THE DEAD OF 1832.

Oh time and death! with certain pace, Though still unequal, hurrying on, O'erturning, in your awful race,
The cot, the palace, and the throne!
Not always in the storm of war, Nor by the pestilence that sweeps From the plague smitten realms afar Beyond the old and solemn deeps.
In crowds the good and mighty go,
And to those vast, dim chambers hie, Where mingled with the vile and low, Dead Cæsars and dead Shakespeares lie!
Dead Ministers of God! sometimes Ye smite at once, to do His will,
In all earth's ocean-severed climes, Those—whose renown you cannot kill!
When all the brightest stars that burn At once are banished from their spheres; Men sadly ask, when shall return Such lustre to the coming years?
For where is he (a)—who lived so long,— Who raised the modern Titan's ghost And shewed his fate, in powerful song, Whose soul for learning's sake was lost!
Where he—who backwards to the birth Of time itself, adventurous trod, And in the mingled mass of earth Found out the handiwork of God? (b) Where he—who in the mortal Head (c) Ordained to gaze on heaven, could trace The soul's best features, that shall tread The stars, when earth is nothingless?
Where—he who struck old Alio's lyre, (d) Till round the world it's echoes roll, And swept, with all a prophet's fire,
The passion of the soul?
Where he—who read the mystic lore, (e) Buried where buried Pharaohs sleep, And dared presumptuous to explore Secrets four thousand years could keep?
Where he—who with a poet's eye (f)
Of truth, on lowly nature gazed, And made even sordid poverty Classic, when in his numbers glazed?
Where—that old sage, so hale and staid, (g)
The 'greatest good,' who sought to find;
Who in his garden mused, and made All forms of rule, for all mankind?
And thou—whom millions far removed (h) Revered—the hierarch meek and wise; Thy ashes sleep, adored, beloved, Near where thy Wesley's coffin lies.
He too, the Heir of Glory—where Hath great Napoleon's scion fled?
Ah! glory goes not to an heir!
Take him, ye noble vulgar dead!
But hark! a nation sighs! for he (i) Last of the brave who periled all To make an infant empire free, Obeys the inevitable call!
They go—and with them is a crowd, For human rights who thought and did We rear to them no temples proud, Each hath his mental pyramid.
All earth is now their sepulchre, The mind, their monument sublime—Young in eternal fame they are—Such are your triumphs, Death and Time!

The Hillsborough Recorder says:— A shocking murder was committed in this neighborhood on Saturday morning last. The victim was Mrs. Susan Turner, an aged woman, who for many years had been deranged, and so much so at times as to make confinement necessary.
The perpetrator was her son, whose mind also has for some years been much impaired. The parties lived together, no other person residing with them. She was found dead in the morning, shockingly bruised and mangled. The son when questioned in the morning, stated, that his mother appeared to him in the character of a witch, and as he believed the bible commanded him to kill all such, he commenced beating her with a pair of tongs, and continued to do so until he saw the devil come out of her. We understand that in general he treated his mother with great kindness, and there is no doubt he committed the dreadful act under the influence of a diseased imagination. He is in jail awaiting his trial.

Bible Society of N. C.—On Sunday last, the anniversary sermon in behalf of this benevolent institution, was preached in the Presbyterian church in this city, by the Rev. Wm. Hooper, of Chapel Hill, from Isaiah, xi. 9. The discourse was appropriate, well written, and very interesting. The congregation was large and respectable, and the collection liberal. On Monday evening, the Bible Society held its annual meeting in the session house of the Presbyterian church, at which the Rev. Dr. Joseph Caldwell presided. The Reports of the Treasurer and Secretary were laid before the meeting; some interesting reports from distributing agents read; the Officers of the Society and the preacher for the ensuing year appointed. Most of the old officers were again chosen; and the Rev. Wm.

Hammit, was appointed to deliver the next annual discourse; or in case of his failure, the Rev. Bennet T. Blake.

Temperance Society.—The annual meeting of the State Temperance Society was held in this city, during the last week. Notice had been previously given, that an address would be delivered on the occasion, by Dr. Wm. A. Shaw. We were prepared to hear something worthy of the cause and the acknowledged abilities of the speaker, and we were not disappointed. His address was full of convincing facts, felicitous quotations, and beautiful imagery, and we listened to it with unmingled satisfaction. The proceedings of the meeting, we learn, will be published hereafter. Gen. Bridger J.
Montgomery presided, and a number of resolutions were adopted.—ib.

Important to Duellists.—A case is reported in the Philadelphia U. S. Gazette of the 3th ult. wherein James Stockton is plaintiff vs. James Dougherty, defendant, for sending a challenge, the result of which is that the latter was fined $2000, and bound over to keep the peace in the same sum with sureties. This is certainly a severe sentence, and will convey a salutary lesson to gentlemen who are for sending a cartel of defiance on every trifling occasion of jealousy or anger.

Lottery Fraud.—The Legislature of Georgia have convicted Shadrach Boggan, of Gwinett county, of high crimes, misdemeanor and forgery, and sentenced him to deprivation of office and disfranchisement for 20 years. He was one of the Commissioners of the Land Lottery, and was detected in fraud, that is almost without a parallel—that of having some of the most valuable prize numbers concealed in the sleeve of his coat. One of the tracts drawn by him is Ridge's residence, said to be valued at $40,000.

At the November term of the Court of Common Pleas for Muskingum county, Ohio, Philip Stock and John Raney were tried and convicted of voting in two different townships, and each sentenced to $50 fine and one month's imprisonment.

A remarkable instance of the effects of religious enthusiasm is now creating a considerable excitement in the northern part of the city. A young lady in a high state of enthusiasm suddenly fell into a swoon, and remained in that condition for several days. All efforts to rouse her were found ineffectual. Her eyes were fixed, her limbs immovable, and her pulse feeble. Her friends, believing her dying, procured medical assistance, and she was at length with great difficulty, called back to a consciousness of life. She awoke as from a dream—and told marvellous stories of her discoveries in the course of her migrations.
The living and the dead were seen by her in their appropriate state of enjoyment or suffering; and all that was mysterious to her earthly senses was made plain.
These things, of course, have excited much surprize among the credulous.
We understand her vision has been recorded, and will shortly be published.

A fine patch of wheat was raised the past season in France, from seed upwards of 2000 years old, taken from an Egyptian mummy. It is similar to the wheat of the present day.
