VOL. VI. - NO 18.

WILLIAMSTON, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1905.

WHOLE NO. 278

DIRECTORY

Town Officers

Mayor—Joshua L. Ewell. Cammissioners—Dr. J. B. H. Kni S. Peel, Dr. J. D. Biggs, A. Has

S. Peel. Clerk—A. Hassell.

casurer—N. S. Peel. torney—Wheeler Martin. nief of Police—J. H. Page.

Services on the second and fifth Sunsys of the month, morning and evening and on the Saturdays (5 p. m.) before and on Mondays (9 a. m.) after said Sunsys of the month. All are cordially inited.

B. S. Lassithe, Rector.

Methodist Church

Rev. R. R. Rose, the Methodist Pasor, has the following appointments.
Svery Sunday morning at II o'clock and hight at 7,0'clock respectively, except the second Sunday. Sunday School very Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.
Trayer meeting every Wednesday evenng at 7 o'clock. Holly Springs 3rd tanday evening at 3 o'clock; Vernon 1st tanday evening at 3 o'clock; Hamilton and Sunday, morning and night; Hassella mid Sunday at 5 o'clock. A cordial initation to all to attend these services?

Rentiet Church

Baptist Church

lays at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting every Thursday night at 7:30 Sunday School every Sunday, morning at 3:30. J. D. Biggs, Superintendent.

Sunday School every Sunday, morning at 9:30. J. D. Biggs, Superintendent.

The pastor preaches at Hamilton on the 3rd Sunday in each month, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., and at Riddick's Grove on Saturday before every 1st Sunday at 11 a. m., and on the 1st Sunday at 3 p. m., and the Biggs' School House on the 2nd Sunday at 3 p. m., and the Biggs' School House on the 4th Sunday at 3 p. m. Everybody cordially invited.

R. D. CARROLL, Pastor,

R D. CARROLL, Pastor.

SKEWARKEE LODGE

S. S. Brown, W. M.; W.C Manning, S. W.; Mc. G. Taylor, J. W.; T. W. Thomas, S. D.; A. F. Taylor, J.D; S. R. Biggs, Secretary; C. D. Carstarphen, Treasurer; A. E. Whitmore and T.C.Cook, Stewards; R. W. Clary, Tiler.

STANDING COMMITTERS:

CHARITY-S. S. Brown, W. C. Man-ing, Mc. G. Taylor. FINANCE-Jos. D. Eiggs, W. H. Har-

FINANCE—Jos. D. Siggs, W. H. Har II, R. J. Feel. REPRENCE—W. H. Edwards, W. M. Freen, F. K. Hodges. ASYLUM—H. W. Stubbs, W. H. Rob rison, H. D. Cook. MARSHALL—I. H. Hatton.

Professional Cards.

DRIJOHN D BIGGS

DENTIST

W H HARRELL WM. E. WARRE

DRS. HARRELL & WARREN PHYSICIANS

AND SURGEONS DOMICE IN

SIGOS PRUG STORE

¥ 1 29.

PRO TOR WITE

To a a v 230 + 10 AS 25

AND LIES THE PARTY OF CAMPACE S BARBELL

· IT RHEYS AT LAW Back on ting, Williamston, N. C. STATE OF SEVEL LAWYER

Brookmere

Treasures of when she's in a good humor."

"That is to say when the Beveridge thing is around," Jessamine said, with a shrug. "She is in a wax—she always is when you come—and she feels in her bones when you are coming."

"H-m-m! I ought to be flattered, but I'm not the least bit." Austin answered, also rising and catching Jessamine's hand. She looked aghast, but he kept sturdily at her side until they were facing Jessamine's dragon. Then he said, with his best flourish: "Oh. Madam Brookmere, I have brought this young person to tell you why she can't possibly come in. She is to go rowing with me. We will be back by late tes time. The afternoon is too heavenly to be wasted on land."

"Jessamine, go upstairs and fetch my embroidery. Be sure you don't forget my glasses," madam said, as though the young man had not spoken, Jessamine made to obey, but Willsheid her back. He lifted his hat to the elder lady, turned and walked off, saying over his shoulder. "Send the maid up, madam. It's bad luck to turn back. I can't allow Miss Jessamine to risk spoiling our cruise."

