MJB AFTER A BRUTE.

Two Thousand People in Pennsylvania Want Lynch Law.

Butler, Penn., Sept. 13.—A mob of 2,000 at midnight are attempting to take the life of Jerry Bennett, a prisoner in the Butler county jail. The mob has battered down the jail door but are being held back by the sheriff and deputies. A dozen policemen are vainly trying to quiet and disperse the would-be-lynchers. The officers fired over the heads of the crowd to frighten them back and were rushed upon by the infuriated men armed with sticks and stones. Deputy Sheriff Raney Hoon was struck several times by clubs and slightly injured. Special Deputy Lewis Hill was struck in the face by a board and severely cut. At 12.40 a. m., another rush was made on the jail by a small crowd of the rioters and Policeman Graff, who was standing in the doorway, pushed the front man in the party back. Geo. Klein, a young steel-car worker, struck Graff and is said to have tried to pull a gun. Graff shot him through the calf of the leg. The assailants then retreated. Bennett is twenty-six years of age and was caught in the act of assaulting a seven year old daughter of John H. Wagoner, a tailor, under a box car near the West Pennsylvania railroad station. The child was covered with blood and was feebly crying, "Mamma, mamma," when rescued from her brutal assailant.

BWARE OF THE KNIFE.
No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequaled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds and skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothers and Heals. S. R. Biggs.

A Dog's Stomach Holds a $20 Bill
The stomach of a dog is a peculiar thing to see on the desk of an official of the United States treasury, but that was the object which E. E. Schreiner recently spread out before him.

Mr. Schreiner is chief of the division of redemption of the treasury and has become accustomed to receiving money under peculiar conditions. Even he, however, admitted the originality of the case in question. "Dear sir," ran the letter which accompanied the stomach, "I send under separate cover stomach of my dog Fritz. I was playing with him today, holding a twenty dollar bill up for him to jump at, when he suddenly leaped higher than I had anticipated, grabbed the bill between his teeth and ran under the house, where he chewed the money up and swallowed it. "I thought more of the $20 than I did of Fritz—he was always chasing chickens—so I shot him and cut out his stomach. Please see if you can paste together and redeem it."

"The unique feature of this case," said Mr. Schreiner, "is that we found the bill, slightly chewed up, but sufficiently whole to identify and redeem. The man has received a check for $20 by this time."—Washington dispatch to Baltimore Sun.

A SAD DISAPPOINTMENT.
Infective liver medicine is a disappointment, but you don't want to purge, strain and break the glands of the stomach and bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers never disappoint. They cleanse the system of all poisons and putrid matter and do it so gently that one enjoys the pleasant effects. They are a tonic to the liver. Cure biliousness, torpid liver and prevent fever. S. R. Biggs.

WANTED—A respectable man, heretofore a democrat, connected with the cotton mill interests, to accept the republican nomination for congress in the Fifth district. If defeated he will be taken care of. Address The Foodie Boss, care the Roaster, stating how many cotton mill votes the applicant can command. —J. J. Kossler.

Shot Himself and Former Sweetheart.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 11.—Lewis Berkley, property man at the Academy of Music, the leading theatre here, shot himself this afternoon and dangerously wounded Mrs. Annie Anderson, aged 22, his former sweetheart. Berkley was about the same age.

The young woman married about 18 months ago but burkley continued his attentions to her and seemed deeply in love with his old sweetheart. The families were friends. Mrs. Anderson was visiting the house of Berkley's mother this evening about 7 o'clock and Berkley met her inside his own gate as she was going to her own home. He shot her twice and seeing her fall and believing that she was dead, he ran up stairs and fired the shot that caused his own death instantly. The woman will probably recover. It is not known what passed between them as the woman is unconscious.

Republican Ticket.
A Charlotte special to The Morning Post Sept. 13th, contains the following:
The Republican executive committee of Mecklenburg county held a meeting this afternoon and nominated candidates for the State legislature. Mr. E. M. Bell was named for the State Senate and A. H. Washburn and R. W. Smith, were nominated for the House. J. R. Sossoman, independent candidate for the House was also endorsed by the meeting. The Republicans will make no other nominations for county officers.

Independence.

The Rocky Mount Spokesman says editorially.
"There seems to be a movement along the line of independence in a number of places in the State. Here and there, perhaps, some independent candidate will be elected, but the movement as a whole, will be a failure. The principle, as it relates to parties and their work, is wrong.

The record of all political history shows that all free, republican governments must be run by parties, and seldom have there existed for any considerable time more than two distinct political parties. The school-boy learns this in his study of Roman history, and all history down to the present time.

