

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.
Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.
It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.
Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for anything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and one dollar bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Birmingham, N. Y., on every bottle.

Pineules contain the alternative and diuretic properties found in the native pine. A certain cure for all liver, kidney and bladder diseases. A single dose of Pineules will relieve the worst case of backache in one night. "Sold by All Dealers."

A NEW ANAESTHETIC.

It lasts Ninety Minutes and Produces Numbness Only.
"Chlorohydrate of Dimethylamino benzoylpentanol." Such is the awe inspiring title of the latest anaesthetic. In order not to unduly alarm his patients, Dr. Fournau, its French discoverer, has renamed it "Stovaline."
It is injected into the spinal fluid, and within five minutes produces complete anaesthesia in the body below the point of injection. The patient, however, does not lose consciousness. Its effects last for an hour and a half, and no unpleasant results have yet been observed, though it has been tried for some time in more than one Paris-hospital.
English doctors are reluctant to experiment with it. "Once you have injected your 'Stovaline' into the spine," said a prominent F. R. C. S. yesterday, "you have no more control over it, but with gaseous anaesthetics it is possible to stop the administration before the danger point is reached. As the quantity needed of any anaesthetic varies with the individual patient, the importance of this control may be easily realized."
"In addition, there is always a danger of septic poisoning in hypodermic injections, and in this form of injection—into the spinal fluid—the consequences would be most dangerous."—London Mail.

Building up a Flock of Poultry.
Begin by killing every rooster on the place. Then decide upon some breed which will best meet the requirements and purchase from a reliable breeder roosters of this breed getting one cock for every fifteen or twenty hens in the flock. Then buy a setting of eggs of this breed, being careful however to see that these are unrelated to the roosters purchased. Set these eggs under a good mother hen and at the end of a year kill or sell off all the original roosters, replacing them with those resulting from the setting of eggs. At the end of the second year kill or sell the males and repeat the operation each year, never keeping them more than one year and never buying a rooster related to the hens.
Do not forget to kill or dispose of the pullets hatched from the setting of purebred eggs, as they are of course related to the roosters of the same hatch and their retention would defeat the end sought. As rapidly as possible kill or sell off all the original scrub hens and thereafter always dispose of the older members of the flock.

Value of an Education.
The value of a thorough education fitting a young man for his life-work is no longer a debatable question. The recent report of the United States Bureau of Education shows that a boy with a common school education has practically one chance in 9,000 of general recognition as a successful man in some department of human endeavor and usefulness. A high school education increases his chances of such success by about twenty-two times, while a college education gives a young man about ten times the probability of success and advancement possessed by the high school graduate, or about two hundred times the opportunity open to a boy with only a common school education.—Scientific American

Sport in the Alps.
Switzerland is far from being the sportsman's paradise that it once was, but the best of what is left can undoubtedly be procured in the Grisons. There were issued in the canton last year 2,293 shooting licenses, and among the game bagged were 1,178 chamois, 173 buck, 39 stags, 1,887 moorfowl, 110 vultures, 3,561 hares and 4,634 rabbits.

Shotgun For Left Eyed Persons.
A shotgun recently manufactured by a Connecticut firm was a special order for a man who uses his left eye to aim with, the right being sightless. The stock and lower frame of the gun were twisted so that he may shoot without discomfort. The gun is the third made for this man in the last twenty-five years.—Exchange.

At the Hub.
A New Yorker was visiting in Boston. Seeing a parrot in a cage, he asked:
"Does Polly want a cracker?"
"I require no sustenance from you whatever," replied the Back Bay bird, with hauteur.—Yonkers Statesman.

Keep Cheese Covered.
Always keep cheese well covered in a cheese dish, or it will become dry and tasteless. If the cheese is wrapped in a cloth moistened with vinegar it will keep beautifully moist and retain its flavor longer.

Cleaning White Enamel.
Wash it occasionally with warm water and white castile soap, dry it and apply a little whiting with a flannel cloth, slightly dampened. When dry, wipe off the whiting and polish with a soft cloth or chamolam.

Threw Him Over.

PEOPLE OF THE PHILIPPINES.

