THE FAIR NEXT WEEK.

The Johnston County Fair has become to be an enterprise which the people of the County regard as their very own. It comes at a season when the people have gotten in their crops and they are in a position to enjoy a day or two of rest and recreation. The Fair offers an opportunity for the people of the entire county to come together and renew old acquaintances and make new ones. It brings them together in a social way as nothing else, for no other gathering or meeting does or can. It is the time when the people forget the troubles and worries of the year and come to Smithfield and enjoy a day of sight seeing, frolic and fun. They love to come and see the exhibits of the farm and factory, garden and pantry, and the art and fancy work of the ladies and children. They love to come and see the midway with its spellers and its fakers—yes the fakers will be here. They will have their tricks to catch the unwary—The people will not leave them alone. The folks love to see the merry-go-round and enjoy the loud music. They will also look with wonder on the man as he rides through the air on his airplane with the swiftness of the eagle. They will enjoy the races and the big hogs and the fine cows.

Let us take a day off and attend the Fair. It promises to be the best ever held in the County. It is the Johnston County Fair for the Johnston County people by the Johnston County people. Come and enjoy one day of it at least.

Smithfield Equal Suffrage League.

On Wednesday afternoon, October 31, an "Equal Suffrage League" was organized in Smithfield with the following officers and members:

Mrs. E. W. Pou, Honorary Chairman.

Mrs. W. A. Green, Chairman.
Mrs. F. H. Brooks, Vice-Chairman.
Mrs. S. T. Honeycutt, Secretary and Treasurer.

Members—Mrs. A. H. Rose, Mrs. Claude W. Smith, Mrs. Ed. S. Abell, Mrs. Hugh L. Skinner, Mrs. Harry Stevens, Miss Lucile Spears, and Mrs. McCullers, of Clayton.

Those interested in the organization can find out more about the organization by writing to or conferring with the officers named above. This meeting was held at the request of Miss Lillian Thompson, of Raleigh, who is Chairman of the Fourth Congressional District, and Mrs. Palmer Jerman, of Raleigh, who inspired her audience by her splendid analysis of suffrage. In the near future, Miss Thompson, Dr. Della Dixon-Carroll and other good suffrage leaders will address the Smithfield League.

We are asked to state that this League has no sympathy with the "pickets" at the White House whose conduct has hindered woman suffrage.

FOOD CONSERVATION.

The Herald office has been flooded for the past few weeks with matter relating to the food conservation campaign. We have published as much of it as we could find room for, and we believe our people are sufficiently aroused to do their part in this great work. Unless every one does his dead level best to save and conserve what has been made there is going to be a lack in some places. If there is a person who reads this who is not doing all he can to save it is not too late to begin now.