"Oh, what will she do to me?" Jessamine cried as they hurried away. Madam had been too paralyzed by Wills' audacity to say a word. Austin drew Jessamine's hand farther over his arm and smiled down at her, saying: "I hope it will be 'Out of my house, ingrate!" Then, you see, you will have to come-to my house whether or no."

"Mercy, you do take a lot on your-

"Mercy, you do take a lot on your-self!" Jessamine said, pulling away her hand, her eyes dancing wickedly. "I begin to fear, Mr. Wills, that you have

"Inn't it to be taken seriously"—
"Ian't it to be taken seriously? Really you lift a weight off my conscience," Wills interrupted in her own tone; then, after a chuckle: "Jess, I must lecture you—point out the sinful folly of your course. Here you might be, by taking pains and showing yourself properly. course. Here you might be, by taking pains and showing yourself properly devout and submissive, Mrs. Beveridge—possibly Mrs. Bishop Beveridge—I really believe the gentieman has it in him to go high ecclesiastically, he's so suave and silken, just the sort to worm himself into the minds of rich churchmen, not to mention their check books. Yet you are passing him up—passing up the chance of a lifetime—for the sake of"— "A very commonplace sinner," Jessa-mine broke in.

Wills gave her a look of pained sur-prise. "I was going to say 'for the sake of having your own willful way,'" he protested.

It was early afternoon, and the long, amooth river reach, fiecked with sun and shade, mirrored perfectly the summer world either side. Jessamine hung over the boat side, staring at her own image. Austin watched her with happy eyes, but after a little he drew her upright, saying softly: "Vanity, thy name is Jessamine. I can't have another case of Narcissus and his image upon my conscience."

upon my conscience."

"Really! Have you a conse Jessamine retorted.

"Pirates even have consceinces ome things," Austin answered, ship-over, we owe madam a certain duty.

We can only discharge it by meeting guile with guile. That means, in plain English, you have got to turn from your evil way of preferring my company and smile instead upon the bishop path."

"Ob, Mr. Beveridge," Jessimine call ed eagerly, "do come and pick some flowers for me. I want to pick then myself, but I find I am a prisoner," with a withering glance at Wills.

Beveridge ran down to the water's edge. "Won't you let me rescue you? he cried, holding out his hand. "Jump I promise you shall get nothing worse than a pair of wet feet by it."
"She needn't have even them," Wills than a pair of wet feet by it."

"She needn't have even them," Wills said boorishly. "If you'll agree to see her to the house I'll be glad enough to put her ashore. Not in the humor for walking myself and still less for botanising."

walking myself and still less for botanising."

Half an bour later Mrs. Brookmere was surprised and, if truth must be spoken, not wholly pleased to see Jessamine sauntering home, her hands full of scarlet bloom, with the Rev. Bewly Beverldge at her elbow. Now the minister had been madam's own companion all through the earlier afternoon, and, though he had not said muchquite too little to make madam aware of her own state of mind—he had look ed unutterably things. She had found the looking pleasant—she was of the women made to be married, childless, although she had buried three husbands, and still possessed of an alert and lively vanity. She liked to see her name at the head of lists of patroniesses, especially missionary and rescue bands. Further, flattery was meat her soul loved to feed on. The Rev. Bewly had found that out at about the second minute and acted upon the knowledge. Indeed, his mind was pretty well made up to marry her before the interview ended. But then he had not seen Jessamine in this mood. Jessamine upset his calculations: she fairly swept him samine in this mood. Jessamine this calculations; she fairly swept Madam was sadly pussled throughout the next week. Wills haunted the house as much as ever, though Jessamine openly flouted him, at the same time amiling shy propitiation at the bishop to be. He also was in a mase Jessamine's encouragement was too bishop to be. He also was in a maxe. Jessamine's encouragement was too elusive to warrant giving over his pursuit of madam, yet sufficiently unsettling to make him at times distrait. Wills giared at him and ostentatiously ignored him. It was that which gave him the strongest hope. Wills must be jealous—madly jealous. If only Beveridge had never begun to court that old woman! She was in the beginning eager to play fairy godmother. ginning eager to play fairy godmother. It was sickening to feel that he had disturbed this plous purpose, making the lady feel that she was not too old.

