THERE IS A REASON FOR CHEWING REYNOLDS' SUN CURED TOBACCO

Chewers becoming tired of heavily sweetened sun cured tobaccos caused REYNOLDS' SUN CURED to quickly win from the old brands of much longer standing the place as favorite with sun cured chewers, because it contains just enough proper sweetening and flavoring to preserve the quality of the leaf and enhance its goodness, causing a large increase in the demand for sun cured tobaccos.

REYNOLDS' SUN CURED

is not only pure sun cured, but it is made from choice selections of the genuine sun cured leaf grown where the best sun cured tobacco grows. It is like that you formerly got, costing from 60c. to $1.00 per pound, and is sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. cuts; strictly 10c. plugs, and is the best value in sun cured tobacco that can be produced for chewers.

KNIGHTAGE IN CHICAGO

Western Metropolis to Be the City of Chivalry.

SCHEME OF A SOCIETY WOMAN.

According to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, Leader of the Movement, Boys Are to Be Drilled to Be Bold and Chivalrous and Good When They Grow Up and Fight For the Right.

Cervantes must have turned over in pis grave the other day. Three hundred years has he lain in peace, and during those years the adventures of the Don Quixote whom he made to live upon the printed page have driven from England and from France, from Italy and from his own Spain the feudal practices which he was the first to

It has remained for Chicago to do the unexpected, says the Chicago Post. And Chicago has done it. Chivalry is to be the order of the day. Knights errant are to walk down State street and on Jackson boulevard; ladies fair are to reward with ribbons and with smiles the deeds of greatness done by their favored champions. Chicago is to be the city chivalrons.

All these surprising things which are to happen to Chicago were made known at a luncheon given at noon as a farewell to Mrs. Isabel Garrison, who is to spend the summer in Europe. Mrs. Garrison is the leader in the movement for bringing the days of chivalry into the prosaic present. Eleven friends gathered with her at a table to typify the twelve knights who erstwhile sat at the round table of King Arthur and recounted the deeds of valor they had done.

When the coffee and the cheese had been placed upon the table Mrs. Garrison outlined her plans for the ennobling of the youth of the land and the beautifying of the city. Orders of knights errant are to be organized among the boys of the gram-mar schools of Chicago. Each chapter is to be presided over by his majesty King Arthur and shall be named for one of the Arthurian knights, with the exception of the chapter royal, which shall be called Chevalier de la Salle.

Each boy who would be a knight errant must take the following oath: "Hereby I solemnly do promise service, loyalty and declare my allegiance to Chicago, my city chivalrous, to be her faithful knight henceforth."

Truth, gentleness, kindness to animals as well as to humankind, faithfulness and industry-these are the knightly qualities which the members of the order will be expected to exem-

The shield for the chapters will bear three C's, for "Chicago, City Chivalrous," and the shield for the chapter royal shall be the Arthurian shield upon an American eagle, with the words from Tennyson, "And Arthur shall come again."

Mrs. Garrison offers a prize of $25 to the boy who shall do the most for the furthering of the orders, and while in Europe she will secure a full suit of armor which shall be worn by the King Arthur of the Chevaller de La Salle.

"We hope to make Chicago a safer place to live by teaching the citizens of Coffice Up Stairs over Commercial and and honesty," said Mrs. Garrison recently. "The stories of the knights will novels, and the use of the chivalric symbols will appeal to the dramatic in-DR. J. C. JOHNSON, atlact in the boys. We do not intend to take the matter up with the board of education, but hope to have the help of teachers in forming our orders."

A Cat Rescued From London Gamins by the President's Daughter.

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the president's daughter, has picked up a mascot, says a London cable dispatch to the Kansas City Times.

Soon after her arrival in London she Buggles for sale at your own started from Dorchester House one morning to do some shopping. As she drove down Park lane she saw two small boys with a black cat, which they were apparently trying to strangle with a piece of string. She immediately ordered the carriage stopped and jumped out.

During the recent royal procession in Yokohama, Japan, in marked contrast to the seas of heads that we are accustomed to see in the upper stories of the houses in England on similar occasions, nothing but blank windows were to be seen, says the North China Herald, due to the fact that in Japan nobody is allowed to look down upon Matrimonial Trafficking in the Days Having Fun With the Barber, Portrait of Chivalry.

"Of all the mate monial trafficking in the age of chivalry the ways of widows," says a writer in an of good, original jokes is ludicrously English magazine, "are at once the boldest and most somprehensive. outside. An early investigator into As a rule their methods sendo n re-sort to blandishments. It is re-Hierocles, who lived some 1,500 markable when tendernes is an tem in their bargain. Speed was their maxim. It was one that King John honored, for he profited by it. Yet one of the rarest exceptions in | so there is no impropriety in asking the way of delicacy to these comnercial negotiations has evidently een prompted by a widow who had uite an exceptional lover. In 1206 William de Landa, either one of the most famous of the crusaders or his son, offers 50 marks and a palfrey for having to wife Joan, who was the wife of Thomas d'Arescy, 'if he may be pleasing to the said Joan." The sheriff is instructed to ascertain the widow's wishes, 'and if the said Joan shall be pleased to have him for a husband then the sheriff shall cause William to have seizin of Joan and her land,' both of which he obtained in the name of gentle love and the faith of a true soldier. It is fitting that the name of one of the men who led the assault of Acre should be preserved in such a record as the above. He was in truth a very perfect knight.

