PERSONAL AND LOCAL.

Don't fail to see "Fi-Fi" at Opera House Thursday night.

Mrs. D. J. Bradhurst, of Goldsboro, is visiting her sons in the city.

Miss Annie Peacock spent the week-end with friends in Raleigh.

Rev. J. H. Worley, of Selma, was in town for awhile yesterday on business.

Mr. W. R. Long returned this morning from a business trip to Richmond.

Miss Sue Jones, County Home Demonstrator, went to Goldsboro Friday, returning Saturday.

Miss Fannie Whitaker is the guest of her niece, Mrs. L. G. Patterson, on Oakland Heights.

A large number of Smithfield people took in the automobile show at Raleigh last week.

Miss Clara Young, of Raleigh, spent a day or two with friends in the city this week.

Miss Bettie Lee Sanders went to Princeton Sunday for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Ed. A. Holt.

Miss Gertrude Johnston, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Miss Celeste McEachern.

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Stevens, Mrs. H. P. Stevens and Mrs. W. H. Austin spent Thursday in Raleigh.

Mr. Edgar Turlington, who has been here since his father's funeral last week, left yesterday for Chapel Hill.

Mrs. W. Ward, of Nashville, was here yesterday to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Mr. Walter M. Ives.

Mrs. G. B. Smith, Misses Emma Tomlinson and Bessie Sanders were the guests of Mrs. A. M. Sanders Saturday.

Miss Bertie Spiers, who is teaching at Pine Level, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Spiers.

Master Thel. Hooks left Friday for Camp Sevier, Greenville, S. C., to pay a visit to his father, Lieut. Thel Hooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmundson, of Goldsboro, spent Sunday in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Broadhurst.

We are glad to state that Mr. D. H. Jones has returned home after spending several days in a Raleigh hospital for treatment.

Governor Bickett, while in the city last week, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sanders at their beautiful home on Oakland Heights.

Misses Corina Sanders and Gertrude Powell spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Roberta Powell in the Sander's Chapel section.

Mrs. R. N. Aycock and little son, R. N. Jr., have returned from Raleigh, where they were guests of Mrs. Aycock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Myatt.

Mr. Robert T. Massengill, a son of Mr. J. A. Massengill, of Ingrams township, was here last Saturday from the Norfolk Training Station, to spend a few days visiting in Johnston County.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Broadhurst and Mrs. Lila Wickerman, of Goldsboro, left last Friday for Americus, Ga., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Roland Broadhurst, who died very suddenly.

Messrs. R. C. Gillette, W. W. Jordan, R. N. Aycock, E. S. Edmundson and Mr. Blackwell, Messdames R. C. Gillette, R. N. Aycock, W. W. Jordan and Miss McNeil went to Raleigh Thursday evening for supper and to attend the automobile show.

The Boy Scouts did fine work here Saturday in helping to seat the great crowds who were here to hear Governor Bickett. The Boy Scouts in many places are doing a great service for their government.

Mr. O. A. Barbour, of Benson, was here yesterday and reported the death of his uncle, Mr. Lynn Barbour, which occurred at his home in Elevation township, Sunday night. He was about sixty years old, and was a member of the Primitive Baptist church.

The Hampton Quartette, of Hampton Institute, Va., will give a concert in the auditorium of the Smithfield Training School near the depot Thursday night, March 21. This is the famous negro quartette which gave a good concert in the Opera House here last Spring.

Rev. R. B. John, President of Carolina College at Maxton, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. N. T. Holland. He occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church at the eleven o'clock hour, preaching a very able sermon. He also administered the ordinance of baptism to his little granddaughter, Margaret Holland.

The following Smithfield people attended the school meeting in Selma Friday afternoon: County Supt. L. T. Royall and Miss Augusta Anderson, Assistant Superintendent, Supt. H. B. Narron, and Principal G. T. Whitley, and Misses Pattie Spurgeon and Irene Myatt, of Turlington Graded School, and Mr. T. J. Lassiter of The Herald.

It was a great source of regret to many people that Mr. E. C. Duncan, of Raleigh, could not be here Saturday at the War Savings Rally. On account of the sickness of his brother, he was unable to be present. He sent a message to his good Republican friends of the County, through Governor Bickett, to stand by the Government and do their part in this great struggle.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking steps to get the Express Office moved down town. This has long been a need of the town and for various reasons it has been kept at the depot nearly a half a mile from the business center of the town. To have an express office down town would be a great convenience and it is believed that the Express Company will listen to the plea of the Chamber of Commerce and give the people of the town and community the service they are asking for.

The play "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" will be given Thursday night, March 21, at the Opera House. This entertainment is being given under the auspices of the Woman's Club, and is to be staged by Rogers Producing Company, using home talent. All those who witnessed the play, "The Wishing Ring," produced by this same last year, will miss a treat if they fail to see this, equally as attractive play. Curtain will rise at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats can be secured at Hood's Drug Store.

Farm Demonstrator Notes.

