PEOPLE OF THE DAY

North Carolina's Governor.
Governor R. B. Glenn of North Carolina, whose clash with Judge Pritchard attracted wide attention, holds that state courts have rights the federal judiciary should respect.
"Our courts having jurisdiction," says Governor Glenn, "we contend we have a right to proceed to final judgment and that if aggrieved defendants can only appeal through our supreme court to the supreme court of the United States. This is the orderly method the railroads desire to enforce us from taking and to take all cases into the federal court."

The cause of the trouble briefly stated is: The Southern railway was found guilty of violating the North Carolina law forbidding, under $500 penalty, tickets to be sold for more than 2 1/2 cents a mile, was fined $30,000, and two of its officials were sent to prison. Then Federal Judge Pritchard immediately released the officials on habeas corpus and inveighed against the law as "confiscatory" on the ground that the Southern might have to pay as much as $2,500,000 in fines.

Governor Glenn is a native of North Carolina, a lawyer by profession and fifty-three years old. For many years he has been prominent in politics and has served the state in various capacities. He was a Cleveland elector in 1884 and 1892. He was chosen governor of North Carolina in 1905, his term expiring in 1909.

A Stiff Upper Lip.
Hugo Osterhaus, the new captain of the battleship Connecticut, praised at a dinner in New York the old salt of the past.

"He has disappeared," said Captain Osterhaus sadly. "We made fun of him, and before our ridicule he blushed and vanished."

"Such stories as we used to tell of him."

"One, for instance, dealt with an old shellback's beard."

"Why is it, Bill," a youth asked the old fellow, "that you never shave your upper lip clean?"

"Well, you see," Bill answered, "a man's gotter have some place to strike his matches on."

The Hermit Kingdom.
The recent abdication of the emperor of Korea and the ascension of the crown prince to the throne have turned the eyes of the world toward the Hermit Kingdom. Since the close of the Russo-Japanese war the Japanese have been absolute masters of Korea, and the recent change of rulers is attributed to their influence.

The ex-emperor of the Hermit Kingdom has ruled over his people for forty-four years and was induced to abdicate under stress of pressure. His cabinet and council of elder statesmen convinced him that no other course could safely be pursued. Want of precaution and prudence in the old emperor's policies, especially in diplomatic affairs, whereby he was endangering the safety of the nation, are the reasons given for his downfall.

Lieutenant General Y. Hasegawa, commander of the Japanese troops in Korea, is one of the most distinguished officers of the mikado's army. During the war with Russia he commanded the imperial guards. His division operated with General Kuroki in Manchuria when the latter rolled up Kuropatkin's army.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Where the Breath is Offensive.
Offensive breath is caused sometimes by decayed teeth. The only remedy is to have them attended to—extracted, if that is necessary; filled, if possible.

Sometimes the cause arises in the stomach. For this the disease must be removed. A bit of cinnamon chewed or of Florida orris root or calamus often helps to make the breath sweet. The mastic tree gives out a sort of resinous gum that hardens the gums and gives a delicate odor to the breath.

Mix a few drops of spirits of camphor and tincture of myrrh in a glass of water and rinse the mouth, using it also as a gargle when some small indisposition has affected the breath. A small bottle of tincture of myrrh may be kept on the stand and ten drops used in a little water after the mouth and teeth are well cleaned. A cup of strong black coffee removes the odor of onions; so with a sprig of fresh parsley, chewed. Charcoal tablets are good for those with this distressing affliction.

Club Sandwiches.
Take equal parts of cooked chicken and hard boiled eggs, chop and cook in enough thickened milk gravy to hold the mixture together and season with salt, pepper and a touch of paprika. Cut slices of stale bread and season also. Place chicken mixture between two slices, between the next two a slice of fried bacon or chopped ham if preferred, then another of chicken. The three sandwiches together with two and fry quickly in hot deep fat till a light brown. Dry and remove twine. Serve hot.

Household Notes.
A little ammonia in the water used in cleaning mirrors and window glass is excellent for removing fly specks and dust.

A drop of oil of lavender on the hair or pillow of a sick person will keep away annoying flies.

Butter applied at once to a burn will prevent the skin from blistering.

A tablespoonful of glycerin in a glass of hot milk is said to give instant relief in severe paroxysms of coughing.

Stand For Flatirons.
An arrangement to prevent flatirons from sliding from the ironing board has been patented by a Michigan woman. This iron stand is made of a base of resilient wire, which can be easily attached to any ironing board. Secured and maintained in position on the base is a receptacle which has

IRON CANNOT SLIP.

Three of the sides elevated and one side open, the open side disposed toward the longer portion of the board. When the stand is in position and a flatiron in the receptacle, the tilting of the board will not cause the iron to slip from the stand, the closed sides effectually preventing such accidents.

Canned String Beans.
Prepare as for the table, boil until nearly done, then add one pint of salt to every ten pints of beans and cook until thoroughly done. Then pour into cans or jars, covering well with brine and seal tightly. To cook beans canned in this way drain the brine from the beans, pour into a stewpan and cover with water, boil five or ten minutes, then pour off water and season with butter and pepper, a little sugar and cream if desired.

For Hardening the Gums.
A decoction of tannin, oak bark and myrrh, which any druggist will compound, is excellent for this soft, spongy condition of the gums. Those who are affected in this way have to avoid too salty foods, fruits that are very acid and also much sweets, pastries, etc. Radishes sometimes cause softness of the gums. Too much fat or oils is also bad in such cases.

The Sun Injures the Hair.
Those who are in the habit of going out in their bare heads should remember that nothing causes the hair to lose its color so soon as the direct rays of the sun. This exposure, in addition to streaking the hair, will in course of time dry the natural oil and cause the scalp to become impoverished.

Bleaching Yellow Ivory.
A very simple process will restore ivory carvings that have become discolored. Polish them with spirits of turpentine and expose them to the sunshine for a few days. This treatment will also prove beneficial to ivory piano keys when they begin to turn yellow.

Glycerin Lotion.
Pure glycerin, one ounce; distilled water, six ounces; rosewater, three ounces. This is excellent where the skin is rough and pimply.

Growing Girls

Growing girls need care, advice and medicine, especially on reaching the age of puberty. A mother's tender care and words of caution will often accomplish wonders. As for medicine, a gentle, safe and reliable strengthening tonic is Wine of Cardui.

It will prevent and relieve pain, regulate the functions, clear the complexion and strengthen the constitution.

It is a valuable medicine for growing girls. It has tided thousands over a critical period, and saved them from years of suffering. It can never do harm and is sure to do good.

A relief or cure for all female disorders in girls and women.

At every druggist's in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

THE SPORTING WORLD

Kelly Won't Race This Summer.
Dan Kelly, the world's champion sprinter, will not compete this summer in the east. Kelly, who lives in Portland, Ore., recently injured a tendon in his leg and was reluctantly forced to break training.

He says he may be in shape by fall, however. Kelly became famous by lowering the world's record for the 100 yard dash established by Arthur Duffy, the ex-Georgetown university student.

The Delehanlys, Baseball Notables.
James Delehanly of Cleveland, O., is father of more good players than any man in the United States. Six sons have won fame on the diamond, four of them in the big leagues. Ed Delehanly was the greatest of all. He was with the Philadelphia club in the National league and was with the Washington team in the American league. He gained a reputation as one of the greatest batsmen who ever played baseball. He died four years ago.

Joe Delehanly perhaps bears a more striking resemblance to Ed than any other of the brothers. He has played with Allentown, Pa., Montreal, New Orleans, Worcester and Buffalo. For the last two years he has been with the Williamsport Tri-state team and is one of the hardest hitters in the league.
Frank Delehanly got his start with the Montgomery team, played in Syracuse and was with the New York Americans before being traded to the Cleveland club, which he afterward left.

Jim Delehanly began with Little Rock, went to Chicago Nationals, then to Boston, then to Cincinnati and this year was sold to the St. Louis Browns, who later turned him over to Washington.

Tom Delehanly played with Toronto, Atlanta, Detroit and Seattle and last year was with the Williamsport team of the Tri-state league, found the life too strenuous and retired this year.

The youngest of the lot, Willie, has started at Oswego, N. Y. He is a promising youngster and is expected to get in the big show before he is many years older.

College Baseball.
College baseball captains for next season have been elected as follows: Princeton, Harlan, outfielder; Dartmouth, Skillin, pitcher; Georgetown, Simons, outfielder; Cornell, Hellman, shortstop; Villanova, Savage, third base; Brown, Raymond, outfielder; Holy Cross, Barry, shortstop; Exeter, Connelly, third base; Andover, Kelly, first base; Pennsylvania State, Cree, shortstop; Tufts, Atwood, pitcher; Washington and Jefferson, Ramsey, third base; Lehigh, Galbraith, second base; Phillips-Exeter, Hawkes, Mich-
