LIGHT PLANT AND WATERWORKS PROJECT ARE ABOUT COMPLETED

We visited the new water and electric plant this week and found the "house" and the entire work bearing completion. It is a tremendous project and one that we shall feel proud of. The engineer in charge, Mr. James Fiddle, took us through the plant and explained in detail the various machines and compartments.

We find that there has been laid in the streets of Williamston six miles of sewer pipe with the necessary manholes—flush tank; and about five and one-half miles of water main, with the essential fire hydrants and cut-off valves. One large septic tank has been completed for the disposal of sewage matter.

A combined engine and boiler house 66x98 1-2 feet has been finished and in it are two large boilers of two hundred and fifty horse power each one one hundred and eighty-five horse power engine, a generator and an exciter. In this pump house the cement foundation for the engine and generator now in use at the electric plant at the river has been laid and when the wires and current are connected at the new plant these will be moved. The two sets of engines and generators are of the same size, style and make. Two centrifugal pumps will make attached an two large Sullivan air compressors with motors have also been installed in this building.

What are in place there will be a complete duplicate set of all machines, thus providing against any accident or dependence upon a single unit. We are having sub-titute machines not only for convenience but also required to do so by the laws of the fire insurance companies.

Outside the building and in the lot are three wells, each four hundred and twenty feet deep, six inches in diameter. These wells have been tested and found to be of a hundred gallon capacity per minute, each of good clear water. A seventy-five-hundred gallon capacity still tank, one hundred and twenty-five feet in height has been erected to give a steady pressure of forty to fifty pounds to the hydrant. A reinforced cement reservoir of 250,000 gallon capacity has been finished. Into the reservoir the water from the wells is drawn by means of compressed air and from it pumped into the tank and water mains. All of the machinery, tank and reservoir are of the latest design and the best of their kind. The work is now completed with the exception of the steam connections of boilers and engines, connecting the wells with the reservoir and tank—this work is being done now and Williamston will soon have a complete and up to date water and electric plant.

WILLIAMSTON BUILDER MAKES GOOD RECORD

The following was clipped from the Scotland Neck Commonwealth, and tells of the good record made by Mr. R. L. Gravelly, of Williamston, who was the construction superintendent of the building mentioned:

The new home of the Scotland Neck Motor Co., is about completed and will soon be occupied by them as soon as the new mechanical equipment ordered for this modern garage is received. This building is one that does credit to our city. It is a two story brick building containing a quarter of an acre of floor space and designed and built exclusively for garage purposes.

Mr. H. E. Dodge, the popular owner of the Scotland Neck Motor Co., is to be congratulated on putting through an undertaking of the magnitude in these strenuous times.

The contractor for the building was Mr. J. M. Smoot of Roanoke Rapids, N. C. Mr. R. L. Gravelly, of Williamston, N. C., was construction superintendent in charge of the work. These men have exerted every effort to rush the building, and at the same time do substantial work. It is only four months since the foundation was laid—a very good record.

The first floor will contain office, display room, stock room and storage space. The second floor has no columns and will be used for a work room. There is an electric elevator of four tons capacity to carry cars up to the second floor. This floor is unusually well lighted so that a maximum of daylight will be available for doing accurate work, such as this shop is noted for.

NIGHT RIDERS WARN TOBACCO GROWERS

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 23.—Night riders Saturday night visited farmers in Bath and Fleming counties and warned them not to haul any more tobacco to market until prices were higher, according to reports received here tonight. The reports received from Mt. Sterling, Carlisle and Flemingsburg, said that the growers were warned that their barns would be burned and that they would be dealt with severely unless the complied.

The band, consisting of twenty-five or thirty masked men, visited farmers near Sherbourne, in Fleming county, 12 miles from Flemingsburg and Bethel, in Bath county, 12 miles from Carlisle. In all, about fifteen farmers were visited, although the name of only five were disclosed by the authorities.

T. B. Robertson, wealthy farmer, near Bethel, was called to his door at 12:30 o'clock Saturday night, according to a report from Carlisle. Four men standing with their backs to him warned him that he was not haul any more tobacco, neither was he to rent any of his farms to tobacco raising nor raise any himself.

The warning was accompanied by threats of violence to himself and his property, if he failed to obey.

Thomas Croach, Jake Boyd, and a farmer named Stevens were then visited and the warning repeated. The band next showed up near Sherbourne in Fleming county and warned two farmers named Shields and Tomlin. They are known to have visited three other farmers but when the occupants came to the door they laughed and said they were "looking for a doctor."

SIDNA ALLEN SAYS HE IS NOW OUT OF DEBT

Winston-Salem, Jan. 19.—By making cedar chest in recreation hours at the penitentiary in Richmond, Va. Sidna Allen, serving a 30-year sentence for taking part with the Alford gang, standing up the court at Hillsborough, N. C., county, Va., eight years ago, has sufficient money to pay off every cent of his bills.

A woman manufacturing company in Winston-Salem offered to release him from a debt as a Christmas gift to his family, but the offer was declined, and the debt paid in full with interest. Allen wrote that this was the last dollar he owed in the world, and that nothing could satisfy him so much as the knowledge that it had been paid.

COOPERATIVE WORK IS A MONEY-SAVER

During the last year a farmers' exchange in Beaufort County, N. C., saved its members and the farmers in the community between $75,000 and $100,000, according to a report to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The organization, formed to aid potato growers, has shown high proficiency in cooperation. Last season its activities were confined to the purchasing of branded barrel covers and the selling of potatoes. Thirty-five thousand barrel covers were bought at a saving of $700, and 126 carload lots of potatoes were sold with a saving of $50,000.

A great growth in cooperative marketing and purchasing has been one of the outstanding results of extension work in the South. County agents, assisted by marketing specialists, through marketing demonstrations and by instruction in advance, have aided local and county associations of farmers in the cooperative selling of many kinds of farm produce and live stock, and in the cooperative purchasing of a great variety of farm necessities.

Farmers have gained knowledge of methods and acquired confidence in their ability to do business on a cooperative basis. They are beginning to undertake definite business organizations on a county-wide and a State-wide scale for the marketing of their main cash crops, such as cotton, tobacco, and peanuts.

Owing to the cooperative work in cotton-grading, classing, and stapling and information given given as to the market value of the various grades and staples by extension workers, it is estimated that between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 were saved to the cotton farmers of Texas during the year in increased returns.

REMEMBER THIS

When Abraham Lincoln was a young man he ran for the legislature in Illinois and was badly swamped. The next entered business, failed and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

He was in love with a beautiful young woman to whom he became engaged—then she died.

Later he married a woman who was a constant burden to him. Enduring politics he ran for Congress and was badly defeated—then tried to get an appointment to the United States land office, but failed.

He became a candidate for a United States Senate, and was badly defeated.

In 1856 he became a candidate for the vice-presidency and was again defeated.

In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas.

One failure after another—bad failures—great set-backs. In the face of all this he eventually became one of the country's greatest men.

When you think of a series of set-backs like this, doesn't it make you feel kind of small to become discouraged because you think you are having a hard time in life?—Sing Sing Bulletin.
