STATE FARMERS' CONVENTION.

Fifth Annual Convention of Farmers and Farm Women. North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, West Raleigh, N. C., August 28, 29, 30, 1917.

Officers—Men's Convention. John Paul Lucas, Charlotte—President; A. J. Moye, Farmville—Vice-President; C. C. Wright, Hunting Creek—Vice-President; A. K. Robertson, West Raleigh—Secretary-Treasurer.

Officers—Women's Convention. Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, Raleigh—President; Miss Mabel Howell, Raleigh—Secretary-Treasurer.

The Convention is an annual "Bringing Together of all the Progressive Agricultural forces of North Carolina." This is the fifteenth session, held at the State College of Agriculture and Engineering, and with the program offered below a record-breaking attendance is expected. Practical as well as theoretical instruction will be given, and the association of farmers and their wives and daughters, from all sections of the State, for three days, will in itself be excellent inspiration and education through the exchange of ideas afforded. The entire college as well as the Capital City of the State, is thrown open to those in attendance.

Accommodations and Expenses. The main railroads of the State have granted the usual reduction rate for the round trip from all coupon stations; namely, about one and one-half cents per mile, plus 25 cents. The tickets will go on sale August 26th, 27th, and 28th, and are good returning as late as September 2nd.

After arriving at the College the only necessary expense is 25 cents for each meal taken in the College Dining Hall. All rooms in the dormitories are free to the Convention delegates. However, the only furniture in the rooms is: one washstand, bowl and pitcher, two single beds with mattresses, one closet, two chairs. Bed linen, including pillows if desired, towels, comb and brush, small mirror and soap should be brought.

Program Features. This year the program will be more or less in the nature of a Short Course for farmers and farm women. The three mornings will be devoted to sectional meetings, in which the instruction will be very similar to college classroom instruction. With the program as outlined below, a delegate may receive instruction an entire morning on one subject; for instance, Swine Husbandry. Or, if this is not desired, one may attend a lecture on Swine Husbandry and another on Dairying, or on some subject relating to a field crop, etc. It is hoped that this plan will be found satisfactory and be used at future Conventions. General sessions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and evenings. Motion pictures will be shown, following a short address each evening.

Winter gardens for North Carolina farmers will be discussed before the joint session of men and women Wednesday afternoon, and should be of vital interest to all.

In order to receive full benefit from the Convention Program one must arrive at the college by Monday night and get comfortably located so as to be ready for the first lecture period Tuesday at 8:00 A. M. Placards will be placed on the campus and in the buildings, telling when and where the lectures are going on. From five to seven each afternoon there will be an opportunity for the Convention delegates to visit places of interest in the Capital City.

The news comes from Germany via Copenhagen, that the large merchant submarine Deutschland, which visited America twice, has been converted into a war submarine and equipped with six torpedo tubes.

The German losses in submarines since the unrestricted warfare was begun aggregate twenty to twenty-two, according to the informant of the Associated Press, who recently was in Germany. Four additional boats have been lost in the Mediterranean.

It is reported that Germany has now about 300 submarines.
