Cling to Eastern Customs.
Although a railway now connects Damascus with Beirut, it has introduced no great change in the customs of the natives and their mode of living. The streets in the newer quarters are fairly broad and clean, but the older streets, while broad enough, are dirty, and the houses dilapidated.

Greeley's Religion.
Horace Greeley was a Universalist in religion and was a regular attendant at the "Church of the Divine Paternity," of which the famous Dr. E. H. Chapin was minister. Greeley died in 1873, at the age of sixty-one, broken-hearted over his wife's death and his political discomfiture.

Doctor or Undertaker.
Upon meeting a rather sour-faced woman in the car the other day, the pleasant faced young man said cheerily: "Good morning! How are you today?" "Not so well," was the reply. "I have rheumatism and an awful cold, my right arm is dreadfully swollen, and there's a ra—" but the young man fled, probably to get an ambulance.

Mean Remark.
"Why do you say that Brown is smarter than you are?" "Why, you see, he had a chance once to marry my wife—and didn't."