"One of the most rampageous of the northern English borderers manifested the like delicacy. Young Walter de Umfraville, son of Gilbert, had left a widow, Emma, presumably in the very blush of her charms. Peter de Vaux had fallen at her feet, but he declined to obtain her in border fashion, and this fact is the earnest pledge of the chivalry of his love. If he would not steal her he was bound to buy her, and coin with the De Vaux was always a scarcity. So he offered the king 5 palfreys for her 'if she wished it,' and with what would read as a graceful acknowledgment of the borderer's pure chivalry John absolutely drops the commercial from his reply and simply orders Robert Fitz Roger, the sheriff, 'to permit it to be done."

The Mosaic Law and Marriage. More than two centuries ago a tailor living in Currie was admonished by the kirk to stop courting his first wife's half brother's daughter. Instead of vielding obedience he fled to England with the woman and there married her, according to the Dundee Advertiser. A jury unanimously found him guilty, and the court ordered him to be beheaded. The reporter suggests that on the death of a wife her sister is no longer within the degree forbidden by the Mosaic law, nor is his brother's wife on the death of that brother. In fact, to marry a brother's widow was an express injunction of that law, and if the surviving brother declined the match the widow was entitled by that elegant and dignified system of jurisprudence to -spit in his face.

One Better.

An Englishman who was entertaining his American cousin was continually annoyed by being reminded of the superiority of things American. A number of attempts to show young Jonathan something that distanced American progress all resulted unsatisfactorily, and the Englishman in desperation escorted the cousin to Mount Vesn-

"Well," exultingly exclaimed the Englishman, "you haven't anything like that in America."

"Well, no," replied the American as he watched the outpouring of smoke, "but we have a little Niagara falls over there that would put the whole thing out in a minute."-Ladies' Home Journal.

Warning of the Green Light.

An old sea captain was talking about the colored signal lights of ships. "In the past," he said, "all lights were white. The colored light is a comparatively recent invention. I once knew a young Scottish sailor to whom the new colored lights were an unknown thing. As he stood at the wheel of his sloop one night a big steamer hove in sight, and the boy saw the great red and green lights for the first time.

There is a story told of the late Dr. Tait, archbishop of Canterbury, when he applied for his letters to some village postmaster in the Land o' Cakes. "And ye'll be the arch-bishop noo!" cried the little shopkeeper, peering urbanely at his grace over his spectacles. SOME CHINESE JOKES.

Painter and Doctor. If there is any truth in what expert jesters tell us, the world's stock small-a dozen or two at the very years ago, put the number in his day at exactly twenty-one. The re-searches of Hierocles probably did not extend so far eastward as China, now whether some of the jokes which abound in the literature of the Celestial empire are entitled to the honor of originality or not. Here are three specimens:

A careless barber, trimming a customer's ears-Chinese barbers pay particular attention to this part of the human anatomy-put his patient to great pain and uneasiness. "Are you doing my left ear now?" asked the victim. "No, sir; I've not quite finished the right ear vet." Ah, I fancied you were trying to pass through to the left without going around!"

A portrait painter without clients was advised by a friend to paint a likeness of himself and his wife and hang it in some conspicuous place, so that would be customers might judge of his skill. He did so, and his father-in-law the next time he called immediately saw the picture. "Pray," asked the visitor, what woman have you represented there?" "Why, sir, do you not recognize your own daughter?" "My daughter!" was the indignant answer. "If you intend that to represent my daughter, how dare you paint her sitting thus intimately with a man whom I have never seen before and who must be an entire stranger to her?" The painter's feelings need not be described.

The gibes at doctors are innumerable. The following is a typical ex-

One of the judges in the nether regions dispatched an imp to this world of ours to seek out and bring back a good doctor. "When," the imp was instructed, "you come to the house of a doctor before which you descry no complaining ghosts you will know you have found a man of the kind wanted." The messenger set out, but in front of every doctor's door he came to there was an immense throng of angry spirits proclaiming the wrongs they had suffered when in the flesh at the hands of the medicine man. Finally, however, he reached a house where there was but one solitary ghost flitting backward and forward. "This is my man," he said to himself. "He must surely be a clever fellow." When the imp came to make inquiries, however, he learned that the practitioner had barely been in practice for a day.-Grand Magazine.

Nothing Unusual.

Two neighbors were confiding their troubles to each other over the back yard fence that separated their premises.

"You know," said Mrs. Higgins, "that my husband is a carpenter?"

"Yes." "Well, I give you my word that all our upstairs rooms are unfinished, and the roof leaks whenever it rains, and I can't get Henry to do a thing to 'em!" "You're not any worse off than I am," said Mrs. Clingham. "You know my husband used to be a fireman on a locomotive?"

"Yes." "Well, just as true as I stand here, I always have to get up in the morning and make the fire!"-

Youth's Companion.

Apology Unnecessary. In the days when it was common for the younger son to go into the church one of these young gentlemen had charge of an outlying chapel. A Sunday or two after his ordination he found himself there in the afternoon with only the sermon in his pocket that he had preached there in the morning, and so the unfortunate curate had to give it over again. He began after service to make profuse apologies to the clerk, when that functionary politely stopped him by saying: "Lor bless ee, Master Charles, don't ee take on so! We never listens to ee!"—London Tit-Bits.

Last Call For Bargains In Iron.

An enterprising ironmonger in a small country town recently posted the following announcement in front of his shop:

"The reason why I have hitherto been able to sell my goods so much cheaper than anybody else is that I am a bachelor and do not need to make a profit for the maintenance of a wife and children. It is now my duty to inform the public that this advantage will shortly be withdrawn from them, as I am about to be married. They will, therefore, do well to make their purchases at once at the old rate."-London Tel-
