Canine Ta'te For Cheesa.

"Do dogs like cheese? Well, I should any so," exclaimed a waiter in a lunch cafe. "I imagine that dogs prefer cheese to any other food that is going. I didn't know this myself till two or three months ago. Then, one after mon, a man happened in here with a very nice fox terrier, and I tossed the animal a lump of cheese from a plate which a pie-eater had just abandoned. "Oh, he won't eat that," said the owner of the dog. "Very likely not," said I. But by the time the terrier had hopped with a grunt of joy on the morsel, and he swallowed it with such a blissful look as I never saw on a dog's face before. And—would you believe it—the next morning, bright and early, that fox terrier came in here alone, and ran to me, and looked up in my face, wagging his tail. I thought I knew what he wanted, but, to make sure, I threw him a bit of meat. He turned away from it in disgust. Then I threw him a bit of meat. He turned away from it in disgust. Then I threw him a bit of meat. He turned away from it in disgust. Then I threw him a bit of cheese, and he was happy. He hung around two days. His owner located him at last and took him home. I'll keep a stock of cheese on hand for him hereafter," said the owner, 'or otherwise I knew he'll return to you again."—Philadelphia Record.

SOCIAL CONDITIONS IN PERU. 3 to Final Distinction Between Men The Is Founded Upon Riches. In Founded Upon Riches.

The most interesting feature of an article on "Social Conditions in Peru," by Charles E. George, in Quinton's Magazine, is the paragraph relating to what constitutes aristocracy in Peru. Mr. George says that "the don, living in Peru in his casa de hacienda like a lord in his castle, having a numerous vassaly at his beck—planting, rearing, distilling his aguardiente, tending his flocks of cattle—far though he be, above them, frequently betrays in his swart skin the same blood as that which flows in the veins of those he rules. Sometimes he may be a white, again a mestizo, or even an Indian, with the Indian's black, waveless hair and heavy features. He would have become a chief had he been a savage; he is now a don, because of his esage; he h now a don, because of his estate, which lends him dignity. He hashad the genius not to continue in poverty and helpless dependence, therefore he becomes the peer of the proudest in his native land. It is one of the anomalies rative land. It is one of the anomales of eastern Peru that a people so long kept in servitude have acquired no taint of social degradation in consequence; that neither aborigine nor cholo is anywhere spurned because of his blood:

that, in fact, no one thinks of his racial origin, but is content with knowing his claims upon respect as a citizen of the commonwealth. The final distinction between men is founded, then, upon

Last year the Pope's vineyard in the gardens of the Vatican yielded boun-tifully, but owing to some carelessness in putting up the wine much of it spoiled and had to be sold at 6 cents a quart. This year there was a prospect for another good harvest, when a hail storm destroyed the whole crop and damaged the vines so badly that they will probably be barren next year.

"Thar's a mighty lot er talkin' about farmers 'n thar rights,
'N the wonderful prosperity thet beet growin' lawires.
Thar's a heap er foolish crowin' 'n the "beats" begin us shout.
'n holler fer the Tariff ter keep free raw sugar out!
But I notis thet the beet-producin' farms are very few.
An' the farmers through the country sint got much of it ter dew.
The hull land aint a-raisin' beets, 'n aint goin' ter begin,
Beet growin's right fer sum, I guess-bat, whar dew I cam in 3-

The farmer gits four dollars now fer every ton o' bects—
A handsom price, I must allow—but hidin' sum decelts.
Beet sugar manyfacterers admit as they her found.
Thet "granylated" costs 'en enumbin' like tew cents a pound.
In fact that leaves a profit on which they'd greatly thrive—
And—if it kin be sold fer three, why should we pay 'em FIVE ?
It seems ter me es thet's a game thet's mighty like a skin—
But—if 'har's any benefit—want,—whar dew I cam in ?

When Uncle Sam's in went o' cash we're gind ter neip him out.

'N we'll stand all the taxes thet are needed, never doubt.

But when his pocket-book's well lined an' nary cent he lacks,

Et seems ter me his duty's ter repeal thet sugar tax.

Them fellers wot is interested sex its to protect

The beet-producin' farmer thet the duty they collect,

But I guess thet explanation es a little bit too thin—

The sugar maker,—he's all right;—but—whar ded we cam in?

Take off rary sugar duty an' the price will quickly fail.

To everybody's benefit, fer sugar's used by all.

The poor will bless the Government thet placed it in that reach(n millions of our citizens free sugar Low besech)

The dealer 'll be delighted—less expenditure fer him—

More demand 'n bigger profits—which at present are but slim.

An' the farmer 'll be as well paid as he ever yet has ben—

But he'll buy his sugar cheaper—thet's whar he an' I'll cum is.

Now, whar's the sense er reason of the sugar tax to-day,
When our treasury's a-bulgin' an' we hev no debts ter pay?
The duty on raw sugar's Fifty million every year.
An' the people's got ter pay it—thet's a fact that's wery clear.
Fifty million! Grent Jerusha! Ter protect beet magnates, too,
Why should they tax ALL the people—just ter help a scattered FEW?
And the FEW? Beet-sugar MAKERS! Don't it reality seem a sin
Thus ter help an' fill that' coffers? Whar dew you an' I cum in?

The farmer growin' beets hes got a contract price fer years— Free raw sugar wouldn't hurt him, an' of it he hes no fears. But mebbe, like myself—he'à also growing fruit so nice— Ter preserve it—at a profit—he needs sugar—at a price! The repealing of the duty, surely cuts the price in two— Thet'll make a mighty difference, neighbor, both ter me an' you! Let the sugar manyfacterer make such profits as he kin— Ter him it may seem right enuff—but whar dew I cum in?

An' I aint agoin' ter swaller all the argyments they shout
Thet the farmers need protection—an' must har raw sugar out.
Common sense is plainly showin' that the people in the land
Want raw sugar free in future—an' its freedom will demand.
'Tis a tax no longer needed—hateful to the public view,—
Taxing millions of our people to earleh a favored few.
They can't blind me any longer with the foolish yarms they spin,
While they're busy making money—whar dew you an' I come in?