disturbed this plous purpose, making the lady feel that she was not too old to inspire grand passion number four. Presently he began to see light. He would have it out with Jessamine—ask her plumply to be Mrs. Beveridge, and, if she said "yes," go to madam for her blessing, along with an apocryphal tale of a distant wooer ready to sue for her hand. He could make it appear he had been finding out her mind toward a fourth marriage. It would go hard with him, but that somewhere he would find a man to make good. Indeed, providentially he already knew the man—a college president, poor and plous, entitled to write half the alphabet after his name in honorary distinctions, with children all safely married, and much in want of a good home. So he went straight to Jessamine, begging her to sing to him. The music room was at the very end of the house, thus well apart. There was small chance of interruption. All the rest were busy with games or flirting or walking in the flower garden under a white moon. Jessamine went with him, walking high headed and joyous. At the door of the parlors she waved him forward. with games or firting or walking in the flower garden under a white moon, plan is oare and letting the boat drift toward the other bank. "For example, it goes against their consciences to let treasure manifestly within reach go to some other fellow. That other pirate, Beveridge, shan't have the treasure of Brookmere."

"What is the treasure of Brookmere?" Jesamine asked demurely. "How much is it worth? And how are you going to save it from clerical clutches?"

"Let me see. I believe the Brookmere rating is about three millioha," Austin answered reflectively, but with a twinkile of the eye, "handy millions at that," he went on, "all in gilt edged securities. If you were more than a baby, Jess, you would see a little beyond the end of your nose. Blabopto-be Beveridge did want you—in fact, he still wants you, being a man of taste, for all his sins."

"Thanks!" Jessamine interrupted. Wills shoot his bead at her.

"Thanks!" Jessamine interrupted. Wills shoot his bead at her.

"Thanks!" Jessamine cried, arghast.

Wills nodded. "That's his present laudable aim. Therefore he would like nothing better than to have us openly defy madam. Our elopement would be a trump card for him. Now, although we are not mercenary, neither are we destitute of common prudence. Three millions, or even one or two, might come in handy a heap of times. Moreover, we owe madam a certain duty. We can-only ducharge it by meeting guile with guile. That means, in plain English, you have got to turn from your evil way of preferring ny compa-world."

"H.m.m! You've been trying to do it for a very moderate part of the money." grandmother said, stepping through the French window upon Austin Wills' arm. After one look at her the Rev. Bewly Beveridge stepped out through the same window. He knew the treasures of Brookmere were wholly lost to him, no matter how they were reskoued.

DESIGNING A HEAD.

the composition of a picture, and indeed the result was unmistakably picturesque.

"Customers caused to be interested in their own hair," says Mr. Menpes of Whistier's entrance into a barber's shop. "Operators stopped their manipulations; every one turned to watch Whistier, who himself was supremely unconscious. His hair was first trimmed, but left rather long, Whistier meanwhile directing the cutting of every lock as he watched the barber in the glass. He, poor fellow, only toe conscious of the delicacy of his task, shook and trembled as he manipulated
the scissors. The clipping completed, Whistier wavest the operators imperiously on one side, and we observed for some time the rear view of his dapper little figure, stepping backward and forward, surveying himself in the glass. Suddenly he put his head into a basin of water, and then, half drying his hair, shook lights matted wet curis.
With a comb he carefully picked out the white lock, wrapped it in a towel and walked about for five minutes, pinching it dry, with the rest of his hair hanging over his face—a stage which much amused the onlookers.

"Still pinching the towel, he would then beat the rest of his hair into ringlets (combing would not have given them the right quality) until they fell linto decorative waves all over his head.
A loud acream would then rend the air. Whistler wanted a comb. This procured, he would comb the white lock into a feathery plume and with a few broad movements of his hand form the whole into a picture. Then he would look beamingly at himself in the glass and say but two words, 'Menpes, amaxing!' and sail triumphantly out of the shop."

