Short Sketches of the Lives of the Men Who Will Hold Aloft
the Democratic Banner in Martin County.

Harry W. Stubbs, W. C. Manning, J. C. Crawford, James A. Hobbs.

Hugh M. Burras, Dr. R. J. Nelson.

HARRY W. STUBBS—NOMINEE FOR THE HOUSE.

Harry W. Stubbs needs no introduction to the people of Martin county. He is known all over the State, and is one of the leaders of the Democratic party and one whose opinions have great weight in shaping the actions of the Democratic voters of the State. He was born in Williamston, N. C., February 16th, 1866. As a youth he received exceptional advantages in the way of education. He attended the Horner School at Oxford and other educational institutions later, and graduated at the University of North Carolina. After his graduation he read law at the famous Dick & Dillard School at Greensboro. In January, 1881, he received his degree and began the practice of his profession associating himself with Hon. James E. Moore, one of the ablest attorneys in his section of the State.

In 1889, Mr. Stubbs accepted the nomination for the second Senatorial District, and after a brilliant campaign was elected by a handsome majority. He was for two years Solicitor for the Inferior Court of Martin county. He was prevailed upon in 1898 to accept the nomination to the House from Martin. After an active campaign in which he took the lead for white supremacy, he was elected by a good majority.

During the session of 1899 Mr. Stubbs was one of the leaders in the House, and one of the foremost workers for the Constitutional Amendment.

In 1900 he was re-elected and during the session of 1901 occupied a place in the front rank of the House. In debates he always had the courage to declare for the principles and policies of his party, and the ability to take care of himself in any emergency. As a member of most of the leading committees of the House, he accomplished a vast amount of work.

The Democratic party in Martin county, knowing and appreciating Mr. Stubbs sound judgment and unfaltering loyalty to the every interest of his constituents, place in him a confidence few men enjoy and feel safe to follow where he leads. He is an orator of unusual ability and gives his services freely and gladly during every campaign. His popularity is unbounded and when he represents Martin in the House, his people are satisfied. The nomination for Senator of the district was tendered him, but he preferred to serve his own county as it pleased to place him. The Democratic convention in September refused to allow him to decline, and he will again do honor to Martin county in the session of 1903.

W. C. MANNING—NOMINEE FOR REGISTER OF DEEDS.

There are few men in Martin county better or more favorable known than W. C. Manning. He is a native of the county, having been born near Jamesville, N. C., on February 3rd, 1871. Like most farmers' boys he spent his early years following the plough—learning great truths from nature, truths of equity and honesty of living. The schools he attended were plain and simple in instruction. But school-room walls do not bound such minds as his. For his thoughts broadened and deepened into ripeness with advancing years. He was a close student and readily fitted himself for a teacher. This vocation he diligently followed for seven years and learned indeed to discipline his mind and soul, so as to meet the sterner realities of life bravely and well.

The postmastership at Amherst, Martin county, was given him under Cleveland, and while the emoluments of the office were small, he served as though they were great. Showing that painstaking care in little things which has ever been one of his best characteristics.

In 1898, friends throughout the county saw in him the proper material for the office of Register of Deeds and the nomination was given him. The campaign was a hard fought one, but he was chosen by a good majority.

The advent of Mr. Manning into office just after the reign of Populism, was indeed a fortunate one for the interests of the people. There were many abuses which he, in his honest and conscientious way, unearthed and made straight. Hundreds of dollars were placed in the county treasury which would otherwise have been lost. It was the people's money, and as one of the guardians of their interest he performed his duty.

His second term has been as successful as the first—indeed, he is more popular—the verdict being that he is by far the best Register Martin has had within the recollection of the oldest citizen.

At the Democratic convention in September, he was re-nominated for the third time—an honor 'tis true, but he honors the office more, and every ballot cast for him will be aptly placed.

J. C. CRAWFORD—NOMINEE FOR SHERIFF.

A successful career has been that of J. Cornelius Crawford—a life that is marked with characteristics of fairness and determination. He was born in Martin county, near Robersonville, N. C., on July 14th, 1866. His earlier years were spent on his father's farm, where he learned lessons of prudence and industry, which were to fit him for mature life. The educational advantages offered him were very meager—only the common schools in his district became his privilege. But being quick to grasp every opportunity, he soon stored his mind with practical ideas and started out to battle for a place in the business world. He embarked in the mercantile business and conducted it very successfully for five years at Robersonville, N. C. During that time he was appointed postmaster in his town under Cleveland and served faithfully and well. His honesty and integrity made him a host of strong friends, and when in 1898 a mighty battle was to be fought on political lines they saw in him those qualities necessary to equip a man for the place.

At the Democratic convention in that year he was nominated for Sheriff by a handsome majority, although there were strong opponents to meet. The campaign was a hard-fought one, but he broke down every obstacle and was elected by a good majority. His first term was a successful one—so there was no opposition to his nomination to the second term, and his election was accomplished without much labor. For the third time he comes before the people of Martin with an honorable record. The confidence of his constituents is unwavering and there are none to call him unworthy.

JAMES A. HOBBS—NOMINEE FOR CLERK OF THE COURT.

