Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

The Woman Makes the Home

She makes it best who, looking after the culinary department, turns her back resolutely upon unhealthful, or even suspicious, food accessories. She is economical; she knows that true economy does not consist in the use of inferior meat, flour, or baking powder. She is an earnest advocate of home made, home baked food, and has proved the truth of the statements of the experts that the best cooking in the world today is done with Royal Baking Powder.

Begin Planning

The establishment of the Cooperage Company's mills was through the energy and enterprise of the citizens of Williamston. The mill now in operation, though all the buildings have not been completed, and the track from the Coast Line Station is about finished. This all has been accomplished by organized effort and necessary funds in the hands of the Holdings Company.

But the Cooperage Company and Pans Factory are not industries sufficient—plans should be made to establish other mills here if not by home folks, then invite other concerns to come. We have an abundance of swamp timber which can be utilized in various way; shipments by boat and rail, thus competing with other towns for wood-working factories. A planing mill is needed here, and there are rumors that one will be built—but make it a certainty.

No business man has ever concealed the fact that Williamston is the best town for a peanut factory in this section. The raw material is here, the labor is waiting to be hired at a reasonable price for that class of work.

The Board of Trade has excellent reasons for advertising the town, being in a safer position now than ever to offer inducements for capitalists. No better farming is done in the State than in this immediate section, and farm lands are at a high premium. Don't let's stop but keep up the pace which has been begun here. "A better and bigger Williamston," should be the slogan on our lips and find echo in the minds and activities of our citizens.

Drinking Too Fast

German scientists who recently visited the United States declared that Americans drink too fast, and should take more time in the consumption of their potions. Dr. Albert Oliver, head of the Berlin Sanatorium, declared that we should not try to do a marathon with our beer, to see how much we can drink in a given time, but that one should take his glass and fool with it for half an hour.

Now, if there is virtue in cutting down the allowance of beer, why is there not more virtue in stopping the allowance altogether? And if one should take a half hour in which to drink his glass, in order to get the most benefit out of it, why not make one glass do for three or four years? As a matter of fact, the only proper way to drink beer is from an empty glass.—Sel

A Deserved Honor

For some time during the fall term at the University of North Carolina, William H. Harrell a member of the Junior Class has been Manager of the Dramatic Club there. From early boyhood he has demonstrated his histrionic talent in amateur plays here. He has fine discernment in stage matters and his interpretations present few flaws for the critic to condemn. While taking much interest in athletics, etc., at the University, he is studying Chemical Engineering with the zeal of the scholar who has blotted out "fail" from his vocabulary.
