SNAPSHOTS.

Mr. Hearst is willing to run for governor. It had been suspected.

The three Mrs. Smoots will soon have the Senator at home to help wash the dishes.

Curious, but no influenced railroad agents have been found with "standard oil stock" on their person.

If it takes two weeks for a king to get married, a lot of us would pass up the king business on sight.

The Vermont Democrats have decided to nominate a blacksmith for governor. Now for the anvil chorus.

Spain will never pull itself up abreast of other nations, until it gets over its habit of having royal bull fights on state occasions.

A Chicago scientist says that the recent earthquake was really a trivial affair. That ought to be some consolation to San Francisco.

Gustav von Bohlen und Halbach, a poor man, is to wed Miss Bertha Krupp, the richest girl in the world. Great guns!

Russell Sage could now go Carnegie one quarter better by giving it out that if he were a poor man he would gladly work for 75 cents a day.

From the published descriptions of Castro's fortunes, running a South American Republic must be more lucrative than operating a get-rich-quick game.

Congressman Towne might square himself with his admirers by explaining that just when he had the President in a tight place, his face slipped.

Chicago's chief of police announces that he intends to enforce each and every one of the Ten Commandments. The eleventh never was taken seriously in that town.

And when you recollect that they had 4,000 saloons in San Francisco, before the earthquake, you can imagine the suffering caused by the long dry spell since then.

The sworn statement of the manufacturers protects you from opiates in Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the cough syrup that drives the cold out of your system. Sold by S. R. Biggs.

Following the stock-yards revelations has come a great boom in the sale of appetite tonics.

Constipation makes the cold drag along. Get it out of you. Take Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar cough syrup. Contains no opiates. Sold by S. R. Biggs.

Speaking of the way time flies, have you noticed the way the common or house flies.

When applied and covered with a hot cloth Pinesalve acts like a poultice. Best for burns, bruises, boils, eczema, skin diseases, etc. Sold by S. R. Biggs.

Optimists are taking the ground that the recent action of Senator Burton may start a train of thought in the cerebellum of Senator T. C. Platt.

The cleansing, antiseptic and healing qualities of Pinesalve make it superior to family salves. Sold by S. R. Biggs.

A GUARANTEED CURE FOR PILES
Itching, Bleeding Piles. Drug-gists are authorized to refund money if FAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c. 1-5-06-1906

WE RETIRE AS EDITOR.

With this issue we sever our connection with THE ENTERPRISE and Mr. W. L. Smith, of Elizabeth City takes our place. We trust he will improve the paper and make it a necessity in every home in Martin County. The only essential part is the support and encouragement of the leaders in every community of the county, and a steady and fearless fight for everything that makes for the moral betterment.

MR. EVERETT FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

We do not think the county could send a better, a more efficient, energetic man to represent her than Mr. Everett.

He is young but buoyant, and sanguine to the last degree and whatever he may undertake for the growth and progress of his native county he will accomplish if persistent effort and hard work count for anything. Like Mr. C. C. Daniels, he is a clean, pure man, and the political world is clamoring for such men to guide the Ship of State on the disturbed waters—left by the politicians—like Platt and Quay, Gorman and hundreds of others in National and State politics.

This class of men is rapidly passing out and we are glad to see such men as Mr. Everett and Mr. Daniels before the voters of our county.

It devolves on you fellow-citizens of Martin to name a candidate for the Legislature that will use every faculty to get what you ask for. It is your sacred duty to name a man that stands for what you stand for—for the betterment of your county in every way possible.

You send a man to the Legislature to work—like you for your own interest. He is your servant and therefore at your command.

Not as a dictator do I name Mr. Everett, but as a voter, looking out for the best interest of my county. You are the people that say who shall be your representative in the Legislature and we trust you will pass the critic's eye over Mr. Everett and reach the same conclusion that we here reach—that he is the logical man for the place—that he will be our representative in the strictest sense of the word.

Mingling of Society at Close of School at Jamesville.

The season has arrived for closing of school and I must state that even a town like Jamesville was at its highest in the past week.