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

A great many people tell not the way a thing is, but the way they would like-to have it. To win in this world you must have more confidence in yourself than you more confidence in yourself than you really amount to.

Here is the mark of one whe boards:
Search him, and you will find some thing to eat in his pockets.

when you attend a circus turning a somereault looks easy, and when you attend a lacture talking in public looks easy.—Atchison Globs.

Fractice Verses Preaching.
"You kin help de cause of honesty heap," said Uncle Rhen, "by preachin about it, but you kin help it a heat mo' by not danglin' roaw shicken unde a hungry man's nose."—Washington

A man is not going to get a crewn of rightecumens just because he gives some poor fellow his old straw hat along about Newsmbut—Chicago Trib-me.

Caused by Constipation 80

THE CURVED BALL.

matter:

"The pitcher in the field tells us that the ball curves because he gives it a twist, but scientifically this will not do. Why will the twist make the curve! If a ball were thrown in a certain direction and if the force of gravitation were not at work the ball would continue on in a straight line forever. Some force of resistance is then at work when a ball is made to deviate in a curve from its straight course. If

Some force of resistance is then at work when a ball is made to deviate in a curve from its straight course. If a feather is dropped in a vacuum in an axhausted receiver of an air pump it will drop like a shot, but if it is dropped out in the air it will go down irregularly and slowly, shifting from side to side.

"It is the atmosphere which causes the ball to curve. Bearing in mind that the atmosphere is a compressible, a clastic gas, we find that when the ball leaves the hand of the pitcher with a rapid rotary motion it 'impinges upon a continuous elastic cushion,' and this moderate resistance, or friction, changes its course in the direction which is given to the rotary motion. Take an outshoot of a right handed pitcher, for instance. He impresses upon the ball a rapid centrifugal retary motion to the left, and the ball goes to the left because the atmosphere, compressible and elastic, in nacked tone. any motion to the left, and the ball goes to the left because the atmosphere, compressible and elastic, is packed into an elastic cushion just ahead of the ball by the swift forward and rotary motion, and the friction, which is very great in front of the ball, steers it in

A NOTABLE MEETING.

The first recorded public meeting in the interest of "woman's rights" was held in the town of Medford, Mass., in held in the town of Medford, Mass., is 1701. The gallery of the church was occupied by the young unmarried people of the congregation, one side and one half the front gallery being given to the young men, the other side and the other half being given to the young women. But in the seating in this eventful year the young men were given the entire front of the gallery as Well, and the young women were only allowed one side of the gallery.

Then it was that things began to happen. Treatment like this wasn't to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the happen. Treatment like this wasn't to be tolerated even for a moment. The blood of the future mothers of the Revolution was fully aroused, and the young women made such an uproar and commotion that it speedily became a town matter, and a town meeting was called to restore to them their rights in half of the front gallery. The young men of the day were bit terly opposed to extending any new privileges to women, and the fight extended beyond Medford. Shortly after the introduction of "pues" into the churches, by which families were separated from the remainder of the congregation, the selectmen of the town arated from the remainder of the congregation, the selectmen of the town of Newbury gave permission to a group of young women to build a "pue" in the gallery of the church upon their swn aide of the house. This extension of privilege was resented by the young bachelors to such a degree that they broke a window of the church, forced an entrance and hacked the pew in pieces. For this act of sacrilege the young men of Newbury were fined $10 such and sentenced to be whipped or pillorled. But they were manly enough Lawyer (to witness)—Never mind what you think. We want facts here. Tell us where you first met this man. Woman Witness—Can't answer it. If the court doesn't care to hear what I think there's no use questioning me. for I am not a lawyer and can't talk without thinking.—Boston Commercial sections are the section of the part of their punishment was an interest to such a degree that they broke a window of the church, forced an entrance and backed the pew in places. For this act of sacrlege the young men of Newbury were fined $10 section and sentenced to be whipped or confess their folly and ask pardon this part of their punishment was an interest to such a degree that they have a mindow of the church, forced an entrance and backed the pew in places. For this act of sacrlege the process of the pew in places. For this act of sacrlege the pound in the process of the pew in places. For this act of sacrlege the pound in the process of the process of the pew in places. For this act of sacrlege the pound in the process of nitted. So you rights" movement isn't a modern one.-Boston Herald.

