

disease of the heart; and she is supposed to have expired instantaneously.

Extensive Forgery.—Thomas Demine, jr., of Kilby street, Boston, has fled from that city, it having been ascertained that the name of his father has been forged by him on paper to the amount of $30,000. He left the city on pretext of urgent business at the South.

Marriage Extraordinary.—In Woodstock, N. B., Mr. J. Munson to Mr. Henry Allen. It appears, that Munson and S. I. Page, of Hallowell, originally came from Connecticut and set up business in Hallowell on a very extensive scale; shortly after, Mr. Page went to Connecticut and brought back Henry Allen as a clerk in his store. Every body was well pleased with Henry Allen, and he was offered the highest wages when he left Mr. P.'s employ, but he would listen to no offers but those of Mr. Munson, who was about establishing himself in Houlton. Here again Henry Allen displayed the same activity; exciting the admiration of the men by his judgment in business and knowledge of accounts, for he appeared to be quite young; but the astonishment of the ladies at his accomplishments was without bounds, for no woman in the country could sew, iron, or manage household affairs equal to Henry Allen, as he frequently exercised his skill in these matters at his boarding house. But the denouement came at last—he went over to Woodstock with his employer, put on woman's clothes, and was married to him as a Miss —. It seems she had been engaged to Munson in Connecticut, but her father refusing to sanction the match, she ran away, and ended the courtship in the above manner.

A Doctor Divine is playing the Fire King with great success at the East. He eats live coals with a little melted lead by way of gravy, drinks boiling sealing wax flavored with hot brandy, and performs all the functions of a born Salamander. He eschews the doctrines of the temperance society, for there is no ardent liquor that is too hot for his fire-proof palate. There is nothing that burns that is foreign to his taste. He would grow fat in the crater of Vesuvius upon his daily ration of boiling lava. It is a sufficient proof of his powers to say, that he is willing to swallow more pernicious draughts and mixtures than he ever administered to his patients.

FOREIGN.

We have no later intelligence from Europe—we have, however, gleaned the following items from our late papers.

Don Pedro, by last accounts from Portugal, had been successful in an action with the Miguelites, having captured 700 men during the skirmish.

It is quite certain that the altered tone of Russia, produced, as it is said, by the representations of Austria, (this is very easily understood,) have induced the English and French governments to withdraw their fleets from the east of the Mediterranean. No preparations are wanting, however, to keep them in a state of efficiency and readiness for action. The dispute is postponed, not settled.

On Monday, Feb. 3d, Marshal Soul came down to the French Chamber of Deputies, and, retracting all he had promised in the way of military reductions, increased his demand to the original amount of 371,000 men, and 78,230 horses. This, of course, excited considerable sensation in the Chamber, which was by no means diminished when the minister of marine shortly afterwards asked for an extraordinary grant of 2,800,000 francs for increasing the naval force in the Mediterranean. Demands like these are strangely at variance with the pacific tenor of the French King's speech on opening the Chambers.

A French regiment of chasseurs having been ambuscaded outside the fortress at Oran, by about 1000 Arab horsemen, on the 6th January, were completely routed and nearly cut to pieces. Twenty-three of the French cavalry, who had been made prisoners, were found afterwards on the ground, stripped and perfectly naked, their heads decapitated, and their hands and feet amputated.

King William, of Holland, is said to be a bankrupt, and that his goods and chattels have been sold to meet the demands of his creditors—and that they would not respect his protest claiming that his wines should be exempt from sequestration. Few acts that the sovereign could commit would be more likely to render him unpopular in Holland, than bankruptcy.

Antigua.—An act has been passed by the Legislature of Antigua abolishing slavery in that island, after the 1st day of August next. In November last, the Governor, at the request of the Legislature, addressed the British government for information, whether unconditional abolition would be permitted, in lieu of the gradual system provided by the act of Parliament. A reply was received stating that the wishes of the Legislature were entirely in accordance with the views of the Government and the spirit of the act of Parliament. The act of total and unconditional abolition was accordingly passed by the Assembly on the 13th of Feb. and the Council on the 15th.

South America.—A Philadelphia paper contains the interesting intelligence, received by the Emperor from Laguayra, that the fourth Constitutional Congress of Venezuela had met at Carraccas, and passed on the 10th Feb. a decree by nearly an unanimous vote, which was afterwards ratified by the Executive, declaring that religion is an essential part of civil liberty, and that "The liberty of public worship is not prohibited in the Republic Venezuela." A reform in the judicial system of the country is about to take place, and trial by jury established.

We are authorised to announce SOLOMON T. BRADY as a candidate for the office of Sheriff of this county.

The Rev. James Osburn, of the Baptist church, from Baltimore, is expected to preach at the Old Church in this place on Saturday and Sunday next.

The Rev. James Thomas, from South Carolina, will preach at Lawrence's meeting house on Tuesday, the 15th April and at night in Tarborough; on Wednesday the 16th, at Williams's m. h. and on Thursday the 17th at Daniel's m. h. The brethren at those places will please have the above published at their meetings.—Com.
