Family Reunion.

On Wednesday, August 1st, relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bud Jernigan celebrated Mr. Jernigan's eightieth birthday. There were about one hundred present, most of whom were relatives.

The religious services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Jackson, of Dunn, N. C., who used to be Mr. Jernigan's pastor. Mr. Jackson opened the service by fitting remarks. Then the audience sang such good old hymns as "Amazing Grace." They certainly sang them in the spirit and understanding, manifesting tears of joy all the while. The service came to a close seemingly all too soon.

The audience was given a recess during which they occupied themselves in two principal enjoyments. The men fed their mules and horses and the ladies spread an appetizing dinner. Perfect harmony and good will was manifest now, as it had been all day. After all had eaten they talked, chatted, etc., until about 3 o'clock when another short devotional service was held for some who could not come in the morning.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and class-mate, Lessie Lee, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to her; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting her removal from our midst we mourn for one who was, in every way, worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That the heart-felt sympathy of this class be extended to her family in their afflictions.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, also to The Smithfield Herald by the secretary of our class, "The Wesley Willing Workers," of the Sanders Chapel Sunday school.

Watching the Small Items.

Reclamation of scrap paper, one of the "small items" in connection with a systematic campaign inaugurated by the Mobile and Ohio Railroad to prevent every character of waste and conserve materials of all kinds, netted the company for the year ending June 30, 1917, the sum of $1,875.82 after deducting all expenses of handling.

Each office on the road is furnished with a certain number of sacks and all scrap paper and old records that the Company has been authorized to destroy are placed in these sacks. Once each month they are picked up by a supply car and assembled at a concentration point. The paper is then sorted into the various grades and baled. When a car load has been accumulated, it is sold.
