To Our Subscribers

We have refrained from sending statements to our subscribers, preferring that amounts come to us voluntarily. Conditions for the past several months have thrown a damper over the entire country. We have realized this, and can understand why subscriptions have not been normal as in the fall months, when the farmer sells his cotton, tobacco and peanuts. Our friends have ever been faithful to us, and for that reason we appreciate their position. But with very few exceptions, the farmers of Martin County are not feeling the war atmosphere which has smothered so many throughout this goodly land.

During the war in Europe, we have endeavored to give on the inside pages of THE ENTERPRISE the latest news from the warring nations, and in this way keep our subscribers in touch with those affairs most talked about. To those who do not take a daily paper, this war news is interesting and there are many of our subscribers who appreciate the effort on our part to give them the news so important to us in far-off America. In other ways, we have tried to be a welcome guest in the homes of this people. Our ad columns are interesting, legal notices and bank statements form an important part of the paper's make-up, and every citizen of the County should patronize his home paper for his own good and that of the County.

If you are not a subscriber, become one. If you are in arrears, mail or bring the amount, we will appreciate it.

On Thanksgiving Day there should be fitting expressions for this blessed country where peace broods over the entire land. The American people have more to be thankful for than any nation on earth.

It would interest Martin County farmers to attend the Drainage Convention at Wilson next week. Thousands of acres of land right in our midst could be reclaimed if we knew the principles of drainage.

Post it on your wall that next year you will raise less cotton and more food stuff, and increase the number of stock in the pastures. The situation is in the hands of the farmers of the South. Will they be wise or foolish?

The amendments were defeated by a good majority, and there is very little regret in the State. Probably the tax feature killed the whole thing, and a lack of education on the subject helped largely. They should not have been submitted to the people without a thorough canvass of the State. Other causes for their defeat might be named, but they are dead and it is needless to discuss it. Off years in politics often bring surprises to some folks.

Much sympathy is felt for Farmville in the recent fire which destroyed considerable property, the greatest loss being the L. G. Morrow Warehouse Co. Just at this time the loss will be felt most. Mr. Morrow was at one time on the market here and is remembered by many people.

Another Veteran Gone

Again taps have been sounded and another son who fought in the immortal army of the South, has passed over the river to rest in the shade of the trees. Adolphus Coburn, a son of Martin County, a Confederate Veteran, member of Company F. 17th Regiment, North Carolina Troops, after months of declining health gave up the fight on Monday night, November 9th, and on Wednesday his body was laid to rest beneath the soil, which he had fought to preserve in those dark days of '61-'65.

He had lived many years in Williamston, and until his strength failed, had worked willingly with his hands; he lived quietly and peacefully among this people, a friend to every man and every man his friend. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Robertson, with whom he lived, and a son, Smith Coburn, of Norfolk.

Hamilton Items

W. S. Rhodes spent several days in Norfolk last week.

Miss Ruth Floyd spent the week-end here.

Miss Cordie Purvis is away on a visit to friends.

Mrs. J. B. Williams and little daughter are visiting relatives in Norfolk.

Walter Davenport and family spent Sunday here.

Sow Crimson Clover and Save Fertilizer Bills

The indications are that prices of fertilizer the coming season will be much higher than usual, owing to the fact that the supply of fertilizer materials will be largely cut off on account of the European war. This should cause farmers everywhere to put land in crops that will save fertilizer bills. Nothing will do this better than Crimson Clover. It is unquestionably one of the best soil-improvers that can be put in, and wherever it is grown, it gives largely increased crops of corn, cotton and tobacco. We have secured more liberal supplies of Crimson Clover than was expected and will be able to sell at much more reasonable prices than was anticipated. WOOD'S CROP SPECIAL gives full and interesting information about the fertilizing value of Crimson Clover; also about other seeds for Fall sowing. Write for Crop Special and prices of any seeds required.
