under which General Washington took command of the American army, and also near the home of the poet Longfellow.

Our next stop was made at Lexington. Here we visited the battleground where the Seventy "minute men" met the British on that memorable April 19, 1775. Several buildings may be seen here that were silent witnesses of the first battle of the Revolution, among them being the Munroe Tavern, built in 1695, the Buckman Tavern, the Merriam House, built in 1792, and the house of Jonathan Harrington, who, wounded in the fight of April 19, dragged himself to his door and died at his wife's feet.

Several monuments and tablets mark the places of interest here—the drinking fountain mounted with a statue of Captain Parker, who commanded the "minute men," and a small stone monument bearing the words of Captain Parker, "Stand your ground. Don't fire unless fired upon, but if they mean to have a war let it begin here," being of special interest.

But we could not stay longer on this historic spot, so we boarded our cars for Concord, reaching there a little after 12 o'clock. Here we were served an elegant luncheon on the lawn at the old Wright Tavern, built in 1747. In this building Major Pitcairn, of the British forces, had his headquarters on April 19, 1775.

After luncheon we were taken in carriages for a visit to many places of interest in the old town. Here was the home of Hawthorne, Emerson, Louisa M. Alcott, Thoreau, Sanborn and others who are well known in the literary history of our country. It would take too much space to tell all that interested us at this famous old town. (In a future article we may have more to say.)

On the way back to Boston the party stopped at Lexington Park and at Waltham. At the latter place the famous Waltham watch factory was visited. Here the party was shown a watch in its making from the beginning to the completion. At five o'clock the proprietors of the watch company gave our party a banquet that was much enjoyed. While all was enjoyed to the fullest extent, the lack of time cut short the splendid speech of our brother-editor, the witty Copeland, of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

The Waltham people employ over three thousand operatives and one of the most interesting sights of the day was to see the great throng file out of the immense building when the six o'clock bell rang.

From Waltham our party was taken to beautiful Norumbega Park. The following description of the Park taken from a little book issued by the Lexington & Boston Street Railway, may be of interest:

"Norumbega Park is a wonderful creation of nature, with an abundance of shady walks and cool breezes. Located at Auburn-dale on the Charles, on high ground, the view and recreation are unsurpassed. The terraces on the north slope are a favorite locality, where one may sit and see the hundreds of glittering canoes passing and repassing on the river below. Thousands of shrubs in great variety adorn the walks, while the beautiful flower beds, in all shapes, and filled with rare domestic and exotic plants, are a marvel of the gardener's skill.

"The extensive zoo, the merry-go-round, the doukeys, the bear pit, deer park, elk park, and swing court, are all great attractions for the children as well as adults.

"A magnificent new theatre was built on the grounds in the spring of 1904.

"On the right of the theatre is an electric fountain, which plays in the evening after the entertainment, giving an arrangement of colored lights and a spray, which is both beautiful and attractive."

After enjoying a three hours' stay at Norumbega at 10 o'clock we boarded the cars for Boston, reaching our hotel shortly after eleven o'clock.

The pleasures of the day were greatly increased by the presence of Mrs. Fairbanks, her daughter, Mrs. Brooks, and Mrs. Leavitt. These charming ladies made many friends in our party who will long remember them with pleasure. Messrs. Thompson and Hill, of the Boston branch of the American Type Founders Company, and Mr. E. C. Pelouze, of the Richmond branch of the same concern were on hand to assist Messrs. Fairbanks, Leavitt and Vittum, in showing the visitors the sights and scenes of Boston and vicinity.

Mr. Fairbanks, the chairman of the committee that did so much for the pleasure of the Southerners, is editor of the Natick Bulletin, and is also President of the Massachusetts Press Association. Mr. Thomas Leavitt, another member of the committee, and to whom our party was indebted for much of the pleasure of the trip through Dorchester, is editor of the Dorchester Beacon, and also a prominent member of the Massachusetts General Assembly. Not one of the committee left any stone unturned for the pleasure of the party and every one agreed that the hospitality shown us could not be surpassed anywhere.

A Lesson For Wives.

Nothing under heaven cuts the grit from under a man quicker than does discord and unhappiness in his home. Some men, but they are rare exceptions, are strong enough to be something in spite of home troubles. The man whose wife makes an unpleasant home for him knows a good deal about hell before he dies. And on the other hand a man whose wife makes a pleasant home for him is thrice armed and panoplied for life's battles, and heaven will not seem strange to him.—Monroe Enquirer.

THERE IS A REASON FOR CHEWING REYNOLDS' SUN CURED TOBACCO

Chewers becoming tired of heavily sweetened sun cured tobaccos caused REYNOLDS' SUN CURED to quickly win from the old brands of much longer standing the place as favorite with sun cured chewers, because it contains just enough proper sweetening and flavoring to preserve the quality of the leaf and enhance its goodness, causing a large increase in the demand for sun cured tobaccos.

REYNOLDS' SUN CURED

is not only pure sun cured, but it is made from choice selections of the genuine sun cured leaf grown where the best sun cured tobacco grows. It is like that you formerly got, costing from 60c. to $1.00 per pound, and is sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts; strictly 10c. plugs, and is the best value in sun cured tobacco that can be produced for chewers.

Extra Trains on Atlantic Coast Line.

The following is taken from the Rocky Mount Record.

We learn from a private source, but a reliable one, that General Passenger Agent W. J. Craig has requested seven extra passenger trains each day over the A. C. L. division from this city to Norfolk, to begin operation January 1st. This is to handle the immense crowd who wish to see the Jamestown Exposition. Those trains are to be three over the short cut to Fayetteville and three to Wilmington, while one train is to be operated from here to Norfolk. These are all in excess of the regular trains operated now. The Southern Railway is negotiating to run several passenger trains over their road from Greensboro to Selma, and then over the Atlantic Coast Line tracks from that place to Norfolk. A spur track is being constructed from the Southern end of the yard at South Rocky Mount through to the Norfolk branch; this is to handle all Southern freight and through passenger trains for Norfolk. The new A. C. L. trains will mean several new crews, all of which will probably be chosen for this division.
