For Handy Boys and Girls to Make and Do

By A. NEELY HALL.

A PORTABLE WRITING DESK.
Every boy needs a writing desk, and the plans below show an entirely new idea for a desk. It has no legs, but is made to stand upon a table. The front drops down to write upon, just like a drop-leaf of any desk. When the front is closed and hooked, the desk is in a compact form, and it may be lifted from the table by means of the handle attached to the top and stood in some out of the way corner until wanted for use again.

A grocery box, together with its cover or some additional box boards, is needed for working material.

After renailing any boards that may be loose, cut the board A of a length equal to the inside length of the box, and of a width equal to the inside depth of the box (Fig. 4), and the piece B of equal width and 2 1/2 inches high. Fasten piece B across the center of board A, with nails driven through A into the edge of B. Then fasten the nailed together pieces in the upper part of the box, as shown in Fig. 3, to form pigeon-holes. Nail through the ends of the box into the ends of board A, and down through the top into the edge of board B, to hold the pieces in place.

Strip C (Fig. 5) forms the front to a rack for stationery and loose papers (Figs. 2 and 3), and has four screw-hooks screwed into it (Fig. 5) for pen and pencil racks. Cut this strip of a length equal to the inside length of the box, and about 2 inches wide, and fasten it between the ends of the box, about 1 inch out from the box bottom, by driving nails through the box ends into its ends.

The box-cover boards should be fastened together with two strips placed across them near the ends as shown in Fig. 1, for the front drop-leaf. Either nail or screw these cross-pieces to the boards, using nails or screws short enough so they will not go all the way through the two thicknesses of wood. Hinge the drop-leaf to the inside of the desk bottom with a pair of 2-inch hinges, as shown in Fig. 2. Fasten a small hook to each end of the desk, and screw a small screw-eye into each end of the drop-leaf in the proper position for it to hook into, as a means for hooking the drop-leaf when closed.

A parcel handle will make a satisfactory handle for carrying the desk by (Fig. 7).

It would not be safe to keep an ink bottle in your portable desk without fastening it. There would be too many chances of upsetting it. A good way of securing it is that shown in Fig. 6. Get a long, heavy rubber-band, or a piece of elastic, and tack its ends to the inside of one desk end, as indicated in Fig. 3. This will form a pocket into which the bottle may be slipped with safety, as the rubber will hold the bottle tight against the desk end (Fig. 3).

A DANCING DOLL.
The little dancing doll in the illustration will dance as gracefully as a fairy and keep perfect time to any music you may furnish. All the materials required to make it are a piece of thin white cardboard, a coarse thread and needle, some pink water-color paint or a pink crayon pencil, four broom straws, and a piece of tissue-paper.

The first thing to do is to prepare the different parts of the doll, and as these are shown natural size in Figs. 4, 5, 6 and 7, they can be cut right out of this page. Only one arm and one leg is shown, however, and you will have to use these parts as patterns for marking out the second arm and leg. Paste the paper parts upon lightweight cardboard to give them stiffness. To fasten the parts together, pierce holes through them with a pencil point or a hat-pin, at the points A, B and C (Figs. 4, 5, 6 and 7), and join the correspondingly lettered holes with thread, tying a knot on each end of each thread enough larger than the holes to keep the parts from slipping off. Figure 2 shows the doll assembled complete. The circular piece with the center cut out of it, shown in Fig. 3, fits down over the doll's body, resting upon its hips, as shown in Fig. 2. It is cut through on one side to make it easier to slip it over the doll's body. This piece forms the top of the standard which supports the doll while dancing. Pierce four holes through it, near the outer edge, and at equal distances apart;

Insert a broom straw in each hole, bend over the top, and glue it to the cardboard so it will not slip out. Cut off the lower ends of the straws so they will extend just a trifle below the doll's feet when the doll is stood upon its broomstraw standard.

To dress the doll, cut a strip of tissue-paper three and one-half inches wide and 25 inches long, pleat or gather it, and sew it around the doll's waist for a skirt. Then make a waist out of the same material and sew it in place. Cut a pretty head of the right size from a magazine, and paste it to the doll's head.

When the doll is finished, place her on a piece of cardboard with the end of the cardboard extending over the edge of the table, tap the cardboard with your fingers, and you will be delighted upon discovering how gracefully she can dance.

'TWOULD BE SWEET TO DIE'

Thought This Lady, While Undergoing 'Frightful Experience, Here Told First Time.

Linn, W. Va.—"There is no doubt but that my life was saved by the use of Cardul, the woman's tonic," says Mrs. Abbie Shackelford, of this town. "Before using Cardul, I was very bad off—would have nervous and shaking spells through my entire body, terrible sick headaches, and would find myself gasping for breath. I often thought during those trying times that it would be sweet to die."

