

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

Corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail, Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A NEW ITALIAN BRIGAND.

Signor Melandri Has Already Held Half a Dozen Men for Ransom. Italy begins to ring with the exploits of another notorious brigand, not this time in the remote wilds of Sicily, but close to the very heart of the monarchy, in the Romagna itself. The name of the bandit is Melandri, the region around Ravenna. A reward of £120 is already offered for his capture but if matters develop as they have done only a few months will be needed for at least trebling the amount. A whole army of carabinieri are in the district, but so far Melandri has eluded all pursuit, though his crimes continue. He seems to nourish a particular enmity against the country clergy, of whom he has already held half a dozen as ransom.—London Globe.

Jefferson Davis' Silver Doll.—When Jefferson Davis was captured, nine silver dollars were found upon him. They were given to W. C. McCoy, an engraver, to be marked as souvenirs. For his work one of them was given to him. He engraved it with his son's name and gave it to him. The coin was found in the till of F. C. Richter, a merchant at Columbus, O., and an advertisement brought knowledge of it to its owner, William McCoy of Pittsburg, Penn., to whom it has been sent. It was lost or stolen 33 years ago.

King Edward's Indian Clock. King Edward has a clock which was found in India, and was said to have been made by a high priest. It showed the hours in Sanscrit figures, the changes of the moon, and so on. Some years after the internals went wrong, and the royal clock maker was hidden to exercise his skill upon it. The works all bore the trademark of a well-known Clerkenwell firm.

SELECTIONS.

Sew it goes—thread.
An interesting word—"percentage."
A distinct success—clear enunciation.
A deaf and dumb excursion goes without saying.
A life sentence—"From the cradle to the grave."
The ocean of life has many people who are fishing for compliments.
In a sketch, the two bitterest enemies may be drawn together.

The unconscious seamstress is not all so unconscious.

People in a standing argument often occupy the seat of discord.

No man is a fool who is wise enough to recognize his own folly.

If a clock could speak, it would not say, "Unhand me!"

When the tripler crosses the ocean he wants to be a "saloon" passenger.

Fate is to blame for many things, but not for originating the expression, "Well, I'll be blamed!"

During fly-time the dining-room and kitchen are both drawing rooms.

The glazier has to defer to the optician when it comes to the windows of the soul.

A Reliable Timepiece. The most exact timekeeper in the world is the electric clock in the Berlin observatory. It is inclosed in an airtight glass cylinder, and has frequently run for periods of two or three months with an average daily deviation of only 15 one-thousandths of a second. It has been running since 1865.

A Famous Punster. Canon Melville, who died in England recently, in his 92nd year, owed his earliest promotion to a pun. When Dr. Melville sufficiently to remember that his Christian name was "David," and a living at his disposal he received a letter containing only the words, "Lord, remember David." The earl's reply was no less terse and scriptural: "Thou art the man!"

Continental Currency. The illustrated history of the U. S. mint gives facsimile reproduction of continental currency in such sums as $5, $7, $10 and $25. The $30 bill is dated Sept. 26, 1778; the $65 bill bears date of Jan. 14, 1778. There is a state of Georgia $3 bill, no date, and a $10, dated 1817.

Has Never Been Shaved. Senator Stewart of Nevada began at 16 to grow the full beard from which time and evolution have brought his present silvery crop of whiskers. He has never been shaved.

Length of Niagara River. The Niagara river is 36 miles long, 22 from lake Erie to the falls, and 14 from the falls to lake Ontario. Goat island contains 61 acres.

A Unique Record. Nathaniel Milliken of Buxton, Me., aged 8, holds a record of having participated in 69 annual town meetings.

A Chicken Curiosity. A chicken having three eyes and a double bill was hatched recently at Torrington, Conn.

Pineales contains the antiseptic properties of the native pine, and is a sure cure sunburn tan, tetter, eczema and all other skin diseases. Heals a sore, cut or burn without a scar. "Sold by All Dealers."

One dose of Pineules taken at bedtime will entirely relieve the most obstinate case of backache before morning. Pineules is a certain cure for all kidney and bladder troubles. "Sold by All Dealers."

