Miscellaneous.

The next Presidency.—The New York Evening Star, in a long article on this subject, canvasses the claims and prospects of Messrs. Webster, Clay, and Calhoun, with regard to uniting the Opposition, in the ensuing contest, and closes with the following remarks relative to Mr. Mangum. On referring to the proceedings of our General Assembly it will be clearly seen, that the past "history" nor present "political course" of Mr. Mangum, will ensure him even sufficient "popularity at home" to get the vote of this State, should he be a candidate for that office. The Evening Star remarks:—

"Among those to whom we should be glad to see attention directed, we would mention the name of Mr. Mangum, a Senator from North Carolina. On different occasions, we have read his speeches with more than ordinary pleasure; there is a naively dignity about them, a display of practical good sense and deep investigation, which denote no ordinary man. We would be very glad that some one who is acquainted with history would write and publish it. Let us know what has been his political course; what his employment; what is his popularity at home; what are his business habits; and what his address. North Carolina has never presented a candidate—she has a large and steady-minded population—she is a Southern State, yet is intimately connected with the North in all the relations of commerce. The opinions of her statesmen, for these and other causes, are likely to present medium views, which, no doubt, will prove satisfactory to every section of the country."

[A Raleigh correspondent of the Fayetteville Observer writes as follows:

"We learn that much dissatisfaction exists because of the amount ($130,000) expended in rebuilding the Capitol. It is estimated, we understand, that $150,000 or $200,000 more will be necessary to complete it; and it is seriously feared that a further appropriation will not be made. We should deeply regret this, for though we think the building has been commenced upon quite too grand a scale, it would never do to leave it in its present state. It would present one of the most remarkable monuments of folly that any State ever erected for the exhibition and perpetuation of its own disgrace.—The Legislature certainly has reason to complain of the deception practised upon them when first called upon to make an appropriation. They were then told that $60,000 would be sufficient to complete the edifice. But we trust that they will not now, in revenge for this deception, disgrace themselves and the State by withholding the means to prosecute the work. This is written, of course, under the supposition that the seat of government is to remain at Raleigh; for we have not placed confidence in the reports which we have heard of a general determination to abandon that place and make Fayetteville the Capitol. We need not say how acceptable such a determination would be to us; but it is not to be expected.

The Hon. Wm. R. King has been re-elected Senator from Alabama, by an almost unanimous vote—he received 97 out of the 115 members who were present. Resolutions have been introduced into the Legislature, requesting the Hon. Gabriel Moore, the other Senator from that State, to resign.

Important Decision.—The Raleigh Register says—One of the State Courts in Tennessee has pronounced the Act, passed by the Legislature at its session in 1833, extending the jurisdiction of that State over the territory of the Cherokee Indians, unconstitutional and void. An appeal has been taken in the nature of a writ of error, to the Supreme Court.

South Carolina.—The Oath Bill has passed the House of Representatives, by an overwhelming majority—and also the Senate, by a vote of 32 to 11.—There are bills before the Legislature for defining the law of Treason—and for regulating the Supreme Court of the State. We learn from Columbia, (says the Charleston Mercury of the 29th ult.,) that the Hon. George McDuffie will certainly be elected Governor, and that the Oath will certainly pass.

Richmond En.

Murder.—Two or three weeks since, a free negro named Taburn, was shot dead by a white man named Fowler, in the western part of this county. The perpetrator of the deed has not yet been arrested.—Oxford Exam.

Incendiaries.—The City of Raleigh seems to be infested with a reckless band of incendiaries. Two attempts to fire the city have lately been made, in one of which the villains succeeded in burning a stable.—ib.

Melancholy Accident.—On Wednesday Evening last, as Mr. Jones Buxton, of this town, was riding from Greenfield, about a mile distant, he was thrown from his horse, and so severely injured as to die in a few hours. He was about 21 years of age—the only son of a widowed mother, who is thus suddenly deprived of her chief earthly hope and comfort. We sincerely sympathize with the bereaved on this melancholy occasion.

Wilmington Press.

Melancholy.—The lifeless body of Mr. James Norman, jun., a resident of Davidson county, was found on Sunday morning last, in the Yadkin river, about 12 or 13 miles below his residence, near Clemmonsville. Mr. Norman, we understand, was married about the 1st instant, and was of industrious and temperate habits; he left his home about three weeks ago, in delicate health, and somewhat deranged state of mind, and was not heard of until discovered on the morning of the 23d instant. An inquest being held, the Coroner and Jury returned as their verdict, that the deceased came to his death by drowning himself, in a fit of mental derangement.—Salem Reporter.

Mississippi Convention.—A gentleman in this city has received a letter from Jackson (Mississippi,) dated the 5th instant, immediately after the close of the Convention, giving a brief account of its proceedings. It was fully attended, about 130 delegates being present. The letter states that "Martin Van Buren was unanimously nominated for the Presidency, and Thomas H. Benton for Vice President," we presume subject to the confirmation of the National Convention. Robert J. Walker, Esq. was nominated for the Senate in the place of Mr. Poin-dexter, and Col. Claiborne and Judge Wright for Representatives.—Globe.

Every body remembers the shower of meteors which fell on the night of the 13th Nov. last year: several scientific gentlemen predicted that there would be a repetition of them on the same night this year, and Professor Olmstead of Yale College, and a large number of the College faculty and Students sat up during the night to watch for them; and sure enough about 3 o'clock they commenced falling, and continued for an hour, very much after the manner of those seen last year. We have no account of their having been seen at any other place.

Specimens of the South American Cotton Tree, have been sent to Washington from Bogota, by R. B. McAfee. The tree bears two crops a year, one in June, the second in December, yielding from four to six pounds of cotton. Some of the seed will be distributed among the Southern members of Congress.
