Next House Democratic--Northern States Quits Radicalism

50,000 MAJORITY IN NORTH CAROLINA

Martin County Still Holds Her Own By a Good Majority

ONLY FIFTEEN COUNTIES VOTE REPUBLICAN

Indiana Will Send John Kern to the Senate--A Gain of Seven Senators for the Democrats--Fourteen Legislators and Four State Senators are Gained in North Carolina--John H. Small Receives Good Vote in Every County in the First District--Republicans are Down and Out.

The Democrats of North Carolina have won the most complete victory that has been theirs in many years. The majority of 50,000 exceeded the expectations of the most hopeful and a solid delegation will go to the next House of Congress. The three Republican districts have been reclaimed by R. L. Doughton in the eighth, Charles M. Stedman in the fifth and James M. Gagger in the tenth. The fight in these districts was a hard one but the victory is complete.

John H. Small in the first district won over Henry T. King by 7,000. This was a slight loss over the previous election because of the failure of many Democrats to go to the polls.

Increased majorities were the order of Tuesday and the pre-election claims of the Republican leaders were set at naught. The local self government plank failed to hold the crowd and Butler with his gang of boodlers was buried under the ruin of their own structure. With his bonds he has been consigned to the murky waters of oblivion and the Ship of State is moored safely under Democratic chart.

The story of North Carolina is the story of New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Ohio. John Dix, Democrat, carried New York by over 65,000 majority. Here was waged the hottest fight that the State has ever witnessed. Teddy Roosevelt led the fight for his man Stimson and lost out. This is a blow to the man with the Big Stick and may mean his political death. Democratic victory there means a redistricting of the State and more Democratic representatives. Massachusetts elected a Democratic governor by over 40,000. The Democratic gain throughout the State was 28 per cent. The Bay State has not shown much faith in the Payne Aldrich Tariff schedule.

Ohio, another center of intense interest, reelected Governor Harmon. The Republicans concentrated their best efforts toward trying to wrest the State from the Democrats but lost out by a majority of 40,000. In some counties Harmon's plurality was reduced from that of the previous election.

New Jersey and Connecticut elected Democratic governors and made gains in the others officers. Tennessee went Republican on the gubernatorial ticket as expected after the fusion between the bolting Democrats and Republicans. The Patterson-Cooper combine rendered the victory sure for the Republicans. The Legislature, however, will be strongly Democratic. Indiana and Illinois, two pivotal States, show great Democratic gains. Summing up, it may be said that the whole face of creation fell into the lap of Democracy.

The following is the majorities given by the counties in North Carolina:

Book Club

(Reported)

It was the pleasure of the Book Club to enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. A. S. Coffield on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Coffield is a charming hostess and has that happy faculty possessed by few--envied by many--of making even the stranger feel at home.

After the business session, which was of short duration, the meeting was turned over to the hostess. After an interesting pictorial contest in which Mesdames Martin and Newell tied for the first prize, Barnes and Biggs for the booby, all were invited into the dining room where not only the "inner man" was satisfied, but the artistic eye delighted as well. The color scheme was pink, and was beautifully carried out, in flower, light and delicacy.

Indeed the club was indebted to Mrs. Coffield for a most delightful afternoon and each member felt on her departure that in such a home as this might fittingly be placed the old Welsh door verse:

"Hail guest! We ask not what thou art; If friend, we greet thee, hand and heart; If stranger, such no longer be; If foe, our love shall conquer thee."

Death of a Young Girl

The Angel of Death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Peck, Hamilton, of N. C., November 7th, and took away Maggie, their little ray of sunshine. She was the light and life of their home; her sweet disposition, loving thoughtfulness, bright smiling face and her ability to entertain with such beautiful piano music, made her indispensable in the household and in our community, and won for her a host of friends wherever she went. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist Sunday School, a leader in her class with lessons well learned, also an exemplary scholar in her every day school life. Surely none could be more missed than she.

Though our hearts feel that they must break, we will bow our heads in humble submission to say: "Thy will be done." He knows what is best and in His own good time we shall see the silver lining to this dark cloud. May this bereavement prove a blessing to us all.

High Priced Cotton

Asa T. Crawford of Williamston, sold eleven bales of long staple cotton with Boone & Jenkins, Norfolk, on Monday November 7th, 1910 for 21 cents per pound. The bales weighed 4924 lbs. and the net proceeds were $1,012.04. This cotton was raised on the Speight Farm in Poplar Point Township.

Mr. William Henry Carstarphen

After months of suffering, William Henry Carstarphen died at his residence in Norfolk, Va., on the night of November 4th, 1910. He was born in Williamston, November 13th, 1859, being the eldest son of William and Mary Carstarphen and until ten years ago resided here with his parents.

Reared under the instruction of his father, who was one of the most successful merchants that has been in Martin County within the past fifty years, he acquired that business sagacity which served to give him an honored place among the business men of this and other places. After disposing of all his interest here, he went to Norfolk and engaged in the commission business in which he won success. Whatever he undertook, he gave his best to its accomplishment.

On November 24th, he married Mrs. Jennie Manning, of Norfolk, who survives him together with his sisters, Mrs. D. C. Jones of Hamilton, Miss Belle Carstarphen and two brothers, C. D., and J. K. Carstarphen, of Williamston.

Early in life, Mr. Carstarphen professed Christ and joined the Methodist Church in which he had been brought up carefully by his parents, and ever gave evidence by his life and interest in the work of the Church of consecration to loving service for the Master. Of a kindly disposition, he made many friends and the needy found in him a willing helper.

The funeral services were conducted from the late residence in Norfolk by the Rev. Mr. Gyale, pastor of the Cumberland Street Methodist Church, interment in the Cemetery there.

Messrs. C. D., J. K. Carstarphen, who had just returned from the bedside of the sick brother, went by return train to attend the funeral. THE ENTERPRISE together with a host of friends here, sympathize deeply with the bereaved family.