Their Disposition to Live Near the Coast Line.
In the Philippines the density of population is sixty-seven to the square mile. In the United States it is twenty-six to the square mile. The inhabitants of the Philippines are usually found on or near the coast, except in the island of Luzon, where about half the people live in the two rich valleys in the interior. Only one-seventh of the civilized population live inland, but the wild people are confined almost entirely to the interior.
In the archipelago there are 13,400 barrios, or villages, with the average population of 500 inhabitants. The average size of the barrio varies widely in different provinces. A number of adjacent barrios form a pueblo, or municipal unit, and thus there is practically no rural population. Three-fifths of the population live in villages of less than 1,000 inhabitants and 4 per cent in towns of over 5,000.
There are four towns with a population exceeding 10,000 each and thirty-five with a population exceeding 5,000. Manila is the only incorporated city in the islands and its inhabitants number 219,928.

The Submarine Telephone.
Great things are expected from the submarine telephone by officers of the United States navy. The principles underlying it are very different from those of wireless telegraphy. In the latter the telegraphic impulses are transmitted through the air or ether by electricity. In the submarine telephone sound waves travel through water unaided by any electrical force. Water, being denser than air, acts as a better sound conductor. It transmits sound four and a half times as fast as air, 1,100 feet a second being the rate in the atmosphere, while in the water it is 4,712 feet, or almost a mile a second.

Sweet Skim Milk for Calves.
The experience in the use of sweet skim milk from the cream separator for feeding calves and pigs, is uniformly favorable. A farmer writes that he has been using it fresh from the separator for over three years both in feeding calves and pigs and has found it most excellent. For calves he mixes a little meal and middlings with the milk, and for pigs increases the meal somewhat, and says that both grow rapidly on such feeding. He warns against feeding milk that has soured in the least and himself feeds it sweet from the separator.

$25,000,000 a Year for Gambling.
In a little volume of essays entitled "Betting and Gambling," recently published, some striking facts are given showing the rapid spread of gambling among all classes of the community. For instance, in five and a half years eighty cases of suicide, 32 embezzlements and 191 bankruptcies appeared on the records of the courts as directly due to professional betting, while Sir Robert Giffen estimates that $25,000,000 goes into the pockets of the bookmakers every year.—New York World.

A New Strawberry Box.
John Koopman, a strawberry grower of two miles west of Carthage, has received 10,000 paraffined pasteboard strawberry boxes, which he will use for his crop this year instead of the usual wooden boxes. It is claimed they are cheaper, tougher and will not absorb the stain from bruised berries. They thus look neater than the ordinary boxes and are just as slightly when used the second time as when first used.—Kansas City Journal.

Just Plain Jones.
"Digging for gold, are you?" said the stranger.
"That's what I am."
"Any hopes of finding any?"
"Ef they wuzn't d'y, I think I'd be fool enough to keep diggin'!"
"You're smart, ain't you?"
"No; I'm Jones—plain Jones!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Prudence.

Isabel Short—Oh! Mr. Tate, is it fair to ask me to give up a steady position for an uncertainty?—Brooklyn Life.

Unpardonable.
Mrs. Flip: "That new neighbor is a fearfully slipshod housekeeper."
Mr. Flip: "How do you know?"
Mrs. Flip: "Why every single time I send over there to borrow something she's always out of it!"—Detroit Free Press.

Substitute for Cream.
When unable to procure fresh cream to serve with fruit, beat the yolks of two new laid eggs and strain them into a pint of new milk, with two small lumps of sugar. Put it on the stove and stir one way until it becomes as thick as cream. Remove it instantly and cease stirring or it will turn to a custard.

Some Strange Wills.
There is a story of an American murderer who left $250 by his will to his executioner. This tale is now matched by one from Paris. A wine merchant of that city had to face with financial ruin planned suicide, but first set aside a dozen bottles of wine for the undertaker.

Got Off Cheap.
He may well think, he has got off cheap, who, after having contracted constipation or indigestion, is still able to perfectly restore his health. Nothing will do this but Dr. King's New Life Pills. A quick, pleasant, and certain cure for headache constipation, etc. 25c at S. R. Biggs' drug store; guaranteed.

A Horrible Example.
Mrs. Henpeck—Our son has gotten married secretly.
Mr. Henpeck—I thought I was a horrible enough example to deter him from such a foolish step.

