WELCOME FAYETTE.

Welcome Fayette!
To the land that was won,
In part by your valor,
From slavery's chain—
And that well we remember
The deeds you have done,
You shall feel when you tread
On our green shores again.
Our last sun shall set
Before we forget
With Washington's name
Still to join La Fayette!
Yes, the hero who bled
That our clime might be free
As dear as the blood of
Our bosoms shall be.

When the storm clouds of war
Gathered black in the West,
At the first shout of "Freedom!"
That burst through the gloom,
He left the bright home
Youth and beauty had blest,
To league with our fathers—
To share in their doom!
And when roll'd afar
Was the tempest of war,
And the Eagle triumphant
Soar'd proud o'er each star,
He sought no reward—
No advantage to find,
But the sweet peace that virtue
Imprints on the mind.

Then welcome, Fayette!
And while gratitude burns
In hearts that have always
Been faithful as free—
While one recollection
Of peril returns—
In the memory of millions
Immortal shall be,
The hero and sage
Who, in youth and in age,
Has been Liberty's champion
Through life's every stage.
Not a voice in the wide realm
You loved will forget
To join the loud chorus of
Welcome Fayette!

CELEBRATION.

York Town, where it is proposed to commemorate that important event, in our revolutionary annals, which sealed the charter of American Liberty, is a small village, lying immediately on the banks of York River; its situation is high, dry, airy, and salubrious, it affords, to the lover of nature's beauties, water and inland scenery, not surpassed by any spot in Virginia, perhaps, not in the Union. It will live in history, as long as history is read, and will be dear to freemen, because it is consecrated to liberty, by the swords of a Fayette and a Washington. It is proposed, in this place, to meet the companion in arms of him, whose fame has reached through all the earth, and fills the hearts of all freemen. It will be a spectacle, which freemen only should contemplate. The inhabitants of that declining village, will, doubtless, to the utmost extent of their capabilities, prepare for the period. Suitable preparations, it is believed, will be made for the accommodation of GENERAL LA FAYETTE.... The white population of the village it is believed, cannot reach three hundred, none of that population wealthy, some few only independent. That event which it is designed to commemorate, is the chief cause of its present decrepitude. The siege of York, found the place in comfort, and prosperity, it left it in poverty and ruin. The mercantile and private wealth which had, prior to that period, been in active operation there, was forced to seek a safer asylum, and have never returned. This village suffered severely, also in 1814, by a conflagration, which reduced to ashes nearly a third of its buildings; such then being the situation of the village, it would be wrong to hold out the idea that the inhabitants can make provision for the company which may assemble; because should such expectations be entertained, they cannot be realized. That there will be accommodations from other sources is not questioned: The military it is expected will bring with them their field equipment; steam boats and vessels of various descriptions will afford accommodation to many; the town will do what it can, and it is believed no alloy will be found in the patriotic joy which will be excited by the occasion.—Yorktown, Aug. 16, 1824.

Gen. La Fayette and Col. Willet.—After the ceremony of embracing and congratulation were over, he sat down alongside of Col. Willet, who grew young again and fought all his battles over. "Do you remember," said he, "at the battle of Monmouth, I was volunteer aid to Gen. Scott! I saw you in the heat of battle.—You were but a boy, but you were a serious and sedate lad. Aye, aye; I remember well. And on the Mohawk, I sent you 50 Indians, and you wrote me, that they set up such a yell that they frightened the British horses, and they ran one way and the Indians another.

La Fayette.—Whilst General La Fayette was receiving visits at New York, an elderly Carman in his frock, applied for admittance, and was refused. He declared he would not go away without speaking to the General, and at length got into the room. Waiting a favorable moment, he went up to the General, and opening the breast of his frock, asked if he knew him. The General recognized him, called him by name, and extended his hand, saying, "Yes, you assisted me off the field of battle, when wounded."

Maxim.—Those only deserve a monument who do not need one; that is, who have raised themselves a monument in the minds and memories of men.

Fifty Dollars Reward

STOLEN out of my lot, on the night of the 30th July last, a large dark bay HORSE, upwards of 5 feet high, 6 or 7 years old, a large star in his forehead, trots hard, and is an excellent gig horse, his mane and tail of common length, his head is rather short, and his jaws broad, and under one of his eyes the bone sticks out more full than the other, which may be easily observed by standing before him, had on old shoes before.

There is very little doubt but the said horse was seen last Saturday morning a little after day light appeared, with a colored man on him, near Culppeper's Bridge, on Fishing Creek, making towards Roanoke, but whether he was turned loose after light, or which of the roads, Enfield or Halifax, he took, has not been ascertained by me.

I will give the above reward for the horse and thief, (if a free man,) with evidence to convict him, or Twenty Dollars for the horse alone; and reasonable expences paid in bringing one or both to me in Nash county.

One Hundred Dollars REWARD.

RUNAWAY, or was stolen from the Subscriber, on the night of the 8th instant, a bright mulatto woman (slave) and her child, a girl of about four years old. This woman ran away from the Subscriber, executor of John Hunt, deceased, in the summer of 1808, and passed as a free woman, by the name of PATSEY YOUNG, until about the first of June last, when she was apprehended as a runaway. On the sixth of the same month I obtained possession of her in the town of Halifax, since which time she and her child ELIZA have, in compliance with an order of the county court of Franklin, been sold, when the Subscriber became the purchaser. She spent the greater part of the time she was runaway (say about sixteen years) in the neighborhood of, and in the town of Halifax, one or two summers at Rockland, where I am informed she cooked for the hands employed to work on the canal; she also spent some of her time in Plymouth, her occupation while there not known. At the above named places she has many acquaintances and friends. She is a tall, spare woman, thin face and lips, long sharp nose, her fore teeth in a state of decay. She is an excellent seamstress, can make gentlemen's and ladies' dresses, is a good cook and weaver, and I am informed is a good cake baker and brewer, &c. by which occupations she principally gained her living. Some time during last summer she married a free man of color, named Achrael Johnson, who had been living in and about Plymouth, and followed boating on the Roanoke. Since his marriage he leased a farm of Mr. James Cotton, of Scotland Neck, (Halifax county) where he was living, together with this woman, when she was taken up as a runaway slave in June last. I have but little doubt that Johnson has contrived to seduce or steal her and child out of my possession, and will attempt to get them out of the state and pass as free persons. Should this be the case, I will give Sixty Five Dollars for his detection and conviction before the proper tribunal in any part of this state. I will give for the apprehension of the woman and child, on their delivery to me, or so secured in jail or otherwise that I get them, Thirty Five Dollars. Or, I will give Twenty Five Dollars for the woman alone, and Ten Dollars for the child alone. The proper name of the woman is Piety, but she will no doubt change it as she did before. I forewarn all owners of boats, captains and owners of vessels from taking on board or carrying away this woman and her child Eliza, under the penalty of the law.

Forty Dollars Reward,

FOR GEORGE and ISAAC. George ran away the first September last; about 5 feet 10 inches high; tolerable black; spare made; thin visage; some teeth out before; about 20 years of age. He has a wife at Speercofield's quarter, on Fishing creek, and is well known as a rascal to the citizens in the neighborhood he visits. I will give Twenty Dollars for his delivery to me, or I will give FORTY DOLLARS for his head, and no questions asked.

ISAAC went off the 12th instant, is about 5 feet 4 inches high; of a pumpkin black color; well made; active and lively; expert in wrestling, running and jumping; about 23 years of age; has a wife at Mrs. Applewhite's, and I am confident is in that neighborhood.