ELABORATE TITLES IN GERMANY.

No Room for Anything Else on Address Side of Postal Card. It was the French postoffice that first allowed a communication to be written on half of the address side of a picture postal card, and England, Russia and Italy very quickly followed suit. Only Germany of the European nations remains obstinate and refuses to allow the address and the message to appear on the same side. But there is said to be reason for this obscurity in the habit the Germans have of covering even the most ordinary people with long titles, so that there is no room for anything else on one side of a card. For example: "Hochwohlgeborene Frau Schneider Oberchosteinfeigerswittwe." In this country it would be "Mrs. Schneider, Chicago."

426,000,000 People in China. There has always been much curiosity as well as much diversity of opinion, about the population of China. The latest estimate is based upon a census taken by order of the imperial government, for the purpose of reassessing taxes. It gives to China proper, including the 18 provinces, 407,737,325 people. Manchuria is credited with 3,500,000. Mongolia with 3,254,000. Tibet with 6,430,000 and Chinese Turkestan with 426,000, making a grand total of 426,447,325.

Oneida Community. The Oneida community is to-day in existence in the form of a joint stock company at Oneida, Madison county, N. Y. The system of "complex marriage" and some communistic features of the original social science formulated by founder Noyes have been given up. The company has considerable property and business, including many estates at Kenwood, Sherrill, Niagara Falls N. Y., and Niagara Falls, Ont.

Maine, Home of Statesmen. Kennebec county, Me., has since 1820, furnished 10 governors, eight U. S. senators, 10 national representatives, 14 secretaries of state, 6 state treasurers, three attorney generals, six presidents of the state senate. 11 speakers of the house, three cabinet officials and one speaker of the national house.

Products of United States. Only one book on geography was used in the Spanish schools at Manila. This was a small volume, printed in Barcelona, and only two pages are devoted to the United States. This brief description closes with the assurance that "the most conspicuous products of the United States are millionaires, advertisements and eccentricities."

Scandinavian Business. In Norway and Sweden the only thing for a creditor to do is send in his claims and make sure that the same are recognized. After this has been done he has the right to refuse to accept the propositions offered by the bankrupt and can insist upon court proceedings in case he believes the bankruptcy was brought about with dishonest intentions.

Makes Alcohol From Sawdust. A Norwegian chemist has discovered a new and cheap process for making alcohol from sawdust. Sawdust is treated under pressure with diluted sulphuric acid by which the cellulose is transformed into sugar which by adding fermentation producers is converted into alcohol in the old manner and then distilled.

Results of Peace and War. Herbert Spencer said: "In efforts toward ethical culture there is constantly overlooked the one effort more important than all others—the effort to suppress militancy. Abundant proof exists that with war come all the vices and with peace come all the virtues."

World's Most Crooked River. Hitherto the Jordan has been accounted the most crooked stream in the world. But it can not compare with White River, Arkansas which travels 1,000 miles in traversing a distance of 30 miles as the crow flies.

United States Mail Service. The United States employs 10,555 men in distributing mail in a year. The cost, distributed among 1,400 lines, is $63,594,000. In 373 accidents to mail cars 18 clerks were killed and 78 seriously injured in a year.

Algerian Corn Grinders. In Algeria the grinding of corn is done by women as in the old Bible times. A portable handmill is used for the purpose, which during the wanderings of the tribe is strapped to a camel or donkey.

Colorado's Cantaloupe Farm. The largest cantaloupe farm in the world is near Greeley, Col. It embraces 2,000 acres. Hitherto cantaloupes raising in Colorado has been mostly confined to the famous Rocky Ford District in the Arkansas valley.

In Mourning, Won't Drink Milk. An Arabian woman who is in mourning for a near relative abstains from drinking milk for eight days, on the theory that the color of the liquid does not harmonize with her mental form.

Russians and Japs at School. Japan, with her 47,000,000 population, has 4,302,625 pupils in her elementary schools or 91 in every 1,000; while Russia, with 130,000,000 population, has only 4,193,594, or 32 in every 1,000.

