JAMESVILLE

March 8, 1904.

Mr. W. C. Hassell, of Washington, was in town Monday.

Messrs. W. L. and H. T. Stallings went to Williamston Monday.

Preaching at the M. E. Church Sunday by Rev. Mr. Rumley, of Robersonville.

Messrs. J. G. Stator and J. R. Robertson, of Williamston, were in town to-day.

Messrs. Watts & Stator shipped one barrel of fish from here to-day to Williamston. The North Carolina robins are not very numerous yet.

Misses Annabelle Everett and Annie Peele, two of Williamston's most attractive and beautiful young ladies, came down Wednesday evening and returned Thursday morning.

The death of our friend, Dr. Chas. R. Gurkin, who died at Roanoke Rapids Sunday was quite a shock to his host of friends and relatives. He was brought down on the train Monday night and was taken to Dr. Hassell's Tuesday, and was carried to the family resting place about three miles from here and laid to rest. Mr. Gurkin leaves a wife and three children to mourn the loss of a dear one which we hope has gone to a brighter and happier world than this one. This should warn ourselves to prepare for the Master at any time for we know not what time he is going to call us to our home above.

Tragedy Averted

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia had played sad havoc with him and a terrible cough set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases Guaranteed by S. R. Biggs and all Druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

WILLIAMS

Mrs. W. E. Daniels spent Sunday in Robersonville.

A prayer meeting was held at Holly Springs Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hardison spent Sunday in Williamston.

Miss Mamie Lanier spent Thursday night with Miss Lottie Andrews.

Miss Emma Belle Yarrell spent Friday night with her friend, Miss Lucy Riddick.

Jesse Glenn and Walter York, from Williamston, were at Riddick's Grove Sunday.

Misses Lonnie Harris and Lucy Riddick spent Saturday night with Miss Emma Belle Yarrell.

A large crowd from the Biggs' School House neighborhood, were at Riddick's Grove Sunday afternoon.

There was a large crowd out at Riddick's Grove Sunday afternoon to attend the regular preaching at that church.

Miss Claudie Hardison, of Jamesville, who has been visiting Miss Lott's Andrews, returned to her home Sunday.

The farmers in this neighborhood have done very little work so far. The weather has been at "outs" with them it seems. They are getting very restless and when the weather breaks are likely to overdo the thing.

A service was held at Holly Springs last Friday night for the purpose of raising money to buy an organ. As is usually the case the Rev. Mr. Sutton had no trouble to secure the funds, and a nice organ will soon be placed in our new church.

Miss Lonnie Harris, the popular and efficient teacher at the Hopkins' School House, closed that place of learning last Thursday after five months of faithful work on the part of scholars as well as the teacher. Miss Harris has done a good work this session and it is to be regretted that the fall term of five months could not be made seven or more months. While here Miss Harris made many warm friends who regretted to see her leave Monday morning for her home in Vaughan, N. C.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured

William Shaffer, a brakeman, of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to his bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot, and in one week's time was able to get to work as happy as a clam." For sale by S. R. Biggs.

The second of the series of "Brief Business Talks for Women" is given, and its advice will prove valuable and wholesome to all woman who will heed it.

GLASGOW HOARY WITH AGE.

Scottish Metropolis Was Founded 1,800 Years Ago.

We hear a great deal in these days in praise of Glasgow as a truly model city and of its municipalizing in the interest of the citizens of nearly every public franchise. That is all true, and Glasgow highly merits all praise bestowed upon it. At present, however, we would briefly remind our readers of Glasgow in the olden time, hundreds of years before it obtained its present state of perfection, and of which we now rarely hear a word.

It is about 1,800 years since Glasgow was founded by Kentigern or St. Mungo, but the city did not amount to much until after the act of union between Scotland and England, about 200 years ago. It was that act which enabled the merchant adventurers of Glasgow to send out their ships to Virginia and Maryland for cargoes of tobacco leaf. Thus tobacco manufacture was the first important foreign trade and home industry established by Glasgow enterprise.

Very soon the city became the center of the tobacco traffic. For a long time thereafter the "tobacco lords" of Glasgow in their scarlet robes and on their own privileged beat were almost as strongly marked figures in history as were the merchants of Venice. When the American colonies revolted and the United States republic was established Glasgow lost its flourishing tobacco trade, but some of the "tobacco lords," who held heavy stocks, made enormous fortunes by the rise in prices. These fortunes formed the foundation of larger enterprises elsewhere and the begetting of the numerous "merchant princes" that soon characterized Glasgow.