James A. Hobbs was born in Craven county, now Bayboro', on August 10th 1844. In early life his father moved to Williamston where he remained a few years. Early in '51 the family settled in Hamilton. "Jim" Hobbs, as he is familiarly called, had none of the educational advantages open to boys of this generation. He attended the common schools and received the rudiments of an education sufficient to assist him in the discharge of any duty placed upon him.

He answered the call to arms in '62, enlisting in Company G. 3rd Cavalry, North Carolina Troops. Serving faithfully in that capacity for one year, he was transferred to the 17th Regiment, which was sent from Martin county, and commanded by Capt. John Lamb. Perhaps, no period in the life of Mr. Hobbs shines out so clearly as was his service for his country during the dark days of '61-'65. The highest praise one can bestow upon a North Carolinian is that he was a brave Confederate soldier. To his comrades in arms, Mr. Hobbs was always the brave, chivalrous man. Fighting in the ranks, he had a record for gallantry in every engagement. Near the close of the war he was promoted to the office of Lieutenant, but that same modesty that always characterized him made him decline the honor—preferring, he said, to remain in the ranks.

For years he held aloft the Democratic banner in his section of the county. To intrust a duty to his hands was to have that duty done, as every man in Martin county knows. No political honors came to him until 1898, when he was chosen to be Clerk of the Court—a position he has filled with honor to himself and to his constituents. He has served two terms and received the unanimous vote of the Democratic convention in September for a third term.

HUGH M. BURRAS—NOMINEE FOR TREASURER.

Hugh M. Burras another of Martin county's sons, was born September 3rd, 1874, at Jamesville. His father, Geo. M. Burras, is one of the county's oldest and best known citizens, and his son has grown into popularity as few young men have.

His life up to 1898 was a quiet and uneventful one. The schools in his town supplied the necessary educational advantages and with plenty of pluck and industry he carved a way for his advancement in the business world.

In 1898, the sentiment of the Democrats in the county tended to the nomination of younger men to the several offices, and Mr. Burras, representing the strength of the party in the lower end of the county, was unanimously nominated for the important office of Treasurer. His election was assured from the beginning of the campaign, and during the first term he gave good service. His second term followed with no opposition and perhaps, no man has ever given better service, and his courtesy is proverbial. During all the terms of office he has served as book-keeper for the firm of Eli Gurganus and has displayed wonderful ability in the management of all affairs intrusted to him.

At the Democratic convention in September he was again nominated for Treasurer, and has entered into the spirit of the campaign with his usual enthusiasm and determination to do his duty faithfully.

DR. R. J. NELSON—NOMINEE FOR CORONER.

Dr. R. J. Nelson was born in Edgecombe county, near Bethel, on January 11th, 1865, and spent his boyhood days on his father's farm. He received at Bethel High School and Greenville Institute, an academic education. Selecting the medical profession as his life work, he entered the University of Maryland in 1888, and from there went to Louisville, Ky., where he pursued his studies. Graduating in 1890, he passed the Board of Examiners of North Carolina which met at Oxford in that year. In 1891 he joined the North Carolina Medical Society. He is also a member of Martin county Medical Society and of the Tri-County Society, which is composed of the counties of Beaufort, Pitt and Martin.

Just after graduation he located in Bethel, but in June 1891, moved to Robersonville for the practice of his profession. In December 1891, he accepted a position from the State to attend its convicts, but resigned in August, 1892, and settled again in Robersonville, where he has been since associated with Dr. R. H. Hargrove.

In 1898, the Democratic convention recognizing the great necessity of having a medical practitioner for Coroner, nominated Dr. Nelson and he was elected by a handsome majority. In all affairs of his office he has been painstaking and given to his people the service of an honest, conscientious man and physician. His nomination has each time been unanimous and his election an easy one.

At the convention in September he accepted the nomination for the third time, and will help keep aloft the glorious banner of Democracy.

The American Lack of Patriotism in Peace.

The curse of this country is the lack of patriotism shown by its citizens in the time of peace.

It is necessary to emphasize the statement 'in time of peace' because in time of war the indolent, indifferent American citizen who slouches along oblivious of his duties in time of peace volunteers in time of war, goes to the front and dies like a soldier and a gentleman, if a bullet happens to come his way.

For example, if war were to be declared tomorrow more Americans would volunteer than the government could arm and mobilize in six months. We all saw that happen in 1898 when war was declared with Spain and men volunteered by companies and regiments, cheerfully to go to the front with Springfields and black powder and become easy marks for Spanish Mausers, not to mention the men who undertook to raise, and did raise companies of men at their own expense and offered them to the government

In truth, if the country were invaded it would have to practically depopulate it of its males of arm-bearing age before it could be conquered, unless it were betrayed by the financial interests to which it would have to look largely for the sinews of war. That is a contingency with which we should have to reckon, but barring that, the country would be practically unconquerable, because in war its citizens are patriots.

And what do we find in time of peace? The man who volunteered went to Cuba and charged forts and blockhouses as a matter of course, wading through amiable tangle of barbed wire, under the encouraging zip of Mauser bullets, to do it, will not walk around the corner to register and qualify himself to do his duty as a citizen in time of peace."
