

MISCELLANEOUS.

Jonathan's visit to Boston.

Did you ever go down to old Boston?
I'll be darn'd but you ought to be there—
For of all the up and down places
This out does the whole, I declare.

The market's the first thing that I see,
Why tis longer than granddaddy's barn;
As neat—by the powers of Moll Kelly—
Not a bit of dirt round the consarn.

I found myself next in State-street,
There's houses as big as the hills,
And money, by jingoes, what bags on't,
And long coaters going to kill.

The Post Office next was the curer,
I sniggers, what up and down stone,
There's lawyers and brokers and jawers,
And shavers in plenty, by gum.

I peeps my nose up round the corner,
My eyes were as big as you please,
My head was completely capsizzled
At the sight of the new fashioned sleeves.

All strange apprehensions being summon'd,
By zounds! it will thunder now soon,
See the clouds of big sleeves arising,
I'll be darn'd if it aint dark at noon.

I swaggers, this place is a buster,
In the middle of streets you must go,
For if they can't have the whole side-walk,
They look kind of sour, by Joe.

And now hurra for the country,
By George, 'twont do to stop here,
If they'll just disaffluviate the fashions,
I'll not fail to see them next year. Jonathan.

To a little short Lady.

When any thing abounds, we find
That nobody will have it:
But when there's little of the kind,
Dont all the people crave it?

If wives are evils, as tis known
And wofully confess'd,
The man who's wise will surely own
A little one is best.

The god of love's a little wight,
And beautiful as thought;
Thou too art little, fair as light;
And every thing—in short.

O, happy girl, I think thee so,
For mark the poet's song—
"Man wants but little here below,
Nor wants that little long."

The following direction was on a letter received at the Boston Post Office:—

"Now to Virginia wend your way,
With special care--make no delay,
To French Creek P. O. there you stay—
In Lewis county.

And Uncle Sam shall have his pay,
(The postage bounty.)

So speed your flight, swift as the wind;
Lorenzo Bunte there you'll find,
At least, for one, I am inclin'd
To think you will—

If not, he's out some hills behind,
At Union Mill."

Distressing Case.—A female, who gave her name Mary Cloz, was recently brought up before the Mayor of Philadelphia by a watchman, who stated that he had arrested her the previous night near the theatre, for her disorderly conduct and blasphemous language. She had just come out of the theatre, in company with a young man, with whom she was arm-in-arm, and, upon some unknown provocation, a quarrel ensued between them, she being in liquor, which ended in her capture by the watch. When arrested, she was splendidly attired, her dress of the most costly and fashionable order, literally hung with golden chains, and sparkling with jewels, and the fingers of either hand thickly studded with rings. After arriving at the watch house, a disguise was brought her by the young man with whom she first appeared, and a friend or two. The change consisted of a blue calash, and fine brown cloth cloak. After the hearing before his honor, she was fined, and security required for her future good behavior, at which her paramour gave his name. Upon enquiry, it was ascertained that she arrived in that city a few weeks since, from the east, in company with an affectionate husband, the connexions of both being of the first respectability. He being obliged to travel to the south, upon business, chose rather to enjoy the company of his beautiful and seeming amiable and virtuous wife, on his journey, than leave her behind. Upon arriving in Philadelphia, she became fascinated with its appearance, and, though the young and favored wife of an affectionate and indulgent husband, expressed a desire to remain in the city, until his return from Baltimore, the place of his destination. Unused to thwart her wishes, he acquiesced, and securing a home for her at the place they lodged, a hotel of the first respectability, and, trusting to her fidelity, took passage for Baltimore, and left her. Since when her fair fame has changed to one of foul and black dishonor, and she is now on the high road to infamy and ruin. She left Philadelphia for New York, to avoid a meeting with her injured partner.

The Hartford (Md.) Republican mentions a recent suit, brought by Eliza Ward against Lee Magness, for a breach of marriage promise, in which the plaintiff recovered the amount of $1425, for his disappointment.

Emigrants.—The New York Gazette says: Up to the 1st of August a fraction over 33,000 emigrants arrived at this port from Europe this season—by this time, the number is increased to above 40,000!! Rather more than this number had reached, this season, Quebec and Montreal, many of whom find their way into the U. States. If we add to the above the emigrants that have arrived at Baltimore and Philadelphia, and those which will yet arrive before the winter season, it will be found that not much less than 200,000 persons have been added to our population the present season.

From the Hartford (Ct.) Times.

We have received the first number of "the Evening and the Morning Star," published at Independence, Missouri. It is edited by W. W. Phelps, and devoted to the cause of Mormonism. The Star is published within 12 miles from the western line of Missouri, 230 west of the city of St. Louis, and about 1400 miles from Hartford. In that far region of the west, near the base of the Rocky Mountains, this community of religionists have located themselves, in the deluded, but we doubt not honest belief of the truth of the tenets inculcated in the Book of Mormon. Of that book and its doctrines we are not sufficiently informed to give the peculiarities. The following extract from the Star may assist to enlighten those wiser than ourselves. It is all darkness to us.

"The Book of Mormon.—There are not a few honest enquiring persons, who wish to learn the truth of the Book of Mormon. To put them in possession of such testimony as may lead to truth is our duty, and, after stating that this book contains a record of that branch of the tribe of Joseph which was separated from his brethren, according to the 49th chapter of Genesis, we say read the 37th chapter of Ezekiel, and if the Stick of Ephraim therein mentioned does not mean the Book of Mormon, what does it mean? Isaiah has information which, if rightly understood, ought to wake the world; the Lord says he will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, and who dare dispute the Lord?

Independent of Bible proof on the subject before us, we have the remains of towns, cities, forts, &c. which silently declare to the beholder: We were built by a civilized people.

As man cannot trust in man, we request all that wish the truth on this great subject, to enquire of the Lord who will always answer the pure in heart.

From the Crawford (Pa.) Messenger.

Married, on Tuesday last, by T. Atkinson, Esq. Mr. Jesse Glancy, of Sadsbury, to Mrs. Dolly Trace, of Vern.

[The parties in this case, a hale hearty widower, and a still sprightly, good looking widow, politely called at our residence, for the benefit of our official services. The hymenial knot, for better for worse, being tied in our best way, we took the freedom to ask—"Pray, madam, how many children had you by your first husband?" "Sixteen, Sir, thirteen of whom are still living." "Very good!" "Well, Mr. G. how many had you by your first wife?" "Fifteen, Sir—fourteen living." Admirable! [Sparta would have been proud of this couple.]

We opened a paper on Saturday, (says the U. S. Gazette) which contained the following definitions:—

A Wise Man—One who looks after money; and—

A Good Man—one who has it.

Catch the Swindler!

ON Wednesday, the 22d inst. I hired my horse and single gig to a man by the name of JOSEPH FANNING, of Tyrrel county, But late of Edenton, a shoemaker by trade, to go to Plymouth. He stated that he would be back early on Thursday morning, but has not yet returned. He has not been at Plymouth; I have heard of his having been on the road to Washington and afterwards on that to Tarborough. He is a clumsy built man, light hair, blue eyes, and is supposed to be about 20 or 21 years of age, with little or no beard. Had on when he went away, a white chip hat, brown Holland jacket, and blue pantaloons and vest. The horse is a small bay, stout built; has a white star on the forehead, and his hind fetlocks are scarred by wearing fetters. The gig is painted black, has limber shafts and but one step; the body is set upon iron goose neck springs; the spatterboard is covered with coarse canvas and has country handles.

I will give a reward of Ten Dollars to any person who will give me such information that I may get the horse and gig back again. Address