> Getting His Punishment. Barnes-One has to suffer in this life for his sins even though he forsake Howes-Yes, Bingle's wife marrie

Subscribe for THE ENTERPRISE One Dollar a real.

Thousands have used this reliable remedy with perfect confidence and success for 62 years, because they know just what it contains.

The formula consists of Buchu, Hydranges, Mandrake, Yellow Dock, Dandelion, Sarasparilla, Gentian, Senna and Iodide of Potassium.

Any doctor or druggist will tell you that this is a scientific and reliable combination of great merit for all diseases having their origin in the Liver, Lidneys or Blood? After years of experience and patient experiment, Br. Thacker so perfected the process of manufacture, that it never fails to bring the expected relief when taken according to directions.

Thousands of sick ones to whom life has been a burden have written grateful letters of thanks.

"I have asfered greatly with indigestion, constipation, also a a were liver trouble, with loss of appetite. Could not rest well at night; in fact, had no energy to work or even with around. I felt like I was sacking a heavy load and, was castly exhausted, until 1 tool Dr. Thacker's Liver and Slood Syrup, which helped me almost from the first doct. What I had taken was and one-helf sortles I let like a different man, and I knew that particularly event. At this time my appetite is good, I steep well, and feel strong and affected on arising in the mering."

If you and a mandelion write to-day for a Prec sample battle and of Dr. Thacker's Liver have which the deficient of the desired writes and $2.00. Thanks are sensely battle and of Dr. Thanks Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Toma.

DR. THAOHER'S

Liver and Blood

=Syrup=

QURES BY REMOVING THE CAUSE

A THREE-POLD REMEDY for all life due to femo-tional troubles. Acts on the Liver and Kidaeys and Purifies the Bleed.

"What," I exclaimed in Berlin, "a there no poor in this city? Are you al together without rags and wretched winking a heavy eyelid, "we are a very elever people. We do not show our

It has its wretchedn out these things are not permitted to increase. To be out of work in Berlin increase. To be out of work in Berili is a crime, even as it is in London, bu with this difference—in Berlin the mu nicipality legislates for labor in a fash ion which makes idleness all but inde fensible.

feasible.

The laws to this end may not commend themselves to English minds, for the Germans are not soft hearted in such matters, but they have this engaging recommendation, they succeed.

Let a ragged man make his appearance in Friedrichstrasse or the Lindens nan make his appear astrasse or the Linden or in any of the numerous open space and a policeman is at him n a min-ute. "Your papers!" demands the man of law. The beggar produces his docu-ments. If it is proved that he has slept in the asylum for the homeless more than a certain number of nights he is forthwith conducted will will.

Now, the workhouse in Germany is not a prison, but the vagrant would a leave go to the one as to the other The administration of the workhouse Berlin takes advantage of the ave known to the police from the bour of his birth to the hour of his death. Set a few pfennigs I can read the history of every person in Berlin. Therefore the municipality has an easy task. Every citizen's life story is known by them, and every vagrant is punishe for his crime against the community.

Moreover, every person of humble means is insured by the state. Even clerks, shop assistants and servants are compelled to insure against sickness and against old age. This insurance is effected by the pasting into a book of certain stamps every week. book of certain stamps every week and it is the duty of each employer to see that this contract is faithfully obeyed. And the state has at Beelita an enormous sanitarium costing 10, 000,000 marks (£500,000), where the invalided citizen is sent with his per ion in order to expedite his valuable return to the ranks of the wage earn-ers. It pays the city of Berlin to nurse its sick and cherish its invalids. The whole object of the municipality is to whole object of the municipality is to secure the physical and intellectual well being of its citizens, and on this task it concentrates its labors with amazing energy.

