Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

At the same time the new Ayer's Hair Vigor is a strong hair tonic, promoting the growth of the hair, keeping all the tissues of the hair and scalp in a healthy condition. The hair stops falling, dandruff disappears. A splendid dressing.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. These tablets—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coax the blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a headache. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 30 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Brush your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain always. It's simply Common Sense.

J. W. KERN NOTIFIED

Democratic Nominee For Vice-President Accepts

REPLIES TO SHERMAN'S SPEECH

Kern's Speech is in Effect an Answer to Sherman's—Sherman Said "The People Do Rule" Mr. Kern Gives Many Instances Where the Will of the People Has Been Thwarted by a Republican Congress, Saying That Measures After Measure Advocated by the People of all Parties Has Failed to Pass.

Indianapolis, Ind., Special.—John Worth Kern, running mate to William J. Bryan on the Democratic ticket, was officially informed that he is nominated to make the race for the vice presidency. Big crowds were here and an immense notification committee proceeded from the Democratic headquarters to the fair grounds, where the ceremonies took place. Mr. Kern's speech of acceptance is in substance as follows:

Mr. Kern's Speech.
Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: For the kindly and courteous manner in which you have conveyed to me the official notification of my nomination as the Democratic candidate for Vice President of the United States, and for the eloquent words just spoken by your chairman in your behalf, I thank you one and all.

I appreciate most highly this great honor conferred upon me by the unanimous vote of the representatives of my party in national convention assembled, and I shall strive most earnestly to earn a continuation of the confidence and good will manifested by that action. I did not seek this nomination; indeed, if my own personal desires had been consulted, another would have received the honor, but it having come to me without solicitation, I prize it all the more, and accept it with a full sense of the burdens and responsibilities. As a candidate I shall try to wear the honor worthily, and faithfully as I can discharge all the duties properly devolving upon me as one of your standard bearers, and if elected, I promise to serve all the people of the republic by the conscientious discharge of the duties of the office.

It is pleasing to me to be associated in this campaign with the distinguished gentleman to whom the standard of the party has been committed. For years we have been friends. I recognize in him a man of spotless character and high ideals, always actuated by patriotic motives and an earnest desire to promote the welfare, the honor and the glory of his country. He became your candidate because his nomination was demanded by the rank and file of the party, which demand was emphasized by a popular movement in his favor, which as it proceeded, so grew in volume and force as to become irresistible.

The Republican nominee for Vice President in his recent speech of acceptance affected the belief that the question, "Shall the People Rule?" implied a charge of venality against the American electorate. He affirmed, with great emphasis, that under recent Republican administration the people have ruled without let or hindrance. It is passing strange, that in a republic like this there should be occasion for a discussion of this question. It is a government of the people and by the people. They presumably govern themselves through their servants whom they send to represent them in Congress. Their will, when known, ought to be supreme, and should be given immediate effect.

The Will of the People.
And if the will of the people once known is not given effect then the people do not rule.

Will any intelligent man claim that there is or has been any substantial diversity of opinion in this country on the question as to whether the tariff duty on wood pulp used in the manufacture of paper should be reduced or removed. In this case the tariff tax operated for the benefit of the paper trust alone, allowing that combine to levy millions of tribute each year upon the newspapers of the country and their readers. The press of the country, without regard to party, united in demanding relief. The people of the republic unanimously seconded the demand. The President of the United States threw the influence of his great office in favor of the demand of the press and the people. But all without avail. The dominant forces within the Republican party had established in the lower house of Congress a parliamentary condition, in the interest of monopoly, under which the sole power to determine whether a measure should be allowed to become a law or not lodged in the Speaker of that body and his committee on rules, and by the fiat of that one man the will of the press, the people and the President was set at naught. Behold the spectacle! On one side eighty millions of free people demanding legislation to right an admitted wrong. On the other side, a few men engaged in public plunder, aided by the dominating power within the Republican party, represented by the presiding officer of the once popular branch of Congress. And the plunderers and these unfaithful public servants prevail over the people of this great republic! In this instance did the people rule?

Shall the People Rule?
The question "Shall the People Rule?" is one which demands the serious and earnest consideration of all men who are interested in the perpetuation of our institutions. It must be apparent to all who have followed the course of legislation during the past few years that there is a power within the Republican party determined that the people shall not rule. That power has manifested itself whenever effort has been made to check the destructive work of unlawful combination, reduce the oppressive tariff tax, or enact any legislation looking towards the equalization or lightening of the burdens resting upon the people.

