Have you got hoarseness that continues? Or do you get hoarse once in a while, whenever you get the slightest cold? Hoarseness means a catarrhal condition of the vocal cords. The vocal cords are way down in the larynx and when affected by hoarseness should cause serious concern. Feruna has been found to be an excellent remedy for such cases. We have received testimonials from responsible people who have been relieved of hoarseness by Feruna. Should you want to read a lot of excellent testimonials on all subjects write for the "ILLS OF LIFE" sent free by the Feruna Co., Columbus, Ohio. Feruna can also be obtained in tablet form. MOTHER! LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs"

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

Too Good.

"To say that honesty is the best policy—to say in other words, that the more honest you are the richer you will become—that is a silly and self-evident lie."

The speaker, Harvey Woodruff, the well-known G. A. R. historian of Houston, had been discussing the honesty of George Washington. He continued: "To be virtuous means to be poor and wretched. Take the case of Auntie Martha Washington Clay."

"Auntie Martha visited the office of a Nola Chucky lawyer and said: 'Ah wants a divorce from mah husband Cal.'"

"Why, auntie, what has Cal been doing?" "He's done got religion, sah, an' ahn't tasted chicken 'fo' free months."

Peace in That Family.

A little girl being lost, was taken to the police station, where the officers tried to learn her name. At last, after many vain efforts, one of them asked her:

"Tell me, dear, what names does your mother call your father?" "She doesn't call him any name," the child answered, innocently. "She likes him."

LIFE'S ROAD

Smoothed by Change of Food.

Worry is a big load to carry and an unnecessary one. When accompanied by indigestion it certainly is cause for the blues.

But the whole trouble may be easily thrown off and life's road be made easy and comfortable by proper eating and the cultivation of good cheer. Read what a Troy woman says:

"Two years ago I made the acquaintance of Grape-Nuts and have used the food once a day and sometimes twice, ever since."

"At the time I began to use it life was a burden. I was for years afflicted with bilious sick headache, caused by indigestion, and nothing seemed to relieve me."

"The trouble became so severe I had to leave my work for days at a time."

"My nerves were in such a state I could not sleep and the doctor said I was on the verge of nervous prostration. I saw an adv. concerning Grape-Nuts and bought a package for trial."

"What Grape-Nuts has done for me is certainly marvelous. I can now sleep like a child, am entirely free from the old trouble and have not had a headache in over a year. I feel like a new person. I have recommended it to others. One man I knew ate principally Grape-Nuts while working on the ice all winter, and said he never felt better in his life."

SENATOR FALL SAYS "LET'S INTERVENE!"

NEW MEXICO SENATOR MAKES HEATED ATTACK ON "HANDS OFF" POLICY.

SPEAKS FOR THREE HOURS

Senator Shively of Indiana in Animated Speech Defends the President's Course in Mexican Affairs.—Mexican Outrages Are Enumerated.

Washington.—The lid of secrecy regarding Mexican affairs was lifted in the United States Senate by Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, who urged armed intervention for the protection of Americans and other foreigners in the stricken republic.

The galleries were crowded to overflowing and remained so for hours until Senator Shively of Indiana had spoken for the administration, expressing regret that the subject had been discussed in open session and averring that no adequate solution had been offered for the problem.

Senator Fall in a lengthy narration of incidents of outrages to Americans in Mexico, held the interest of the senate and galleries for more than three hours. Assailing the administration policy as inadequate and declaring President Wilson knew nothing about real relations and had been mistaken in every act of his administration toward Mexico, the New Mexico senator pleaded for intervention for protection to avoid inevitable war.

Emphasizing the danger of war with a great foreign power unless something should be done speedily, Senator Fall referred to comments in the German press over the killing of the British subject, Benton, by order of General Villa's court martial, and declared:

"When the German official press says that should a German citizen be murdered in Mexico, Germany would not acquiesce like Great Britain, then I say unto you, senators, there is imminent danger of a conflict between the United States and this country with which we should always be at peace."