Originated "Early-Rose" Potatoes. Albert Breesee of Hubbardston, Vt., who died recently, was the originator and promoter of the famous "early rose" potato, which has had a continuous popularity for over 30 years.

All old time cough syrups were designed to treat throat, lung and bronchial affections without due regard for the stomach and bowels, hence most of them produce constipation. Bee's, the original Laxative Honey and Tar, gently moves the bowels and cures all coughs, colds, croup, etc. Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar is the original Laxative Cough Syrup. Look for the letter B in red on every package. "Sold by All Dealers."

SERBIA UNDER KING PETER

Present Ruler Slave of Tyrants and Murderers.

NO PUBLIC SECURITY

The Unhappy Country Has Only Exchanged a Benevolent Autocrat for a Timorous Tyrant—Vowed to Establish a Liberal Government for His Subjects.

Nations, like individuals, must suffer the consequences of their sins, and few will be found to lament the swift retribution which has overtaken Serbia since she acquiesced in the murder of her sovereign.

While the mangled corpses of Alexander and Draga lay gaping in the Konak garden, drunken leutenants brazenly dripping swords in the streets and cried aloud: "The tyrant has fallen!" When Red Peter took the Orient express, he carried with him translations of Mill's "Liberty" for distribution among his new subjects and vowed to establish all Mill's counsels of perfection.

But Serbia has only exchanged a benevolent autocrat for a timorous tyrant, who is himself the abject slave of murderers and cowards. Not only are electors coerced, parliaments intimidated, judges overawed, newspapers suppressed, correspondents expelled, but there is no longer even liberty of conscience; private judgment and public opinion have been equally discredited.

Public security is quickly passing into a memory. Petty tyrants have arisen in every village and lay hands suddenly on private enemies, exacting are committed by favor of murderers in office, mysterious crimes pass by unpunished. The best men in the land are hurrying across the Save to penny and exile; others take to the hills as their forefathers did in bad old times, which after all were no worse than the new.

National, even municipal, credit has passed away, though the country's potential wealth is as great as ever. Public contractors refuse to deliver their wares except for cash. The cuckoo king himself cannot obtain credit for the new crown, to wear for which he sold his honor.

From this chaos her miserable King is incapable of retrieving her. He began with a light heart distributing volumes of "Liberty," talking platitudes about freedom and progress and strolling about the streets incognito, a Haroun-al-Raschid in a plumed hat. Now a change has come over the spirit of his nightmare and he hangs himself in terror, shivering in his bedroom among Swiss guards and keeping a rope ladder outside of his window to facilitate the expected flight.

Our only surprise is that Red Peter has lasted so long. The usual refuge of discredited monarchs is to provoke an unjust war, and no doubt his Majesty has considered the propriety of a raid upon his neighbors.

With an empty treasury, with no arms or ammunition, a declaration of war by Serbia would only precipitate the inevitable catastrophe. The termination of Peter's melancholy reign would disturb nobody in or outside Serbia. So Peter has now betthought himself of an expedient which is only one degree less dangerous. In his hour of need he is prepared to sacrifice all the aspirations, all the dignity, all the hereditary claims of his country and humbly sue for the protection of her historic foe. He has met Prince Ferdinand at Nish and all the quignones are agog with rumors of an alliance.

It is even asserted that the shrewdest statesman in Europe consents to a treaty whereby Serbia is to help Bulgaria in the event of a Turkish invasion, and Bulgaria is to support Serbia if Austria takes advantage of certain clauses in the Treaty of Berlin. As, however, Bulgaria has already made her own arrangements with Turkey and an invasion is practically out of the question, whereas Austria has obviously made up her mind to advance in the immediate future in the direction of Salonica, the suggested arrangement is, to say the least, one sided.

We should not welcome an Austrian occupation, because we have no great belief in the administrative method of the dual Empire, but as the lesser of two evils we should applaud any invader who removed from the regicidal kingdom the stigma of the great crime and enabled her to hold up her head once more among her fellows.—London Saturday Review.