On Sunday night June 3rd Mr. A. Cory principal of the school had secured Mr. P. L. Kirton, of Williamston to preach a sermon at M. E. Church. Mr. Kirton's subject was faith: which he beautifully illustrated for young and old folks to clearly understand. Afterwards he paid his compliments to the school and teachers.

I will now go a little further on in the week.

A large crowd gathered in Mr. Wallace's Hall where the children's exercises took place.

The program consisted of recitations songs and tableaux.

I feel bound to mention a few items of special interest.

First the opening song The Old North State by the entire school and the little dialogue entitled Incident on a Rail Road car Through the Country, by Miss Tillie Ward and Master Grady Gurkin, with splendid talent and execution. I must not forget a tableaux Stars and Stripes by five girls dressed in White the most beautiful and graceful poses under the rays of red light effects. This closed the program for Thursday night under great applause of the crowd. Friday was the last day of the excitement. At the early hour of 11 a. m. the good people gathered at the church to hear Dr. R. T. Vann, president of the Raleigh Baptist Female University deliver an address on the subject: Education and its Worth in Practical Life. This was listened to with the greatest attention I have ever seen here and certainly highly appreciated.

At 1 p. m. they all gathered at Pine Grove to partake in an open air dinner provided by the ladies residing here. At 3:30 p. m. spectators were plentiful at the ball grounds awaiting the baseball game between the L. S. C. and Jamesville teams. It proved to be a very exciting game. The L. S. C. boys beat the town boys with 14 to 9.

At 8:30 p. m. the crowd gathered again at the hall where they were treated with the presentation of the great Plummer Breach of promise case.

This was rendered far beyond expectations. I must again compliment Miss Tillie Ward, also Misses Hilda Ward, Ella Stubbs and Hathleen Wallace and Messrs. H. Hardison and M. D. Hardison.

They also here closed with a couple of artistic tableaux. Before closing I must recommend and pay my compliments to Mr. A. Corey, as principal of the school, and heartily wish him as big a success each year.

PROF. W. B. CARLOS.

A Pleasant Evening at Cedar Branch Children's Day.

The afternoon being rainy, some thought it best not to go out at night, but others could not miss the opportunity and by dark the people were gathering at the church to witness the exercises prepared for Children's Day. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. By nine o'clock the house was full of people from every direction. While the introduction was being played the school remained quiet. Then the bell was tapped and the following programme was very beautifully carried out.

Song by the School—"We are Loyal to Our Sunday School."

Responsive Reading—"51st Psalm."

Song—"Praise the Lord."

Prayer, by Elder T. J. Crisp, of Conetoe.

The remainder of the programme consisted of recitations, pantomimes, marches and duets. We would not pass without speaking of the little children who represented the rain-bow. The rain-bow was put up over their heads and they all wore a rosette to represent their color. Also we must mention the song entitled "Violets." Eighteen girls, all about the same size and dressed in white, marched on the stage, nine of them carrying violets. The first nine sang the interrogative, and the others kneeling, sang the reply, "Be True."

Everything went on nicely and Cedar Branch Sunday school gained the confidence of many who had been negligent. All who saw it express their appreciation and congratulation.

There is another programme on the book for the 4th of July.

The contribution, which was six dollars, goes to distribute bibles in the desolate places.

A SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKER.

Sketch of Life of Mr. S. Justus Everett.

In view of the fact that the candidacy of Mr. Everett for the Legislature is being discussed, I think that it will not be unfitting for me to give a brief sketch of his life—having known him for three years in college, and for five years more he came to Williamston.

Mr. S. Justus Everett, son of Mr. Justus Everett, formerly county commissioner, and one of the most successful farmers of this section, was born at Hamilton on March 4, 1878. After receiving careful instruction under Professors Duckett and Outerbridge, at Hamilton and Robersonville, and later under Prof. W. Vann, at Vine Hill Academy at Scotland Neck, he matriculated at the University in 1898. Several years of good, steady, conscientious work brought him his diploma June, 1902. As a student, he made a good record, standing among the first in his class in chemistry and geology. His inclinations led him to make a special study of Latin, history and political economy. This last study well equipped him for the handling of subjects of debate pertaining to governmental affairs, such as "Dispensary or Prohibition," "Government Ownership of Railroads" and "Ship Subsidy." On three public occasions he represented his society in debate, and each time he was on the winning side, the last time winning the debater's prize at the commencement of his Junior year. During his senior year he was one of the editors of the College Annual, the University Magazine, and president of the Philanthropic Society.