"I believe the American people can be left to handle any critical condition, provided they are informed on the subject. I am not one who believes it 'incompatible with the public interest' to send to this senate details of outrages on American citizens. I am not one who believes the Constitution should be pushed aside and one man allowed to assume the executive and legislative powers of the government."

Senator Shively, replying, as acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, declared Senator Fall's policy would mean actual armed intervention, and that intervention meant war. He deplored that the situation thus had been discussed in the open senate declaring it would have harmful influence on the attitude and temper of the Mexican people.

Waco, Texas.—The Exporters and Traders Warehouse containing 6,000 bales of cotton valued at $420,000 caught fire during a high gale. The city's whole fire fighting equipment turned out, but the fire spread to the entire warehouse and platforms laden with cotton. The warehouse is in East Waco.

Spartanburg, S. C.—Efforts of H. W. Eason, a salesman in J. D. Collins' store on East Main street, to sell a pair of small boy's trousers to W. Y. J. Brown, a farmer who lives near Landrum, resulted in Eason getting shot in three places and Brown's throat and face being severely slashed.

Drive 1,700 Men Out of City.

Sacramento, Cal.—Three militia companies stood guard to see that "General" Kelley and 1,700 unemployed men obeyed orders when a special train was made up to carry them out of the city. It was planned to ship them back to San Francisco. The marchers, who left San Francisco last week for the purpose, it was announced, of going to Washington, D. C., have been camped on Southern Pacific property. The situation at the "army" camp was both ludicrous and threatening.

A TOY WINDMILL.

No mechanical toy is more interesting to make, nor more interesting to watch when in operation than a miniature windmill. It is a very simple toy to construct, and all of the material that it requires can usually be found at hand, which are two reasons why it is one of the most popular of home-made toys, and why nearly every boy at one time or another builds one.

Figure 1 shows a small model which may be constructed quickly. You will notice by the detail illustrations that the hub of the windmill is a spool (Fig. 2), that the blades are cut out of cigar-box wood, shingles, tin, or cardboard, and are fastened to the side of short spoke sticks driven into holes bored in the spool hub (Fig. 3), that the hub turns on the rounded end of a stick shaft (Fig. 4), that the square end of the shaft is slotted to receive a fan-shaped tail (Fig. 5), and that the shaft is pivoted to the top of a clothes-post, or a post put up for the purpose (Figs. 1 and 6).

Use a large ribbon-spool for the hub. You can get one at any dry goods store. Locate eight holes around the center of the spool, at equal distances from one another, and bore these with a gimlet or bit, or cut them with your jackknife.

Cut the eight blades 6 inches long, 5 inches wide on their wide edge, and 1 1/2 inches wide on their narrow edge. Prepare the hub sticks about 1/2 inch by 1/4 inch by 1/4 inches in size, and whittle one end pointed to fit in the hub (Fig. 3). Fasten the blades to the spokes with nails long enough to drive through the spokes and clinch on the under side. Glue the spokes in the hub holes, turning them so the blades will stand at about the angle shown.

The shaft should be made of a hard wood stick about 3/4 inch by 1 1/2 inches by 14 inches in size. Cut the round end small enough so the hub will turn on it freely, and punch a small hole through it so a brad may be driven through it to hold the hub in place. Cut the slot in the square end with a saw. Make the tail about 5 1/2 inches long, 4 inches wide at its wide end, and 2 inches wide at its narrow end (Fig. 5).

The windmill must be pivoted to the post support at its exact balancing point. Pivot the shaft with a long nail. Bore a hole through the shaft a trifle larger than the nail, so the shaft will turn freely. Place a washer between the nail-head and the shaft, and another between the shaft and the post support.