Independence has for its theory that which appeals favorably to almost any honest man; but the trouble is that the practice and the theory do not harmonize. The independents generally say they are only trying to purify the government, local or of larger field, according to the matter under consideration; but really the motive is so often a scramble for office the whole thing turns out to be a bundle of inconsistencies.

Then, if it is purity in politics and government that is sought the course which will purge any dominant party ought to be sought within the bounds of the party under censure.
We can have only two political parties long at a time, and the mistakes and imperfections of a party ought to be corrected within its own pales.

External Use of Oil.

The properties of cotton seed oil are so similar to those of olive oil that the two are difficult to be distinguished even chemically; so similar that the former is freely used and labelled the latter. Why will not the oil from the cotton seed serve equally well as that from the olive, which the Vegetarian says, one of the most wholesome and nutritious articles of diet is olive oil, and it is as beneficial for external as for internal use. It was the custom of the ancients, who were most luxurious in their bathing habits, to anoint the body with vegetable oils after the bath. Athletes and gladiators also anointed their bodies with oils. Roman athletes were in the habit of using the fresh y expressed oil of the olive to give agility and suppleness to their limbs. Some of the greatest beauties of whom history tells have also been prone to the use of oil. Mme. Recamier was in the habit of partaking freely of olive oil with her food and using it also after bath. Her beautiful skin and clear complexion were doubtless due to this rather than to powders or paints. Tradition says that both Cleopatra and Zenobia partook freely of olive oil and used oils after the bath. In the countries where the olive flourishes, such as Italy, medical practitioners use the oil very freely for a host of ailments. It is maintained in the Levantine countries that the external use of oil prevents rheumatism, gout and other kindred maladies which are aggravated by external chills, and that the internal use of the oil removes the tonic condition of the blood which leads to the generation of the maladies.—Ex.

A PARSON'S NOBLE ACT.
"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-round cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cts. Satisfaction is guaranteed by all druggists.

An incident that tried the nerves of a number of women occurred in the store of H. A. London Jr., & Co., Saturday morning. A closing out sale had brought many customers, and there was a low buzz of content all over the shop until one of the young lady clerks, in removing a roll of cloth, dislodged a large rat, which at once proceeded to do trapeze acts all over the store. The rat was given the right of way while everybody in the store developed surprising agility and climbed on the counters. The entire assemblage was on the point of collapse, when Mr. J. R. Van Ness appeared leading his fine, brave cat by the hand and the rat met the tragic death that is duly described by the mouser code.—Charlotte Observer.

Farmers and Good Roads.

In all States that have given State aid for roads, the farmers at first opposed it, but at the present time they are loudest in their demands for their improvement of the roads, as they appreciate that they are really benefited the most because they are continually using the roads in hauling their products to market, which they can do at all seasons of the year over a good road. The saving made to farmers in States where they have good roads is enormous. The greater portion of the cost of State aid, of course, has to be borne by the cities on account of the greater valuation.

The lowest estimate of the cost of the bad roads tax, that of Prof. Latta, of Purdue University, collated from the certified experience of practical farmers in forty counties of the State of Indiana, amounts to seventy-seven cents per acre annually, of fifty dollars per square mile of farm area; and there are one million square miles of farm area in the United States; $500,000,000, or three times the cost of all the common schools in the country, are thus wasted.—Ex.

Mr. Small on North Carolina.
We have before us and have read with a good deal of care and a very deep interest the speech of Hon. John H. Small in the House of Representatives on June 28th, 1902, on the State of North Carolina, says the Concord Standard. Mr. Small has surely rendered his State a most valuable service in thus presenting the State he represents.

It is a strong vindication of the State's progressiveness and her rapid development of her many resources.
He shows that we are of the purest type of Americans, there being the fewest foreign born citizens. He gives the minutest statistics of our climate, including temperature and rainfall; our various industries, and the leaps and bounds of their progress; our immense water powers; our forest and mineral wealth as well as our wonderful fisheries and fruits, including berries. He leaves nothing neglected. He shows the great progress in educating and the magnanimous treatment along these lines of the stronger toward the weaker race.

The onward and upward trend is shown in tabulated form. Thus the population of the State increases 17.1 per cent. from 1890 to 1900, while the wage earners increased 109.9 per cent., the wages paid 111.9 per cent. the cost of material used in manufacturing 133.9 and the value of the products 132.1. The assessed value of real estate increased 16.8. It is shown that more capital was employed in 1900 cotton manufacturing than in all the industries of the State in 1890. In 1900 there were 97 cotton