A Difference.
Hoax—I thought that coat was a four-button cutaway.
Jeux—So it was, but one of the buttons came off.

True as Preaching.
"The sleep one gets before 12 o'clock at night does the most good," remarked the preacher.
"I guess you're right, Parson," observed the young man; "I know pop says the sleep he gets in church always seems the soundest."

STORIES ABOUT EAGLES.

The Eagle is Not Afraid to Tackle Anything, No Matter How Big.
Some years ago Sir Charles Mordeant witnessed in Scotland a strange battle between an eagle and a stag, which completely dispels any theory that the ornithologist may put forward as to eagles not attacking large animals, says the Chicago Journal. The bird singled out from a herd one particular buck, which it succeeded in driving from the rest. It struck the animal repeatedly with its powerful wings, knocked it down and finally killed it.

Baron Schroeder witnessed a still more remarkable spectacle. An eagle attacked a fawn which was one of a herd in the highlands. The cries of the little one were answered by its dam, which sprang upon the eagle and struck it repeatedly with its forefeet. Fawn, deer and eagle rolled headlong down a declivity, and the bird was dislodged from its hold and the fawn rescued.

But Sir Kenneth Mckenzie knows a more thrilling story than either of these, for, according to report, an eagle was seen in twain during a battle in his forest of Gairloch. Fixing its talons in the quarters of a roe, the bird was dashed against a tree, to a branch of which it endeavored to hold to stay the flight of its captive. The bird was halved in an instant.

Many traditions are extant as to eagles having carried off and devoured children. In the north of England the legend is perpetuated by the name of many an inn, the sign "The Eagle and the Child" being common. This most recent case bearing close scrutiny appears to be one which occurred in South Africa. A Boer farmer, living on the wild just beyond Barberton, whose stock had been harried by eagles, lay in ambush for the aerial robbers, and saw one of them descend and carry off the 5 year old child of one of his Kaffir servants. He shot the bird, which, with the child still clutched in its grip, fell into a thorn bush. The bird was dead when picked up, but the babe was little hurt. The eagle measured nine feet from tip to tip of its wings. Other stories are told to a similar end, but appear less credible than this one.

Two eagles will stalk a covert in concert. While one conceals himself the other beats about the bushes with a great screaming, driving out its quarry for the hidden eagle to swoop down and make an end of it. An even more insidious method has been observed when an eagle, detecting a sheep on the edge of a precipice, screaming shillingly, and with forceful beat of wing hurled it into the valley below, where it could devour it at its leisure.
There is good reason for believing, after all, the ancient legend as to the manner in which Eschylus, the Greek poet, met his death. It is said that an eagle dropped a turtle on his bald head. Algerian travelers are familiar with the sight of eagles carrying turtles and tortoises to a height and dropping them upon rocks to break the creatures' shells and render the flesh accessible.

Pajamas for "Jackies."
"I see that some wag of the Navy Department has played a joke on the newspaper men at that department," remarked a naval officer the other day, referring to the report that pajamas are to be substituted for nightshirts in the regulation uniform outfit of the American "Jacky." "The fact of the matter," said he, "is that sailors don't wear nightshirts, never have and no such article is known to their kit. The only basis for the report was that a manufacturer of a cheap suit of pajamas recently sent a lot of samples to the Navy Department, in the hope that their neatness and beauty would so appeal to the officials that the article might be adopted as an article of naval uniform for which the manufacturers in question would get the contract. It is now entirely optional with a sailor, just as it is with an officer, what he wears when in bed, or whether he wears anything but a blanket covering, but as I said before, the sight of a sailor in a nightshirt aboard ship would be so strange and uncanny that it might provoke mutiny. And to think of it Pajamas for Jack tars. Why, it would be more dangerous than the sight of a plug hat in the mining towns during the halcyon days of the gold Arizonians. While they are about it, why don't they say that the sailors will be required to wear silver wrist bags when they go ashore, like Harry Lehr, at Newport? Well, it makes me tired. That's all."

DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE
Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.
FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc.
If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.
How to Find Out.
You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.
G. B. Burham Testifies After Four Years.
G. B. Burham of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and pain and symptoms of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."
Two Sizes, 50 Cents and $1.00.
