Farmers' Meetings

Editor, ENTERPRISE:-

There are to be series of farmers' meetings for the several counties in the First Congressional District, beginning August 25th I am very sure that they will prove instructive and beneficial to any citizen who may attend. I beg that you will aid in giving publicity to them. The dates and places at which meeting will be held in your section are as follows:

Swan Quarter, for Hyde County, Monday, Sept. 1st.

Washington, for Beaufort County, Tuesday, Sept. 2nd.

Greenville, for Pitt County, Wednesday, Sept. 3rd.

Williamston, for Martin County, Thursday, Sept. 4th.

Plymouth, for Washington County, Friday, Sept. 5th.

Columbia, for Tyrrell County, Saturday, Sept. 6th.

These meetings will be most interesting and unique in the subjects discussed, in the speakers and in the manner of presentation.

Prof. J. M. Johnson, of the Bureau of Farm Management, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, will discuss better farming. His lecture will present the essential features of good farming from a new viewpoint. He will claim the attention of every farmer who wishes to improve his soil, make more crops and more money.

Dr. William Hart Dexter, of the Farmers' Co-Operative Demonstration Work, will make what has been characterized as an "uplift talk." He will talk about things which make for the betterment of country life. He will discuss the home, the farm and the community. His speech will be an inspiration to all men, who are looking forward to better things.

Surgeon Charles W. Stiles, of the U. S. Public Health Service, will discuss rural sanitation and preventable diseases, and will illustrate his talk with charts and stereopticon views. The improvement of the public health is today one of the vital topics among all intelligent people. Surgeon Stiles will tell in a clear, simple manner how the home may be made sanitary, and how malaria and fever and other preventable diseases may be easily controlled.

In conclusion there will be a series of moving pictures prepared by the new Bureau of Rural Organization, of the Department of Agriculture. These pictures will portray in a graphic way some of the results of better methods in country life.

The above brief outline will justify the opening statement that these meetings will be most instructive and attractive. Nothing like them has heretofore been attempted for the people of the State. They will touch upon vital subjects by attractive methods.

I am constrained to add this additional statement. These meetings have been arranged at much trouble and expense. There is no purpose in them except one of service to our people. Will not your intelligent readers who know the value of attendance upon such a meeting come themselves and endeavor to induce their less fortunate neighbors to do so?

Again, while these meetings are intended primarily for the men upon the farm, yet the merchant, manufacturer and the professional man will also find them informing. The bulk of our citizens who are not farmers are directly or indirectly dependent upon the farm. They can in no better way show their interest than by their participation and by giving publicity to these meetings.

Very respectfully,
Jon. H. Small.

No Better Market

The Williamston Tobacco Market opened on August 20th. with a large number of pounds, which brought prices largely in excess of any previous year for the grades offered. From day to day these prices have been as high—no slump, but this week the tendency has been upward. The offerings are not so large as the curing has not been completed yet, and owing to the lateness of the spring, the crop is at least one month behind. But the Williamston market is right-up-to-the-minute in every way. There is no need of any man carrying his weed to a larger market, for no prices in the State have been higher than the ones given here for every pile of tobacco offered. This is made possible by the capable handling of the weed by the warehousemen in the Dixie and Roanoke, and the full corps of buyers here to take all kinds of leaf offered on the floors. Study conditions and find that the home market is best and safest.

Stop and read the names of the companies who have buyers here: Imperial Tobacco Co., American Tob. Co., Export Leaf Tob. Co., British-American Tob. Co., Liggett & Myers Tob. Co., Lorillard Tob. Co., R. J. Reynolds Tob. Co., J. P. Taylor Co., James N. Boyd & Co., Dobbrell Bros & Co., and several other large independent buyers. This list places the Williamston market in line with Greenville, Wilson, Kinston, Rocky Mount and other large markets. "There's a reason"—bring your leaf to Williamston.

Shot in the Breast

Friday night of last week, between 10 and 11 o'clock a pistol shot was heard in the rear of the house of Annie Faulk, who with her children lives near the Pants Factory. Several of her children were awake and to them and to neighbors who heard the noise, she told that she was cleaning an old pistol and accidentally shot herself in the breast. Upon investigation, the pistol was not found and suspicion was aroused that the wounded woman's story was incorrect—that she was shielding some one else. Dr. Warren was summoned and gave her necessary attention. The police have arrested no one for the crime.

ACTS ON THE LIVER

Dodson's Liver Tone Livens up the Liver—Is More Than a Mere Laxative

Calomel was for years the only known medicine that would stimulate the liver. But calomel is often dangerous, and people are not to be blamed for being afraid of it.

Within the last few years many medicines have been put out to be used instead of calomel, but their effect is on the bowels—not on the liver. Saunders & Fowden drug store says that the only real liver medicine to actually take the place of calomel is Dodson's Liver Tone, a mild, harmless, vegetable liquid that Saunders & Fowden recommended to take the place of calomel and which gives prompt relief in cases of constipation, biliousness and sluggish liver.

So confident are Saunders & Fowden that they give their personal guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone. You can be sure that you are getting Dodson's by asking at this store if they are giving you the medicine they personally guarantee to refund money on if unsatisfactory.

In Honor of Miss Kilpatrick

Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 12 o'clock, Mrs. Albert Perry and Mr. Marshall D. Wilson entertained in honor of their niece, Miss Hilda Kilpatrick, of Smithfield, who is their house guest for several weeks. The handsome home was brilliantly illuminated and the wide Southern verandahs were delightfully arranged for the pleasure of the guests, who arrived at the hour named and thoroughly enjoyed the evening. Soon after the arrival of the last guest, delicious salad with pickles and saltines was served and just before the hour for departure, elegant banana ice cream was served with cake.

The skirts slashed to the knee is the latest edict of fashion. Soon this country will be no place for a modest man.
