The Robersonville tobacco market is gaining a reputation for "High Prices."

Farmers! Why sell your tobacco away from home, when you can get better prices at cultivate a pride for home industry, and patronize the Robersonville tobacco market?

Captain Schley, son of Admiral Schley, propounds the conundrum: If Admiral Schley rushed to assume the responvictory? Not much. - Wilmington Star.

LACK OF PRIDE

Pride for the county is seemingly lacking in this section. So long as people do not take more interest in the public wel fare of their own county, and it up; and so long as our people fail to court prosperity, so long will this community be void of that progress that is sister counties. It it useless for us to cite instances. Our made in the counties of Halifax and Pitt.

Martin county certainly has the resources, and the only thing lacking is âmbition. There is money in the county; there are some fine buisness men here also, and a retention of a small precentage of few of them are willing and all civil salaries, probably about ready to put their money in that retired civil employes shall be healed running seres on both legs. enterprises that will bring Mar paid one half the salaries, they He had suffered six years Doctors tin to the front. Not a few lovers of molasses will e interested in the remarks of Mr. Emile Janin, of New Orleans, now your home market? Why not stopping at a Washington hotel, who said: "There is practically none of the old-fashioned New Orleans molasses, of which we were all so fond in our boyhood days. Its disappearance is due to process in manufacturing sugar. The molasses and syrup of today had lost that Santiago fight, are mostly glucose, and strange as would Admiral Sampson have it may seem, New Orleans is one of the largest consumers of glucose sibility as he did the glory of in the world. Glucose is made from corn. It is sweet, though not nearly so sweet as the juice of the sugar cane, and incidentally is the most indigestible thing in the world. The dealers of new Orleans are responsible for the immens consumption of glucose there. An investigation by the sugar exchange developed this. It was discovered that they added about three barrels of glucose to each do all in their power to build barrel of molasses and sold the mixture as New Orleans molasses."