From time to time I will call you farmers of Johnston county to note the most urgent needs of our government.

1. We are asked to raise all we expect to eat.
2. Increase your pork production twelve per cent.
3. Can and store all the food you possibly can.
4. Urge your boys to become a corn or pig club member.
5. Keep in touch with your township board of agriculture.
6. Buy Thrift and War Savings Stamps.

7. W. H. Lassiter has been appointed receive and distribute the nitrate of soda for Johnston County.

8. We will get enough nitrate of soda in the first shipment for fertilizing the grains; the remainder will come later. We will notify you what to do and when to do it.

A. M. JOHNSON,
Farm Demonstrator.

TURLINGTON GRADED SCHOOL NOTES.

Mrs. H. L. Skinner was a visitor in chapel Monday morning, to make an announcement concerning the play which is to be given Thursday night for the benefit of the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Ralph Stevens, formerly of Raleigh, came over to the school Monday and attended the chapel exercises.

We are very sorry to note that Misses Margaret Austin, Annette Lawrence, Margaret Wellons, Gwendolyn Dickerson, Ethel Whitehurst, and Mr. Marvin Woodall have the mumps.

Mr. Eric Massey, from Selma, was a visitor in our school Tuesday.

Miss Roberta Cox spent the week end at her home in Red Springs.

Mr. D. W. Brooks was a visitor in our school this week.

Miss Grace Owen spent the week-end with relatives in Mintz.

Mr. Ira Whitley, a former student of T. G. S., who is now in training at Camp Sevier, visited the school Tuesday. He was home on a furlough and returned to Camp Sevier Friday.

The play was very much enjoyed last Friday night at the school house. Our school got 25 per cent. of the money taken in, which paid off the debt on the Grafonola, lacking 29¢ which was contributed.

Mr. Marrow gave the law class an opportunity of hearing a murder trial which was held at the court-house on Wednesday morning.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. D. W. Duttera made a talk at the Municipal Building. Mr. Jas. A. Wellons introduced the speaker who made a talk on Democracy and showed from a patriotic stand-point very interesting pictures. Many of the High School boys and girls were there and enjoyed the lecture.

Percy Barnes left Thursday to represent our school in the Declamation contest at Wake Forest.

The students of the High School are deeply concerned with the death of Mr. Walter Ives and would like to express their sympathy to the members of his family, two of whom are enrolled in the high school. —T.C. S.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 1 went on a hike to Holt's pond Friday afternoon. The scouts left the residence of their Scout Master, Mr. A. S. Anderson at 4:30 o'clock, arriving at the pond about 5:30. Supper was then cooked by the chief cooks: David Avera, Dwight Johnson and George Ragsdale, while the table was being arranged by the camp fixers. Supper which was greatly enjoyed, was served on a table made of logs.

Supper consisted of bread, crackers, sausage, ham, bacon, chipped beef, eggs, pickles, cocoa, milk and cakes.

After supper we sat around the blazing camp fire and sang songs, and told spooky tales.

About 8:45 o'clock we started for home, marching abreast and kept step all the way, stopping about 10 minutes on the way back to get some water. We arrived in Smithfield at 9:55.—S. R. C. & G. Y. R.

Professor Turlington who was buried here Wednesday, was born and reared in Elevation township. When he became a young man he went to the University of North Carolina, where he graduated. He then went back to Elevation where he later established the Pleasant Hill Academy. Then he moved to Smithfield and started another school with Mr. Davis. He and Mr. Davis ran this school for several years.

He then established the Turlington Institute, which was one of the foremost preparatory schools in North Carolina for many years. While Professor Turlington was President of Turlington Institute he was also County Superintendent of Public Schools. Professor Turlington was instrumental in getting the new Turlington Graded Building.

Smithfield he went to Mount Airy where he remained until a few years ago.

Prof. Turlington has probably done more for educational work in Johnston County than any other man. He had one of the best standards of scholarship in North Carolina and helped to train two men who later became Rhodes Scholars, one of them his own son, Edgar. Prof. Turlington was a man of sterling character and was greatly loved by all who knew him. Many former students honor him and consider themselves fortunate in having been taught by such a noble and true man.

Our school is Turlington Graded School, so called in honor of him. The student body attended the funeral services and gave a floral wreath as a tribute of our love for him.

Books Wanted.

The Library War Service of the American Library Association has erected Camp Libraries at thirty-four of the training camps, has furnished trained library service and is circulating books throughout the camps by means of branch libraries in Y. M. C. A. and K. of C. huts and Y. W. C. A. hostess houses. But more books are needed. For every man in service it is desired to have a book in service also.

A big nation-wide campaign for books is being conducted this week. A million more books are needed at once.

Herbert Putnam, president of the Library Association, has appealed to the Womens Committee of the Council of National Defense to assist in this campaign to collect them.

The people of Smithfield and Johnston County are asked during this week to give all the books they can for this service. Leave them at Mr. F. H. Brooks' law office and they will be sent to headquarters for distribution.
