The following is the reply of Gen. Jackson to a letter addressed to him by the Hon. Felix Grundy, U. S. Senator from Tennessee:

Washington, May 16, 1833.

My dear Sir,—Your letter of the 6th May, with its enclosure, has been received. I am in doubts whether I should reply to your interrogations, as any answer I can give may not protect me from the charge of interfering in the choice of Senator soon to be made by the Legislature of Tennessee—But the fear of imputation ought not to prevent answer so far as my knowledge of the relation in which you stand to the question proposed may be necessary to do you justice; under this obligation therefore, I feel at liberty to repeat now, what I have often said before in conversation, that your conduct during the late session of Congress, in opposition to the absurd and wicked doctrines of Nullification and Secession, was highly useful and energetic; and thro' out us far as I could judge from your votes and conversation, no one could have manifested a greater zeal to give effect to the measures of the administration.

In stating thus generally my opinion of your conduct in the Senate on the subjects alluded to, I trust no one will infer that I have any other object in view, but that of satisfying you that I am incapable of doing you injustice; with the choice which the Legislature are called upon to make, I can have nothing to do.

Believe me very sincerely,
Your obt' serv't
ANDREW JACKSON.
Hon. FELIX GRUNDY.

We learn that the Supreme Court of No. Carolina has taken a recess until the third Monday in August, in consequence of the indisposition of Chief Justice Henderson.—All the arguments had been concluded, and the Judges were making out their opinions at the time of adjournment.—Fay. Obs.

Execution.—Mrs. Frances Silvers was executed at Morganton on the 12th inst. for the murder of her husband. She made a confession of all the circumstances leading to the commission of the awful deed, from which it appears that the whole period of her matrimonial life, (a little more than 2 years,) was spent in a succession of quarrels and fights, always, as she says, commenced by her worthless partner. She says he was loading his gun with the avowed purpose of shooting her, when she caught up the axe and gave him the fatal blow. A few moments afterwards she would have given, she says, a thousand worlds to have called back the blow.—ib.

It is stated that in consequence of a violent attack made upon General Blair of South Carolina in the Camden Republican, he has published a reply, in which he attributes the offensive article to Mr. Miller, one of the present United States Senators from that State. The altercation has drawn a challenge from Mr. Miller, which has been accepted.—A relation of Mr. Miller has avowed himself as the author of the attack, but General Blair declines noticing him.—*Pct. Rail Road.—By the last Raleigh Star, we perceive that $25,000, have been subscribed by the citizens of Wayne county, towards the projected Rail Road from Raleigh to Waynesboro'. This evidence of public spirit is highly creditable to the citizens of that county.
Fay. Jour.

The Farmers' Bank of Virginia, has again rejected the proposition to subscribe to the stock of the James River and Kanawha improvement.

Can it be possible.—The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, speaking of Clough the murderer, says—

"It is currently reported that a petition with numerous signatures, has been forwarded to the Governor of New Jersey, praying for a respite of the sentence. The signature of Mrs. Hamilton's mother is said to be the first on the list, and will doubtless have more effect than all the other names put together."

Clough, it will be seen by an extract in another part of our paper, actually succeeded in making his escape from prison, but was taken the next day. The paper from which we make the above extract, adds—

"A revolution appears to have taken place in public sentiment as regards Clough. Those who were loudest in denouncing him before and during the trial, now appear to regret that he did not escape; and some of the newspapers give a sideways acknowledgement of the same kind. In N. Jersey, in the vicinity of his tragic performance, a similar melting of the heart also prevails. The broken down prisoner, with a dreadful death in prospect, is seldom regarded with the same eyes as when the story of his crime is fresh in the public ear. His position is reversed, and he stands a victim in the general gaze, instead of being as at first, the immortal of innocence. The public are force enough in hunting up and running down the guilty; but when the quarry is within the hands of the avenger, and the heat and excitement of the chase are over, they almost invariably wheel about."
