And that said committee have the collection and disbursement of said subscriptions; and also shall act as the representatives of the citizens now met in relation to the operations of said boat and machine.

A subscription was therefore handed round, and a liberal amount subscribed by the persons present, for the above purpose.

Resolved, That the foregoing proceedings be handed to the Editor of the Union for publication, and the meeting adjourn.

A word in time.—We perceive that in Rhode Island, Mr. Wirt has been nominated as a candidate for the Presidency, after the expiration of Gen. Jackson's term; and in several papers, we have seen surmises and conjectures, as to who will be candidates at the next election. One would suppose that there had been for the last three or four years, sufficient of excitement, sufficient of heart burning and political hostility, springing from this prolific source. The people now wish for repose, and efforts should be made by all who would consult the true interests of the country, to keep the political elements tranquil as long as possible, instead of again lashing them into fury, by forming new parties on the subject of the next Presidency.—Raleigh Reg.

Columbia, S. C. Nov. 20.—The Convention of the people of South Carolina met yesterday, clothed with the sovereign power of the State. S. D. Miller was called to the Chair, pro tem. After which the members exhibited their credentials, and enrolled their names.—James Hamilton, Jr. was then chosen President of the Convention.—Telescope.

—We understand that the Convention of Georgia adjourned on Friday, (16th inst.)—that the Submission party, 52 in number, seceded in a body—that the remaining 71 passed some strong resolutions in favor of Nullification, and recommend a consultation with the other States in the spring. We hear favorable accounts of the temper and feeling of the majority; and we trust that in a few days our own State will have set them an example of firmness and promptness, which they will not be slow to emulate.—ib.

From the Norfolk Herald.

We have seen it rumored in some papers, and we believe, on good grounds, that a strong fleet of revenue cutters has been ordered to Charleston. The idea is readily caught at, that this measure, in connection with the transportation of troops to the forts in the harbor of Charleston, is intended as a measure of intimidation to operate on the nullifiers; but we view it in a different light. The attitude of South Carolina at this time, certainly conveys to the President a suggestion of the propriety of strengthening the force for the protection of the forts, and this he may fairly put in practice without being accused of assuming a belligerent attitude towards South Carolina. That revenue cutters instead of ships of war have been ordered to Charleston, is no indication of hostility, and only shews that the President intends to collect the revenue "elsewhere," if the nullies determine that it shall not be collected in the ports of South Carolina; while he has no idea of reducing the refractory to submission by the strong arm of the Government. If a ship is bound into Charleston with a cargo of dutiable articles, the question is, will the duties be paid when she enters the port, according to the act of Congress? The nullifiers will answer no; "not a doit." "Then you cannot pass," will be the ready response of the revenue officers;—"You must go to a port in some other State where the duties can be secured to the Government—take your choice." If nullification is a peaceful remedy, that which is intended to counteract it should be equally so; and this measure of employing revenue cutters to enforce the collection of the customs, is about as peaceful a remedy as any that we can imagine.

The last survivor of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence—he who for many years has been the precious relic of the band of July 4th, 1776—is no more! The death of CHARLES CARROLL, of Carrollton, is announced to us.

As a mark of the respect due to the occasion, the Offices of the United States Government in this city, will be closed to-morrow, the 16th inst.

ANDREW JACKSON.

Washington, Nov. 15th, 1832.

To the President of the U. States.

The undersigned having been appointed by the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore, a committee to wait upon the President and Heads of Departments, and invite them to join with their fellow citizens in showing the last testimonial of respect to the remains of the late Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, have the honor to state, that they are at present at Gadsby's Hotel, and desire to know at what time it will be agreeable to the President to receive the invitation of which they are the bearers.

Washington, Nov. 15th, 1832.

Gentlemen: I am filled with emotions of the most heartfelt sorrow at the death of our friend, the sage and patriot, Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, which you have announced to me in your note of this date. My sympathy with my country, and with the relatives and neighbors of the deceased on this melancholy occasion, is rendered more poignant because it will be deprived of the gratifying relief which a participation in the funeral honors that are to be paid by the authorities of Baltimore, is calculated to afford.

Please assure the friends of the deceased that nothing but the most imperious public duty, demanding all my time at this moment, could prevent my taking a part in the proceedings which you inform me have been adopted by the authorities of Baltimore in honor of his burial. No one estimated higher than I did, his claims, whilst living, upon the gratitude and love of his country: none will cherish more sacredly his memory now that he is taken from us by the great disposer of the affairs of this world.

I have the honor to be, with great respect, your obedient servant,

ANDREW JACKSON.

Monument over "Mary, the mother of Washington."—We learn, from the New York Daily Advertiser, that the Monument designed to be erected over the remains of Mrs. Mary Washington, mother of him who was "first in peace, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen," was shipped on the 31st ult. from that port for Fredericksburg. Gen. Jackson, we believe, has consented to assist in laying the corner stone.

Sickness in New Orleans.—This ill-fated city has the yellow fever, cholera, and cold plague raging in it. A letter dated 2d inst. (evening,) states, on that day there were buried in that city 177 persons, and the sickness increasing. Another letter of a later date states that 200 had been buried in a day. A letter of the 6th, says: "In the two burying grounds there are now lying unburied and exposed to the weather upwards of 200 bodies, that have been there for several days, it being difficult to procure persons to deposit them in the earth."
New York paper.

Racing—A Challenge to the World for $10,000!—The Secretary of the Tree Hill Jockey Club is authorized and requested to make known, that the produce of Medley, 3 years old next spring, will run over the Tree Hill Course, the day preceding the next fall regular meeting, against the produce of any other horse, of the same age, two, three, or four mile heats, for the sum of ten thousand dollars, to close the 1st of January next.

FOREIGN.

Latest from Europe.—By the ships President and Virginia, London dates to the 15th ult. have been received at New York. The Cotton market still continued in a favorable state.

It is admitted on all hands by the London newspapers that an English and French fleet are about to proceed to the Dutch coast, for the purpose of compelling the King of Holland to accede to the terms of separation between his kingdom and Belgium, laid down by the London Conference.

The report of the death of the King of Spain is unfounded—he had been very sick, but was getting better.

Another attack had been made upon Oporto by the troops of Don Miguel. They were repulsed with the loss of more than 1500 killed and wounded, about 200 prisoners, and a great number of deserters.

The formation of the new French Cabinet is at last officially announced. A large creation of peers had taken place.

The papers and shipping lists give melancholy details of the loss of property and lives, by the severe gales of the 7th and 8th of October.