Berlin has a huge building resem bling a factory where the unemployed whole families, are received and provided for, but no one must take advan tage of this hospitality more than five times in three months. Consider this point of view. If you are homeless five times in three months you are dubbed a reckless creature and nt was the workhouse. Private enterprise has provided another asylum where the homeless may come five times in one month and where the police are not al-lowed to enter at night. I have visited this place and seen the people who at this place and seen the people who at tend it, some decent enough, others criminal in every line of their faces. There are many of these desperate men in Berlin, many of these dirty. men in Berlin, many of these dirty, ragged and unhappy wretches, doomed from the day of their birth, but they dare not show themselves in the decent world as they do in London. They slink into these asylums at 5 o'clock; they have their clothes disinfected; they cleanse themselves under shower between the control of the state of the control of the state of the control of the con baths; they eat bread and drink soup and then they go to bed at 8 o'clock like prisoners to their cells.

Now, this system is a hard one, for when once a man gets down in Berlin it is almost impossible for him to rise. But it has this clear advantage-every body feels that it is better to worsthan to fall into the hands of the law.

Rags and misery dare not lie about in the parks or scatter disease through the crowded streets. If there is any virtue in the unemployed the state wil sible to do so. There is a central be reau for providing men with work, and when a man knows that not to work means the workhouse he solicits em ployment here and elsewhere with such a will as almost compels wages. In one year the state has secured employment for 50,000 men.

The citizen is provided with sanitary dwellings, with unadulterated food with schools and technical colleges and with insurance for sickness and old age. For a penny he can travel almost from one and of Sariin to the other by age. For a penny he can travel almost from one end of Berlin to the other by electric tramway or electric railway. His streets are clean, brilliantly lighted and noiseless; his cafes and music halls are innumerable. He lives in a palace. And all this is the result of municipal government by experts in stead of by amateurs.—London Mail.

THE POOR OF BERLIN HOW THEY ARE SUPERVISED BY THE CITY AUTHORITIES.

"My dear friend," said the Berlin is ruled by munic

he is forthwith conducted, willynilly, to the workhouse and made to labor for his board and lodging.

is conducted with iron severity. Ev-ery ounce of bread and every drop of thin soup consumed by the workhouse man is paid for a thousandfold by the man is paid for a thousandfold by the sweat of his brow. So it comes about that the man least disposed to work, the born vagabond, finds it more agreeable to toil for his bread in the market than to fall into the hands of paternal government.

em in Germany which numbers an and. No man can roam from distric ife's story with every flitting. He is

MATTER OF HEALTH HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

Williamston Telephone Co.

Office over Bank of Martin County, WILLIAMSTON, N. C.

Phone Charges

essages limited to 5 minutes; extra charge will positively be made for longer time.

o Washington Greenville Plymouth Tarboro Rocky Mou Scotland Neck Jamesville Kader Lilley's J. G. Staton L. Woolard

O. K. Cowing & Co. Parmele Robersonville Everetts Gold Point Geo. P. McNaughton

For other points in Eastern Carolin e "Central" where a 'phone and for use of non-subscribers

In Gase of Fire

you want to be protected to leave your family something to live on. In case of accident you want something to live on besides

Let Us Come to Your Rescue

We can insure you against

Fire, Death and Accident. We can insure your Boiler, Plate Glass Burg-lary. We also can bond

you for any office requir-None, But Best Companies Represented

K. B. GRAWFORD

INSURANCE AGENT. Godard

AGENTS EXCLUSIVE CHRIST IN THE C

BY DR. J. WILLIAM JOS AGENTS REPORTS N. C.—"Worked one day, received 1 Ala.—"Received Pros. 1 o'clock; sol. Va.—"Sold 14 in 12 hours." L. P. S Taxas—"Worked one day, got 12 ore THE MARTIN & HOYT CO., Atlanta

WANTED NVENTORS to write for our confidential letter be plying for patent; it may be worth We promptly obtain U. S. and Foreign PATENT TRADE MARKS of TIRE attorney's fee. Send or photo and we send an live FREE report on patentable best legal service and subaryes are moderate. True

Opp. U.S. Patent Office, Washi

UBSCRIBE TO THE ENTERPRIS $1.00 a year,

SWIFT & C