That dominant power which now guides and directs the Republican party, has on many occasions defied the President in cases where he has, on the demand of the masses, made sporadic efforts in their behalf.

The question of tariff taxation is one of vital interest. I am in hearty accord with our platform declarations on that subject.

Tariff Reform.
Every legitimate business interest in the country is demanding tariff reform. The manufacturer who is not a monopolist is demanding cheaper raw material and wider markets for his products. The workingman understands that a restricted market means fireless furnaces and enforced idleness. He knows that American workmen, with their superior intelligence and ingenuity, with their improved machinery, with cheap raw material and earning for their employers more than twice as much as the laborers of any other country, have nothing to fear from competition with workmen anywhere, when the products of their labor are set down side by side in the markets of the world. The American workingman has had bitter experience under the operation of the Dingley bill. Under the shelter of this tariff wall, trusts and combines have sprung up on every hand and with extortionate prices confront the consumer on every occasion when he seeks to buy the necessities of life.

Under this system the cost of living so increased as to absorb the earnings of the laborer, after the most rigid economy and self-denial on his part and that of his family. And it is a noteworthy fact when, as an inevitable result of the fiscal policy of the Republican party, the panic of 1907 came, hundreds of thousands of these American laborers who were thrown out of employment, instead of being able to draw upon the fabulous savings bank accounts so exploited in political literature in recent campaigns, found themselves and families in a state of destitution.

Farmer Pays Tribute.
The farmer understands that while he has to buy everything in a protected market, where, on nearly every purchase he is compelled to pay tribute to the trusts and tariff beneficiaries, he is compelled to sell his surplus products in a free-trade market where he comes in competition with all the rest of the world.

The Democratic Remedy.

The Democratic party, while favoring the reform measures repudiated by the Republican national convention, in large degree cut off the streams of money which under the present system are flowing from every man in the land and emptying into the coffers of the trusts.

It would leave in the pockets of the producers and laborers of this land, every dollar of the money they earn, save only such amounts as may be needed for the economical administration of the government.

It would, by rigorous law enforcement strike down private monopolies which prey upon the people, and to protect the public against extortion and imposition by the great public corporations, whether by excessive charges or by the over issue of stocks and securities.

In other words it would undertake to bring about in government, a realization of that good old Democratic maxim of Thomas Jefferson, "Equal and exact justice to all men; special privileges to none!"

It has no war to wage on capital. It has no quarrel with corporations honestly capitalized to carry on a legitimate business, according to law. It will encourage the investment of capital in the development of the country and protect it when invested.

Stand Against Lawlessness.
It will draw a sharp line between lawful business lawfully conducted, and unlawful business, or business carried on in defiance of law and the rights of the public, protecting the one, and protecting society from the other.

Prospects of Success.
Gentlemen, we enter upon this campaign with every prospect of success. Never had a political platform been received with such favor by all classes of people, and never has a candidate been presented by any party, who was closer to the hearts of the people than our matchless standard bearer, William J. Bryan.

We must and will win this battle without the use of money or the aid of corporate power. If our adversaries so desire let them pursue that course.

But there are times in the life of a nation like this when money and corporate influences are of no avail.

There comes a time, when the quickened consciences of an enlightened people impel action, which neither money nor influence can check.

That time in my judgment is here. Let every man from this hour forward perform his duty in a manly and honorable way.

Let this be a campaign of education and argument. Let our appeals be to the reason and patriotism of the American people. Let us be vigilant and unceasing in honest work for a righteous cause, and a glorious victory in November will crown our efforts.

Bryan on Trust Question.
Indianapolis, Ind., Special.—William Jennings Bryan spoke here Tuesday on the subject of Trusts, this being the second in his series of speeches. He argued that the policy of the republican party was to foster monopoly, and this resulted in the worst form of socialism. He claimed that the republican tariff system tends to centralize wealth and power and that popular government is in danger from a continuation of the policies republicans stand for. Mr. Bryan was attentively listened to by a large audience.

Train Runs Into Washout.

Asheville, N. C., Special.—Southern Railway freight train No. 63, was ditched by a washout between Saluda and Flat Rock at 8:30 Tuesday night. Engineer Lee London, of this city, has not been found at 11 o'clock and it is believed that his body is buried beneath the debris. Details are meagre, telegraphic and telephonic communications being difficult owing to damage done to wires by heavy storms.

It was unpatriotic of the Health Commissioner of New York to discover that Massachusetts is prominent in point of the death rate from heart disease, urges the Louisville Courier Journal. Herbert New York has waited pompously in the limelight as the greatest "buster" among American cities.