When driven from Virginia the adventurers established trade with the West Indies, where sugar succeeded tobacco as a staple of trade. Then came cotton and next coal, which was soon followed by iron. Meantime there had been a continuous development of trade with India, with China, with South America, with the United States and ultimately with Australia and New Zealand. Till then the Clyde had been little better than a stagnant ditch, but Glasgow by degrees formed a deep, broad, navigable waterway, and then came commerce and shipbuilding.—Scottish-American.

A SECOND ATTACK ON VLADIVOSTOCK

It is Rumored That the Place was Bombarded Monday and that a Japanese Cruiser was Sunk--Nothing Known of the Whereabouts of the Russian Squadron.

London, March 8.—The Japanese have not yet issued a report on the bombardment in Vladivostock, and no news of importance on the subject has been received from Russian official sources.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard says he is informed that the czar received a telegram to the effect that the Japanese had been bombarding Vladivostock all day Monday. The telegram adds that one or two of the Japanese cruisers were sunk.

Nothing definite has been received here concerning the Russian Vladivostock squadron. Nothing has been received to confirm the statement that the Russians are maltreating Koreans who turned upon them and drove them across the Yalu river.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Seoul says that the perfect of Sioung-chun, fifteen miles south of Wiju, reports that 600 Russians there have accumulated stores and ammunition for twenty thousand troops, who have crossed the Yalu river and who are expected at Yong Chunn shortly.

So far as can be ascertained nothing is happening at Port Arthur except the daily puzzle of civilians to obtain food, for which, it is stated, prodigious prices are demanded. Vegetables cannot be obtained at all.

A dispatch to the Express from Aden states that the Russians have a secret coal supply at the Island of Jebelzukur, whence their warships in the Red Sea obtain fuel. A large collier, probably several, is concealed in the inlet behind the islands.

Another version of the alleged attempt to blow up a bridge across the Volga, which yesterday was attributed to Japanese disguised as Tatars, says that the Japanese were disguised as nuns.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Ping Yang says that 2,000 Russian cavalry with seven guns, retreated March 2 through Kurong and Soncheon towards Wiju. They destroyed telegraph wires and poles.

The correspondent of the Mail at Ying Kow says that the Russians deny that any Russian ships were lost or damaged in the last engagement at Port Arthur. They produced proofs which satisfied the correspondent that their statements were correct. They also deny that the Russians have occupied Simminting, either the town, railway or telegraph. Only Cossack patrols have been occasionally visiting the town to reconnoitre. The director of the Chinese telegraphs confirms the last statement.

A dispatch to the Telegraph from Tokio says that the British cruiser Talbot has left Gensan to bring the missionaries from Song Chiu. It adds that Koreans are hostile to the Russians.

It is reported that there are signs of ice at Vladivostock breaking up.

A dispatch to the Chronicle from Harbin says that General Sakaroff, commanding the first corps, arrived here Sunday. Troops continue to pass through the town going south. The railway is working with remarkable regularity and without accident. Men, animals and material are huddled together in the cars, each of which is supplied with a stove. The people at Vladivostock believe the place is impregnable. There is an ample supply of food in the town.

A dispatch to the Times from Tokio says that a Japan squadron took possession of Haiyangtso Island February 29, but found only stores of coal, the Russians having evacuated February 23. Russian troops continue to move south from Posselt bay towards Song Chiu. The Vladivostock squadron is apparently covering the communications at Vladivostock.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be ward off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith, of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by S. R. Biggs.

Pitt County at the Exposition

In the tobacco exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition the Greenville market will have a creditable place. Some weeks ago Mr. T. K. Burner, secretary of the Board of Agriculture of North Carolina and special commissioner of the tobacco exhibit for the United States at the St. Louis Exposition, came to Greenville in the interest of the North Carolina exhibit. As a result of his visit a meeting of the tobacco board of trade was called and committees were appointed by the president to raise a fund of two hundred dollars and to get up samples of tobacco, etc., for the purpose of making an exhibit.

These committees completed their work last week and on Saturday morning the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. M. A. Allen, sent his check for $200 to the state treasurer, together with the samples etc., that will constitute Greenville's part of the North Carolina tobacco exhibit at the world's fair. If every tobacco market in the state will do as well as Greenville has done, tobaccoist from the old North State visiting the exposition will have no cause to be ashamed of their state.—Greenville Reflector.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by S. R. Biggs.

A Puzzle Worth Having

Dr. G. G. Green, of Woodbury, New Jersey, whose advertisement appears in this paper regularly, will mail to any one sending a two-cent stamp to pay postage, one of his new German Syrup and August Flower Puzzles, made of wood and glass. It amuses and perplexes young and old. Although very difficult, it can be mastered. Mention this paper.