Figure 6 shows how the power from the toy windmill may be utilized to operate a toy jumping-jack, by supporting the jumping-jack on a bracket and connecting its string to the hub of the windmill. Cut the upright of the bracket (A) 14 inches long and the cross piece (B) 7 inches long. Nail A to B, and nail the jumping-jack at its center to the end of B (Fig. 7). Fasten the triangular block (C) to the lower end of A, and then nail both A and B to the edge of the shaft at a point that will bring the string of the jumping-jack a trifle beyond the windmill blades. Fasten a small stick, having a brad driven in one end, in notches cut in the hub's flanges (Fig.

8), and connect the brad and jack's string with a piece of wire or strong string. Then as the windmill revolves it will operate the toy as indicated in Figs. 6 and 7.

BERRY BOX FURNITURE.

Has it ever occurred to you girls that pretty pieces of doll furniture may be made out of the little berry boxes so plentiful at this season of the year? Several of the easily made pieces are illustrated below. All the material you need to make these are various shapes and sizes of berry boxes, a sharp knife, and a bottle of glue.

The little swinging seat in illustration No. 1 is made from the bottom and two ends of a square pint box, with the ends tapered off with a knife. A strong linen thread, knotted on the end and run through holes pierced in four places, provides "chains" to hang it by. It may be suspended from a chair round.

Illustration No. 2 shows a sofa that is made out of a long shaped quart berry box. All you have to do is remove one side of the box down to the bottom, then carefully cut away the end as shown, to form arms, and the sofa is completed.

The chair shown in illustration No. 3 is made of two adjoining sides of a pint box, which form the back, seat, and front legs, and an extra piece which forms the back legs. One side piece forms the chair back, and the other side is scored along its center with a knife, and bent down to form the seat and front legs. The rear legs are made of the extra piece, which is glued to the chair back.

The little footstool shown in illustration No. 4 is quite simple to make. One side of a pint box is used, and it is only necessary to score the piece one-half inch from each end, and bend down the ends for legs.

The library table (illustration No. 5) is made out of a pint berry box, with one-half of the height of the sides removed all around, in one piece, and the piece removed fastened edgewise inside of the box for the base.

In illustration No. 6 is shown a very comfortable little doll's bed, made from a quart berry box. Split down each corner half-way. Then, leaving one side of the box whole, for the head of the bed, cut down the opposite side about one-half, for the foot, and trim down the other two sides for the sides of the bed.

The cupboard in illustration No. 7 is made out of a quart berry box, with shelves cut from the sides of other boxes fastened inside with glue. Hang curtains made of scraps from the rag bag across the front.

DROVE GUORMET TO SARCAISM

Evidently French Restaurant Wine Was Not Exactly the Quality He Had Ordered.

William E. Corey praised at a Pittsburgh club the wines of California. "Our California wines," said the steel magnate, "are much better than wines of a similar price in France, for French wines are so adulterated today that even a high-priced one often tastes like burnt sugar and water."

"But the fine wines, the 'grand cru' wines are wonderful," a young banker interrupted.

Mr. Corey shook his head. "Not always," he said. "A friend of mine, a gourmet with whom I lunched not long ago at a fashionable boulevard restaurant in Paris, ordered a bottle of very old celebrated Margaux. Pouring out a little of the wine and rolling it on his tongue in true gourmet fashion he made a wry face."

"Walter," he demanded, "What wine is this you brought me?" "It is what monsieur ordered," was the reply. "Margaux 1895, grand cru." "Humph," sneered my friend, "how lucky it is to be so old and to conceal its age so well."

Testing Nephew's Knowledge. There is a certain old German of Wilkesbarre, Pa., whose pride, like that of many self-made men, leads him at times into a sort of patronizing condescension toward those things he did not "have time for" when he was making his way in life.

Upon the occasion of the graduation of a nephew, he asked: "Vell, Wilhelm, vot did dey teach you up there?" "Greek and Latin," said the boy, "and German and algebra."

"So, so!" murmured the old German. "And vot's der algebra for potatoes, now?"—Youth's Companion.
