"I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. "In Memory of Mrs J Paul Simpson" Again our thoughts are fixed upon the sad mysterious power of death. There is gone from us one whose life was beautiful in Christian character, it's words and deeds of love and kindness, one whose loss fills our hearts with sorrow. Our beloved faithful comrade, Mrs. Paul Simpson lies "Asleep in Jesus," at rest in the city of the dead.

When her friends gather together, in their social circles, she will be greatly missed, and our hearts will throbb heavily and crave the absent one for whom we sorrow. But we sorrow, not as those having no hope, for we know that we are not creatures of a purposeless chance, but our God is a God of infinite love and infinite wisdom, and "He Careth for Us," and "Doeth all Things Well."

"Life is given us for a purpose and when the life work is done, God, in mercy, calls us home. We cannot but mourn because of the void made in our hearts and lives by the death of our loved ones, but those qualities which have made them so dear to us, and cause their absence to be so keenly felt, become sweet memories that may be our safeguard in future trials.

So we offer our heartfelt sympathy to the sorrowing husband, parents and brothers in this their sad affliction. Her grave is not a grave; it is a shrine, where innocence reposes. Bright over which God's stars must love to shine. And where, when winter closes Fair spring shall come and in her garden twine. Just like this hand of mine: The whitest of white roses.

Oh! breaking heart, broken heart, Desolate and lone; Low voices from the past O'er your present ruins roam. In the sweetest of your pleasure there is bitterest alloy. And a starless night has followed The sun set of gone joy. Broken hearts! God is joy!

—Written by her cousin in Rockdale, Tex.—P. C. Geo. W. Lane, Pewamo, Mich., writes: "Your Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the best remedy for indigestion and stomach trouble that I ever used. For years I suffered from dyspepsia, at times compelling me to stay in bed and causing me untold agony. I am completely cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. In recommending it to friends who suffer from indigestion. I always offer to pay for it if it fails. Thus far I have never paid."

The Southern Warehouse, ROBERSONVILLE, N. C.

This is the place, and we are the people to sell your TOBACCO.

Farmers, why do we say this?

First, We admit we are not one of the large markets; but, ask judges where is the best prices, and competent judges will tell you on Small Markets. Again our competitors are telling you that we will have no buyers, and that they will soon shut us up, that we can't sell tobacco, "Who are these people? are they friends of you farmers. No! without contradiction, we say no. They are straining every nerve to close up the market at your door. Does this look to you like combination? Stop and think, we say it does. Close this market and where is your competition? It seems ridiculous to us to see such statements made to farmers as are being made by our competitors, but they are wise, and their wisdom is only being exercised for their own benefit and not for you farmers. We stand out boldly, and are determined to fight anything that tends towards combination. We will stand by you, if you will stand by us. They remind us of the old story of the Coon. They have nice things to say now, but we warn you it is the same old Coon, except, instead of one more stripe, they have rubbed off one. Farmers, you want competition for your tobacco.

You can only Get it by standing by our Market

We assure you we are in earnest; we will fight this thing to a finish; if we don't succeed, farmers you contribute to our defeat
