

Senate, stipulating for the removal of the whole "Chickasaw nation" west of the Mississippi. The Cherokees are now the only Indians remaining within any of the States.

It is stated in the Eastern papers, that after the rejection of Gwinn by the Senate, Gen. Jackson nominated a person of the name of Coleman, another Tennessean, for the office in Mississippi to which he had nominated Gwinn. The Senate adhering to their rule not to sanction the appointment of citizens from another State, rejected this nomination also. The Intelligencer states that after the nomination of Gwinn had been rejected for the third time, he was appointed by the President to a new office just created in the same State, which appointment was approved by the Senate; the original objection of that body that Mr. Gwinn was not a citizen of Mississippi, having been removed by his becoming a resident of the State.—Ken. Rep.

The Hon. William Baylies, a Jacksonian, is elected to Congress, in district No. 10, Massachusetts. This is the first Jackson man ever elected to Congress by the "Bay State." They might elect one in Boston, if they were united.—Pennsylvanian.

Disaster.—The Washington Union says: The schooner William A. Blount, Williams master, cleared from this port on the 23d ult. with a cargo of naval stores, cotton and staves, bound for New York. After being a few hours out from the bar, she was found to be in a sinking condition. The water, we learn, when first discovered, was upon the cabin floor, so that it was impossible to save the vessel. The captain and crew were taken off by the schooner Helen, Gray, who was in company at the time, and the B. sank soon after. The vessel and cargo, we are informed, were insured in New York.

At Burke Superior Court, sentence of death was passed by Judge Seawell, on Frances Silvers, convicted at a preceding term of murdering her husband, and afterwards burning his remains. She had appealed to the Supreme Court, which confirmed the judgment that had been pronounced by the Superior Court.—Raleigh Reg.

The Merchant's and Planter's Bank at Augusta, (Geo.) has stopped payment.—Fay. Obs.

The Cholera.—It is stated that a vessel has arrived at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, from Havana, with the Cholera on board, and that several persons have died on board.

Cholera.—The Franklin (Missouri) Republican says: This disease has at length assumed a rather more serious aspect among us. At first few cases proved fatal except those which occurred among the colored population—persons of temperate habits were seldom attacked; and then, when medical aid was resorted to in time, relief was almost sure to follow. But of late, citizens particularly noted for their temperance have fallen victims to this king of maladies. We have heard of 12 or 15 cases since the publication of our last number.

Pennsylvania.—From the report of the committee on finance in the Legislature of this State, it appears that the State debt, including loans and subscriptions, amounts to $20,675,627 64: And that the public property of the State, consisting of Bank, Turnpike, Canal and Bridge stocks, debts due for lands, and valuing their canals at $25,000,000 amount to $31,989,600.

Applications were made to the Legislature for 20 or 25 new Banks. Three or four of which were granted, but Gov. Wolf vetoed all but the one chartered at Pittsburg.

The North West Expedition.—Capt. Back and his associates in the enterprize to discover and relieve Capt. Ross and his fellow adventurers, arrived at New York on Thursday, in the Hibernia from Liverpool. The undertaking, says the Commercial, though we fear a hopeless one, is deserving of great praise, as well for the benevolence of its primary, as for the importance of its ulterior object.

Explosion.—The powder mill of Hazard, Loomis & Co. of Canton, Conn. was blown up on the 22d ult. and killed three persons.

Law on Betting.—Richard F. Carman lately brought suit against John M. Bloodgood, for the recovery of $1500 placed in the hands of the defendant, only as a stake-holder, in a bet on a match to be trotted on Long Island, N. Y. in October last. The match took place, Carman fairly lost the money, and Bloodgood honestly paid it over to the person who won it. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $1500 damages and 6 cents cost.
