Jonah, the Boy King, Crowned in Judah, 2 Kings xi:1-22.

Golden Text—Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart, Ps. 119:2.

(1.) Verses 1-3—Who was Athalia; her parentage, position, character, etc?
(2.) When a child turns out bad whose heredity and environment were as vile as they could be, how much is he or she to be blamed?

(3.) Whose son was Josiah?
(4.) Who was Jehoiada?
(5.) Who was instrumental in saving the child Josiah from the murderous intent of his grandmother Athalia, and how was it done?

(6.) Verses 4-12—If an individual, company, or a nation is established, and carried on by unrighteousness, what will be the probable results?

(7.) Can you give from your own experience, or from history, any instance where wrong actions have brought about right results, or can you conceive of such a thing as possible?

(8.) When those who are in authority are usurpers, and when the regular legal processes fail to dispossess them, what should the people do?

(9.) On what grounds do you justify the high priest Jehoiada for planning the death of the reigning queen, and, by force, putting the boy Josiah on the throne?

(10.) What can you say from this history in favor of the possibility of right environment overcoming in a child the worst kind of heredity? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(11.) What can you say for, or against, private citizens carrying fire arms?

(12.) Verses 13-16—How did Ahab and Jezabel, the father and mother of Athalia, die?

(13.) What are the chances that those who practise violence will themselves receive violent treatment?

(14.) Why, as a rule, is it impossible for us to get from others any different kind of treatment to that which we give them?

(15.) Verse 17—What are the chances for national success when both rulers and the people are serving the Lord?

(16.) What is the probability for national greatness when the rulers and the people are corrupt?

(17.) Verse 18—What relation does the success of a people bear to their religion?

(18.) How many centuries will the prosperity of this country continue, if we forsake the precepts of Jesus Christ?

(19.) Verses 19-20—Why is it impossible for a really happy people to be turbulent and revolutionary?

(20.) What is the relation of the present day Christian Church to the prosperity of the masses?

like to lose the position of that friend ruined because he wasn't insured.

FACTS ABOUT FIRE INSURANCE are so strange they outdo fiction. Fires have started from an amazing variety of causes. Have no issue you a job
