MRS. PHILLIPS TAKES IRON IF BLOOD IS BAD

Suffered two Years with Pellagra, Couldn't walk about the House. Iron Built Her Up. Tells what Kind of Iron to Take

Everyone's energy, vitality and general good health depends so much upon the condition of their blood, and the normal functioning of the vital organs of the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels, the slightest irregularity should be corrected immediately. Anyone troubled with their blood, for instance, is sure to sooner or later experience uric acid pains, weak, lame, back, list strength, nervousness, headaches, dizzy spells, or some other kindred symptoms, and iron has become so well known as the one best remedy everybody should use it. The question is, in what form? Iron is put up by the chemist in pills, liquid solutions and mixed with all sorts of elements including in some cases altogether too much alcohol for the good of the system. The cheapest, strongest, most efficient remedy is plain, natural iron, highly concentrated, and bottled just as nature intended it should be taken. It is called Acid Iron Mineral, is sold by druggist in fifty cent and dollar bottles. It goes from two to six times as far. It will help the digestion, stomach, kidneys and blood. If the bowels are inactive a good liver pill like the A-I-M Liver Pill at 25c for a generous size box is recommended. People with normal bowels should not use iron formed in combination with laxatives. Altogether too many remedies contain purgatives. To indicate how quickly Acid Iron Mineral will cleanse the blood and tone up the general system and renew the wasted strength the statement of Mrs. N. E. Phillips of Kershaw, S. C., is quoted below. "I began to be troubled with my bowels, stomach and blood a little over two years ago. It finally turned into pellagra and at the end of that two years, suffering I couldn't even walk about the house. Mrs. Ella Hunter suggested I take Acid Iron Mineral and after taking it six weeks and using but four small bottles, I am up and about doing my work and gaining in strength every day. It has done more for me than anything I have ever tried and am glad indeed to recommend it to any one who needs a good tonic or for pellagra or stomach trouble. A teaspoonful of Acid Iron Mineral in a glass of drinking water after meals makes an unusual, powerful, economical and delightfully invigorating tonic, appetizer, blood, and kidney remedy.