I took many different medicines and treatments, but they did me no good. I got weaker and weaker every day. Finally, I decided to try Cardul and got two bottles. I was certainly greatly surprised to note the quick change for the better, after taking only one-third of the first bottle. The shaky spells and sick headache have entirely disappeared. Can now walk one mile to church and back, and not feel tired.

Cardul also proved a blessing to my oldest daughter. Everyone thought she had appendicitis, on account of a bad pain in her side, but Cardul brought her back to good health.

I will never be without Cardul in the house."

Cardul will surely do for you, what it has done for so many thousands of other women. It will help you.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HER GRAY HAIR

She Made Up a Mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to Bring Back Color, Gloss, Thickness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 15.

CHRIST'S HATRED OF SHAMS.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 11:37-54. GOLDEN TEXT—"Be not deceived; God is not mocked."—Gal. 6:7.

This is a strange breakfast episode (to "dine" means literally, to breakfast). Jesus accepted three such invitations from the Pharisees and was accused of being a glutton and a wine bibber, Matt. 11:19; Luke 7:36, 39, 44. In this instance we are told plainly (v. 54) why he had been asked to this feast. At a later time, e. g. during the Passion week, Jesus delivered a special discourse against the Pharisees (Matt. 23) in which he repeated many of the things we study today.

Must Be Clean.
I. False vs. True Cleanliness (vv. 37-44). The orthodox Jew is very punctilious to avoid ceremonial uncleanness. In Christ's time this ceremonialism was at its highest development. To be defiled was far worse than to be morally unclean. This Pharisee "marveled" that Jesus was not likewise concerned with his outward acts (v. 39, see also Matt. 23:25, 26). To have a clean cup and platter was more important than to have a clean heart. In a fragment of Gospel found at Oxyrhynchus, Jesus is reputed to have said to a Pharisee: "Thou hast washed in waters wherein dogs and swine have been cast, and wiped the outside skin which also harlots anoint and beautify, but within they are full of scorpions and all wickedness. But I have been dipped in the waters of eternal life which come from the throne of God." Pious platters, presented in pride, must be inwardly purified.

Jesus pronounces three "woes," griefs that like an avenging nemesis hang over men of such a character. (1) A "woe" against those who make a show of tithing the common garden mint and herbs and at the same time avoid the weightier matters of just relations to their fellow men and love to God (v. 42). We are not to neglect our churchly duties at all, but these cannot be substituted for righteousness (see Micha 6:8). (2) A "woe" against those who love the places of pre-eminence (v. 43, cf. Matt. 23:6, 7). This spirit has not departed from the church after a lapse of centuries. It is unchristian, unchristlike. The great one must be the servant of all (Matt. 23:11, 20:28, John 13:14, 15, Phil. 2:5-8). (3) (v. 43), The third "woe" is directed against hypocrisy. To touch a grave was to become unclean, and hence they were white-washed to give men warning. Many Christians are without beautiful to behold, yet within full of dead men's bones and all manner of uncleanness.

The Three Woes.
II. Real vs. Sham Lives (vv. 45-54). The lawyers were the theologians, the expounders of the Mosaic law. Evidently the words of Jesus produced great conviction. The word "reproachest" (v. 45) means "to treat spitefully," and the probabilities are that he spoke to Jesus as if to rebuke him. Jesus at once pronounces three woes upon him and his class. (1) A "woe" because they laid burdens upon others which they themselves would not even touch with one of their fingers (Matt. 23:4). That is, they added to the law minute and troublesome details, which they declared to be more important than the law itself. (2) (v. 47) A "woe" is pronounced upon them for honoring the dead prophets and at the same time rejecting and persecuting those that were living. To honor dead teachers, to praise the prophets of the past, those whom we cannot endure while living, is a form of hypocrisy which costs but little. It implies that had they lived in the days of their fathers their conduct would have been indifferent, yet they are with the living prophets, following the example of their fathers. God foresaw this (v. 49) and the faithful minister of his word must expect a like treatment (Mk. 10:29, 30). (3) (v. 12) The third "woe" was pronounced against these religious teachers because, possessing the key to knowledge, they neither entered themselves nor would they allow others to enter; "ye enter not in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering in to enter." (Matt. 23:13, Am. Ry.). These lawyers, theologians, were professedly interpreters of the law, that law which was the foundation and bulwark of the Jewish nation. In fact, however, they had so obscured and "explained" that law as to leave men in darkness. Supposed to lead men into truth, they were shutting them out of the truth. What a terrible indictment of many of this present age.

We quote from the letter of a Wisconsin business man: "The average man is interested in the teachings of the Bible. If the Bible cannot stand upon its own feet, it is foolish to bolster it up by any personal ideas. We make too many apologies for Scriptures and do not stand squarely by what it teaches." Not a few who occupy the position of teachers obscure the truth of God and they shut men out of a real knowledge of him. Jesus thus replies to both Pharisees and the lawyer, that character is not a garment to wear, but it is the inward furnishing of the heart.