After graduation he was principal of the Graded Schools of Monroe one year, and Salisbury one year. In the summer of 1904 he returned to the University and completed his course in law, receiving his license to practice in August of that year. Spending the fall on his father's farm he associated himself with Lieutenant Governor Winston, for the practice of his profession.

Every one knows how Mr. Everett has identified himself with the various interests of town and county since he has been among us. He organized the Merchants Association of Williamston, and he was instrumental in extending Main street and building the clay road. He is now secretary of the county Farmers Association.

His close study of, and familiarity with, the problems that confront legislators; his active interest in everything that pertains to the welfare of his county; his knowledge of the needs of farmer, merchant and business man, confirm me in the belief that Mr. Everett would be a steady, conscientious, hardworking representative.

Following The Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Williss T. Morgan retired Commissary Sergeant U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles, and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at S. R. Biggs drug-gist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

Jamesville News Items.

Jamesville, N. C., June 12, 1906.

As the days come and go there are many changes noticed. In our town for the past week some have been rejoicing, others mourning. The close of school makes some glad, others sorry. Some are sick and suffering, others are hearty and enjoying life, but not in the fullest, for they are forgetful of the riches they possess.

We will not mention the persons in general; though at this writing we have in mind the names of many who have come and gone; some have gone away to accept positions, others for pleasure, and others still for business, and the coming has been the same, for some are here after positions and some are having a good time.

The short letter on the Jamesville Pests last week may have done good, for we can walk on dry ground now where the mud and filth was last week, and still better things being planned. We are glad to note some new stores opening and one being built. We are not going to be left all the time—we have many inducements for people to come to our town. The farmer can sell his cotton for the highest market price—to our own knowledge, one man came from near Washington to engage cotton to our merchants. Not only cotton but all farm products; and too, the farmer may exchange his produce for merchandise at very low prices. The farmers also can sell their potatoes right here and get the best prices and have their money at once. They need not wait for them to be shipped and take chances of being lost.

There are a few things we would like to have improved: Some one likes to slip whiskey around the corner, for we see the fruits of such. We know that plain water will not make people drunk, though we see such often. Now I remember the story of the bee hunt, when Ned and Phil were boys—they caught the bee, put a piece of cotton on him and when several went in the same direction they were sure the tree was that way, and this thing seems along that same way. You may watch to your own satisfaction. So now with other improvements, let us remember Gov. Glenn's lecture: "Is the Young Man Safe, If Not, Can We Help to Make Him So?"

Death From Lockjaw

never follows an injury dressed with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Its antiseptic and healing properties prevent blood poisoning. Chas. Oswald, merchant, of Renaissanceville, N. Y., writes: "It cured Seth Burch, of this place, of the ugliest sore on his neck I ever saw." Cures cuts, Wounds, burns and sores. 25c at S. R. Biggs drug store.

Congressional Convention.

In pursuance of a resolution adopted by the Democratic Congressional Executive Committee of the First Congressional District of North Carolina, a convention is hereby called to meet in Elizabeth City, N. C., on Thursday, June 28th, 1906, at 3 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent said district in the Sixtieth Congress of the United States.

A. L. PENDLETON, Chm'n.

Buy Oil From the Barrel.

Don't pay $1.50 a gallon for canned oil, which ought to cost but 60 cents a gallon. Buy oil fresh from the barrel, and add it to the L & M Paint which is semi mixed.

When you buy L & M. Paint you get a full gallon of paint that won't wear off for 10 or 15 years because L & M. Zinc hardens the L & M. White Lead and makes L & M. Paint wear like iron.

4 gallons L & M. mixed with 3 gallons Linseed Oil will paint a moderate sized house.

L & M. costs only $1.20 per gallon.

Sold in the north, east, south and west.

C. S. Andrews, Ex-Mayor Danbury, Conn., writes: "Painted my house 19 years ago with L & M. Looks well to day." Sold by S. R. Biggs.