TACTICS UNDER WATER.

What the Shell Fish do to Protect Themselves From Enemies. Certain species of crabs cover themselves with sea weed in order to deceive their foes. One crab was seen by the naturalist Eisig in 1878 to pluck off zoophytes whose plant-like animal colonies which grow on shells and stones, and to fix them on the spines and hairs of its shell. A still deeper romance of defensive tactics is to be found in the case of certain hermit crabs. They live in the cast-off shells of whelks and crawl about, house on back. One claw is bigger than the other, and this is an adaptive feature, for when the crab retires into its house the bigger claw is tucked across the mouth of the shell to bar the way against a possible intruder. More curious still is the habit of one species which tucks along with a sea anemone fixed to his shell. The hermit carrying the Old Man of the Sea, Great care is taken of this anemone. It is fed by the crab and if the latter has to seek a new shell by reason of his growth he tenderly shifts his tenant off the old abode and places him on the new one.

PENCILINGS.

Life is a game of promise and take. It is easy to begin loading but it's hard to stop.

A hitch in a love affair often prevents a matrimonial affair.

Some men find it easier to dodge an obligation than to meet it.

Fortune is the only knocker that a man likes to see at his door.

Some men think more than they say and some say more than they think.

People who look over the affairs of others are very apt to overlook their own.

Men who imagine the world owes them a living try to collect it a loaf at a time.

If a man is hard on his children he is usually an easy mark for his grandchildren.

The garrulous man never knows enough about any question to put up an interesting argument.

A young married couple's first quarrel usually begins with an argument about how to avoid quarrels.

American Architecture. Some of the private houses of settled and cultured people in Boston, New York, Baltimore and Washington are as good as our best. One of the most refined and dignified of their great homes is the White House. Compared with lawdy oppressive glitter and real vulgarity of some of our palaces the White House is a model of what a home for the President of a great people should be.—C. Ronley, of the Mosely Commission.

New Ideas at Right Time. When a man with ideas complains that he is disregarded, as a crank, he has probably failed to discover that the habits of the world are largely assumed as the result of experience. It is enough to give utterance to new ideas in order that they may become effective when they grow old. Only once in a thousand times does a man hit upon the psychological moment for a revolution. The world cannot be forced, but at the right time it enthusiastically follows an able leader.

A Dull Speaker. Of an eminent English statesman who was a very dull speaker Lord Ashbourne once told this story: "He was making a very dull speech one evening, when I remarked to a member of the cabinet on the dreariness of the performance. 'He is an admirable man,' was the reply. 'I wish we had him.' 'What would you do with him?' 'Do with him? Send him to Ireland of course. He would disperse any unlawful assembly in five minutes.'"

Asphalt in 1838. Asphalt was first used for street pavements in Paris in 1838 and since then the demand for this purpose has warranted an annual production throughout the world of 450,000 to 500,000 metric tons of asphalt and bituminous rock. The consumption in the United States alone in one year was over 250,000 tons, which is equivalent to more than one-half the average production in the world.

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

corrects irregularities and cures Kidney and Bladder diseases in every form, tones up the whole system, and the diseases that have resulted from disordered Kidneys disappear, because the cause has been removed. Commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at the first sign of danger. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes.

Two Sizes, 50 Cents and $1.00.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.
Mr. Robert G. Burke, Elmore, Saratoga Co., N. Y., writes:—I am glad to have an opportunity of telling what magnificent results I have had from using FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE after having tried other advertised medicines and several physicians. Before I began to get up from 12 to 20 times each night to relieve my bladder. I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired that I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. In fact, I was so badly used up that I had given up hope of living when I was urged by a friend to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. One seven-cent bottle worked wonders, and before I had taken the third bottle the superfluous fluid had gone, as well as all other symptoms of kidney trouble. My friends were surprised that I was cured, as they all thought I was going to die. Every few days some one comes from miles away to learn the name of the wonderful medicine that cured me of Bright's Disease, and not one that has tried it has failed to be benefited.
