

Cholera at between 500 and 600. Estimating the population 4,400, and 550 deaths, it would be one out of every eight of the whole population.

In Montreal, the total number of deaths from the 13th June to the 18th Sept. was 3,151, or one out of every nine of the population of the city. Quebec is said to have suffered still more than Montreal.

Yellow Fever at New Orleans.—Extract of a letter, dated New Orleans, Sept. 12, to a gentleman in Cincinnati:—"I hasten to inform you, and those of your citizens who intend visiting our city soon, that we are at last visited with the Yellow Fever—pronounced by our physicians to be genuine. Seven cases have occurred, four of which have proved fatal. The very warm weather for the last ten days, it is said, has produced it, which weather still continues. Showers daily, with a scorching hot sun. Should this kind of weather continue, the opinion of the physicians is, it will become epidemic.

Bank Robbery.—The Bank at Wheeling, Va. was robbed on the night of the 2d inst. of $60,000 to $70,000 in bank notes—$25,000 in notes of the United States Bank, the remainder principally in notes of Banks in the neighborhood of Wheeling. The Cashier has offered a reward of $5,000 for the recovery of the money.—Norfolk Her.

The Presidential Election.—We have been surprised to hear it stated by those who certainly ought to know better, that in the event of there being three tickets in this State, one for Jackson and Van Buren, one for Jackson and Barbour, and one for Clay and Sergeant, if the vote of the two first united should be greater than that of the third, Jackson would receive the electoral vote. This is certainly a mistake. If the three tickets are formed, the people will vote for the fifteen persons proposed as Electors, and the ticket having the highest number will prevail. This we had supposed too plain to be stated, yet it has been doubted by men of standing. The people do not vote either for Jackson or Clay, but for fifteen electors pledged to vote for particular candidates as President, and who shall receive the vote of the State, must depend on which of the fifteen persons in nomination as Electors have the greatest number of votes.—Raleigh Con.

A letter published in the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle, dated Macon, Oct. 3d, states that Mr. Thomas Ellis, proprietor of the Bank of Macon, was shot in the street on the 2d inst. by a person of the name of Byrom, and died in 5 hours after. A quarrel ensued in consequence of Mr. Ellis's obstinacy in refusing to show the books of the Bank. Both had pistols, and fired about the same time—Ellis without effect.

A Scoundrel detected.—The old adage of "murder will out," has again for the thousandth time been verified, and a development of facts taken place, which not only confirms the imbibed impression, that the recent destructive fire in this city, was the work of an incendiary, but that the man who committed the deed is in the hands of justice. Ben. F. Seaburn, the man alluded to, was arrested on Saturday evening last, on a warrant issued by Weston Gales, Esq. for his apprehension, upon suspicion of his being the incendiary, from circumstances communicated to the police; and a portion of the money lost by Mr. Smith recovered, some of the notes having been identified by that gentleman. Seaburn, it appears, has been in the employ of Mr. Smith, as an overseer, at a brick yard, about two miles from town—had come into town on the evening of the fire, and slept in the store; the clerk being absent. This circumstance in connection with that of his having expended since the fire, a great deal of money foolishly, while it was known that he had none before that event, led to his arrest. The prisoner after undergoing an examination on Monday morning, before Jos. Gales, Intendant, and Messrs. Cobb & Poole, Magistrates, was fully committed, on a charge of Arson and Robbery, for his trial at the next

Superior Court. The examination was conducted by Gen. Saunders, and excited a great deal of interest; the Court House being crowded. As it is a case in which the life of the prisoner is involved, we deem it inexpedient to state the particulars of the examination. The money was found, hid under a brick, at the brick yard. The prisoner himself gave directions where to find it; he states that it was given him on the night of the fire by a slave belonging to Mr. Smith, who stated to Seaburn that he had found it in the street. The negro denies giving him the money.—Raleigh Con.

Origin, character and extent of the Slave Trade.—Henry, King of Portugal, under authority from three Roman Pontiffs, as early as the year 1454, took possession of several islands and havens on the coast of Africa, and took thence many slaves—some by force, and some by barter. The Portuguese first imported slaves into Hispaniola, in 1503; and into their Brazilian colonies, in 1517. For more than three centuries, some of the Christian powers of Europe have been engaged in this traffic; and, for more than a century and a half, it was prosecuted by all Christendom, with extraordinary zeal and energy. The French Guinea Company contracted in 1702, to supply the Spanish West Indies with 38,000 negroes, in ten years. In 1713, was a treaty between England and Spain for the importation of 144,000 negroes in thirty years. Some have estimated the whole number of slaves, exported from Africa, since the origin of this trade, at nearly 20,000,000.

The cruelties attending this trade are probably greater now than at any former period. The slave ships are now crowded to excess, and the mortality is dreadful. In 1816, the African Institution ascertained that one vessel of 130 tons took 530 slaves, of which 120 died on the passage to Tartola. Another vessel, of 270 tons, received 642 slaves, and lost 140. Another vessel lost 200 out of 600. Another 96 out of 500. Another of 120 tons, took on board 600 slaves, and tho' when captured, she had sailed but 80 leagues, she had lost 30, and many were in a dying state.

Dr. Philip, a distinguished Missionary at the Cape of Good Hope, estimates the number annually exported at 100,000. In 1823, Mr. Ashmun wrote from the colony, that at least 2000 slaves were annually exported from Capes Mount and Montserado. In 1824, the African Institution reports 120,000 as the number exported from the coast, and presents a detailed list of the names of 213 vessels believed to be engaged in the trade during that year. In 1827, 122 vessels sailed from Cuba to Africa for slaves. Within the last 11 years, 322,525 slaves have been imported into the single port of Rio Janeiro; that is an average of 29,320 annually.
