The Washington Legislature will be asked to pass a bill to license drinkers—the time to be forfeited upon conviction of intoxication. One provision of the law will be that the photograph of the man must be on the license issued. If the bill should pass the photographers would have a hard time keeping a lens in good order. What a picture some of Washington boates would make.

The enormous amount of $16,000,000 which has been given for the relief of the Italian sufferers, clearly shows that the heart of the world is still in the right place. Where are the pessimists who are always asserting that the people are growing worse—that tender hearts date away back in the past? Men sin, but the divine spark of love and sympathy is burning in their breasts, and it needs but the cries of women and children to fan it into flame.

Mr. William Howard Taft has been lifting his smile play freely way down in Dixie. There is nothing soporific in it and no true man of the South will be beguiled into going to sleep and waking to vote the radical ticket. The law of heredity is too strong to allow such a marked deviation from the traditions of our forefathers. Mr. Taft is yet an unknown quantity, and much can happen in four years in a great land like ours. The party to which he belongs is known of all Southerners, and the knowledge is not to its credit.

Unnecessary Alarm

There seems to be a few people who fear that the county will be put in the no fence law territory by the present Legislature. We see no danger whatever, nor do we know where such an idea originated, as the matter has not been agitated and, of course, our representatives will not pass a law so widely effecting the people, unless the people themselves demand it. This Legislature will not pass a no fence law for Martin County. We predict that no other Legislature within fifty years will give us the no fence law. The use of wire fencing and the character of crops raised in Martin County, will eliminate the clamor for such a law for ages to come.

We want to emphasize the fact that flying rumors of similar nature are the utterances of those who seek to breed a spirit of discontent in the breasts of a quiet people. Martin County is as free from laws that inconvenience the many as any county in the State. There has never been any demand on our representative for extreme measures and there will never be.

Good Laws

A law is rarely ever passed giving entire satisfaction. There are always some who claim that the law will be a burden to them. Years ago, the passage of the hog law was fought to the bitter end in Williamston. The advocates of the law, in many instances, making enemies for life by the firm stand they maintained. But those desiring the greatest good to the greatest number, finally put the law in to effect. After a few months of the law, there was no one to discuss the workings of same adversely. A "rooster" on our streets is hailed as a public nuisance, and every one desires to see the intruder run to cover by the police. There is no place in our town for the hog.

The same can be said of the cow law which met with some opposition a year ago. No doubt that it inconvenienced one or two citizens, but the good it has done the town is more apparent every day. The walks are cleaner, the atmosphere purer, and children go to and fro without fear of being forced to take an upward toss.

Our people are ever conservative, and readily see the good in all law, if there is any. The town is in the hands of business men who are giving a good administration. Certainly there are errors made, but perfection cannot be had in anything. The people will always give praise where it is due, and censure is of minor importance in this day of progress and moral uplift.

Soldier Balks Death Plot

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Tex., that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 178 pounds." For severe Colds, obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by All Druggists.

Why the Preacher Was on the Gang

The overseer of the Gaston county chain gang, at work on the road near Cherryville, tells us that he has every trade and profession represented in his crew except lawyers and he can't see how they always manage to escape their just deserts. He has two preachers; one white and the other colored, both good at praying and preaching. He said the white preacher was the best worker he had ever had; always ready to go to work, and while at it steady, industrious and quite. We thought it strange for a white preacher to be sent to the gang and on inquiring "how come?" were told that he had three living wives all in Gaston county. Then the mystery of his being so quite and contented was easily understood. Any man that would be fool enough to provide himself with three talking machines should welcome a sentence to the chain gang for the rest he would get.—Lincolnton Times.
