MARCONI WIRELESS.

Great Fortunes to be Founded in the New System.

When Alexander Graham Bell patented and perfected his telephone the skeptics were loud in their derision of the "toy." Nevertheless, Bell found believers, and those believers were rewarded for their faith by immense fortunes. Gardner G. Hubbard, the father-in-law and faithful friend of Bell, was the man who risked the most and gained the greatest rewards in backing Bell and the telephone until it reached the stage where the public no longer derided the instrument as a play thing, but clamored for it as a necessity. Just now in the formative and constructive period there are doubters and skeptics, but there some faithful friends, and it is these friends and faithful ones who are going to reap the fortunes that are bound to follow the general adoption of the wireless system. The great advantage of this system over that using wires and cables is its extremely low initial cost, which relieves operating it of a large burden of interest, taxes and depreciation, thus increasing its earning capacity many fold. Those who are investing in the stock of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America, to day are the ones who are certain to win great fortunes by the future increase in value of those stocks, as well as through the dividends earned and paid in the interim. Bell Telephone Stock increased in value from $1.00 per share to be worth over $1,000 per share, and so Marconi stocks will very likely increase from $4.00, the present price, to over $1,000 within a few years. Thus $50 invested now may become $20,000 within a decade. It is by wise investments such as these that the great fortunes of the big millionaires have been made. The Vanderbilts in railroads, the Goulds in telegraphs and railroads, the Mackays in cables, the Rockefeller's in Standard Oil, the Hubbards in telephones. The man who has a few hundred dollars laid away to invest and who has the intelligence to grasp a fleeting opportunity will be the one to seize the Marconi offering and make his fortune. The Weekly Marconigram is the name of a periodical devoted to the new wireless system, and its publishers, Messrs. Munroe & Munroe, 44-60 Exchange Place, New York, announce that it will be sent free to all who apply for it. This firm is known as an aggressive, enterprising combination of brilliant young financiers who have a successful career behind them as a guarantee of their future. They have agreed to keep Marconi Company supplied with working capital until the system is thoroughly established and in full commercial operation. They have issued a handsome booklet, "Marconi Wireless," giving full particulars concerning Marconi and his system, with 32 illustrations in half-tone, which they send free to persons likely to become interested as stockholders in the company. Mr. George H. Munroe, New York manager of the firm, says: "We are soliciting the investment of small amounts in Marconi securities for the reason that we believe that the American people will welcome the establishment of this competing system, and because we know that great profits will accrue to the investor from the development of this marvelous invention to a commercial stage. The company has, already, over a quarter of a million dollars invested in stations and apparatus in the United States, but it will require at least as much more before the business can be established upon a highly profitable basis. Once that is done the value of Marconi securities must necessarily advance very rapidly, and those who buy now will in the course of a few years find themselves in possession of securities equally as profitable as Telephone, Western Union and Commercial Cable have heretofore been. If anybody wants to know more about the opportunities this system offers, let him write to us at 44-60 Exchange Place, and we will be glad to give them."

Raleigh Letter.

By LLEWXAM, July 13th, 1903.

In talking with a number of the delegates to the State convention of the Anti-Saloon League held here last week, I found that many approve of the use of the liquor dispensary as a weapon or instrument for abolishing the open saloon, especially in communities where for any reason it is thought to be impracticable to properly and effectively enforce prohibition, and at places where the majority may be opposed to total prohibition. Even the most pronounced and usually most uncompromising prohibitionists, look with favor upon the dispensary as an "entering wedge," and it can already be seen that it will be made the issues in many localities where saloons now obtain in the coming local elections on the question. It is understood that the fight here in Raleigh will be made on that line. The revenue which the municipalities and counties secure through the dispensary adds much to its popularity and silences the "loss of revenue" argument of the opposition in local option campaigns.

The newly elected State Central Executive Committee of the Anti-Saloon League will hold its first meeting here to-night. The raising of a campaign fund of $5,000 by the convention and the thorough organization perfected indicates that the anti-liquor forces mean business. They say that the elimination of the "illiterate and purchasable" negro vote from the electorate of North Carolina, has greatly crippled the whisky people and correspondingly strengthened the temperance forces, and that the latter are now in a position for the first time since reconstruction days to control the liquor traffic and to abolish the saloon in nearly or quite all the towns. The appearance of Senator Simmons in the convention (leaving his sick bed to do so) and his speech, conservative as it was, was a revelation and to many a surprise because it has been a very unusual thing for a "public man" to take part in a gathering of that kind. Heretofore most of them have avoided the "prohibitionists" as they would a plague, especially the Chinese office seekers. Possibly the reverse may be true for a while under the changed conditions. A "farmers' convention" will be held in Raleigh next week, July 21-23, an interesting program has been arranged for the 3-day session. Governor Aycock, Hon. John S. Cunningham, Hon. S. L. Patterson, O. W. Blackwell, Prof. C. M. Burkett and others will deliver addresses and Gen. Matt. W. Ransom will preside. Half fare rates over the railroads. People are largely taking advantage of the low summer rates offered by the Southern Railway and are hastening to the mountain and other summer resorts. The July term of Wake county Superior Court begins today. One of the important cases to be tried is the case of lawyer Ernest Haywood for the killing of Ludlow Skinner Judge Peables is presiding. The fall term of the Supreme Court will begin August 31, on which date applicants for license to practice law will be examined. The much noted question of where the North Carolina National Guard's encamp this year has at last been settled, and Morehead City, Greensboro and Asheville are the places selected—the 1st regiment and Battery A, at Asheville, August 19-25; 2nd regiment, July 22-28, at Morehead City; 3rd regiment, August 6-12, at Greensboro. Visitors to Raleigh next fall and winter will have the opportunity of witnessing the finest line of theatrical attractions ever brought to this city. Manager E. H. Baker of the Academy of Music will give his entire time and attention to this popular play-house, the stage which is to be enlarged and other improvements are to be made. He recently returned from New York where he looked many of the very best shows that travel. Within a week the distribution of the laws passed by the last legislature is expected to be completed. Copies of the bound volumes of the acts are this week being forwarded to the registers of deeds for the county officers and magistrates of the various counties. Counties which desire to borrow money from the State public school loan fund, created by the legislature last winter, for the purpose of building additional public school houses or repairing or enlarging these now in operation, should make application at once to the State Supt. of Education, through the county boards of education. The apportionment will begin about July 15th or 20th, although $200,000 is now available for this purpose, it is probable that all of it and more will be applied for various counties under the terms provided for in the new law. If it was not "ag'in" their law" I might comment on the failure of Raleigh to enlarge its limits, and say something about the hot weather. But they are tabooed subjects now. LLEWXAM. State and General News

A CONDENSED WEEKLY REPORT OF THE IMPORTANT EVENTS THAT HAVE HAPPENED IN OUR STATE AND ELSEWHERE.

STATE NEWS.

The Secretary of the State Tuesday chartered the Butler Manufacturing Company, of Fayetteville, capital $10,000, to buy and sell patent rights, manufacture chairs, lounges, mattresses, lumber, etc. The incorporators are B. R. Butler, A. L. McCaskill and A. H. Slocumb, Jr. Nettie Jones, a pretty though sinning white girl, attempted to end her life at Charlotte Tuesday morning by drinking an ounce of laudanum. Physician were hastily summoned, and after heroic and prolonged efforts the woman was restored to consciousness. She will recover. The executive committee of the state anti-saloon league Tuesday elected officers, viz.: J. William Bailey, president, Rev. G. T. Adams, recording secretary and I. S. Blair, treasurer. An organizer was also elected, but the name will not be announced until he accepts. It was decided to be unnecessary to establish an organ as all the newspapers are aiding in the work. John D. Raker, of Lexington, a painter and at one time policeman of Lexington, has gone astray. He has abandoned his wife and four little children and gone off with another man's wife, a Mrs. Koonce, of rather unsavory reputation, but good looking. Raker is thirty five years old and the woman thirty. A mean feature in the case is that Raker took his wife's money, some $70, all of his own, borrowed all he could before he skipped and left her with something like $300, leaving all bills unpaid and his wife with nothing. Raker, has heretofore borne an excellent reputation, being apparently a consistent member of the Methodist church. The trial of Ernest Haywood for killing Ludlow Skinner came up in Wake county court Monday. The defendant asked for a continuance on the ground that two important witnesses could not be had. Witness Hocutt is sick in Raleigh of typhoid fever, and witness Schmitz is detained at Southern Pines by sickness of his wife. Solicitor W. E. Daniel made a strong argument against the motion for continuance, showing that the testimony of these two witnesses was had in full before the habeas corpus proceedings a few weeks ago, and that the State had abundant proof to impeach the testimony of these witnesses. Judge Peebles, presiding, granted a continuance until October 1st. A wreck that was certainly complete in every sense of the word occurred Sunday on the Asheville & Spartanburg division of the Southern Railway. One of the heaviest freight engines employed in this mountain country started down the mountain a short distance beyond Saluda when the crew lost control of the train and it ran away down the grade which had been the scene of a similar disaster. Numbers of the crew jumped for their lives when they realized their peril. The train sped on for several miles at frightful speed before leaving the rails. When the huge engine did leave the track it was hunked down the mountain side with 14 cars after it. When the engine and cars settled down there was nothing to be seen save a shapeless mass of timber and iron, from which arose smoke from the engine. The track, however, was not damaged seriously, and in a couple of hours passenger trains were running by the scene of the wreck. If you are suffering from Eczema, Pimples, Herpes, Ringworm, Dandruff, or any blood or skin disease, Hancock's Liquid Sulphur is a sure cure. Sold by C. D. GENERAL NEWS.

The street car strikers in Richmond announce that they have raised $40,000 with which they will start an automobile service in opposition to the street car line. In a conference with Prosecutor Ruckelshaus Tuesday afternoon, it is said that Rufus Cantrell, the negro ghoul, admitted that he had a hand in the recent murders of Isaac Rosengarten, a merchant policeman, and Isaac Stout. A head-on collision between a southbound passenger train and a north bound freight train on the Great Western Railroad, near Savannah, Mo., early Tuesday, resulted in the death of one person and the injury of several others. Armed farmers, who had been on a man-hunt, appeared in Savannah Tuesday on their way back home. They told the people here that they had caught Ed. Clans, the negro who committed an assault on Miss Johnson at Paden Junction Monday. Judge Anderson, of the United States District Court Tuesday denied the Chicago Board of Trade an injunction against L. A. Kinsey & Company and twenty alleged racket shop proprietors to prevent them from using the board's continuous quotations. A cablegram from London was received by William M. H. Fisher, at his home in Hartford, Conn., Tuesday, stating that the jockey who met with an accident in London last week was improving rapidly and would be able to take his mounts again in about two weeks. Announcement was made at the war department Tuesday that the president has approved the court-martial of Second Lieutenant John V. McCarthy, 10th Infantry, who was tried at Fort Leavenworth on a charge of duplicating his pay accounts and sentenced to dismissal. D. M. Parry, president of the National Manufacturers' Association, has sent a letter to the directors of the Commercial Club, suggesting that it is inexpedient for the club to encourage the location in Indianapolis of the headquarters of the labor unions. Mr. Parry says that manufacturers are inclined to be timid about locating in a city where many labor organizations have their executive offices. The club has taken no action in the matter. The home of Mayor E. O. Davis, of Red Bank, N. J., was burglarized early Tuesday by Thomas Thomas, alias Thomas Dunn, a negro ex-convict, who also attempted assault on Miss Grace Davis, the Mayor's daughter. The negro father was caught with an accomplice, in the barn. Both were committed to the county jail at Freehold. There was talk of lynching Thomas, but the prompt action of the police in hurrying the negroes out of town averted trouble. Miss Mary Creach, a girl of eighteen, of South Carolina, has shown how even a plucky female with a cool demeanor and a Winchester can keep a mob at bay. Her father is a sheriff, and he had in his keeping a man very badly wanted. He was called away on business and left the jail in charge of his daughter. The mob arrived in due time and found Mary there, but in her hands was a rifle, her finger was on the trigger, and they heard a calm, feminine voice explaining that any violence would result in certain gentlemen present being perforated. The mob reconsidered the matter and retired. Oh, that each prison had a girl keeper.
