The "LITTLE GIANT" Bean Harvester

Is the Best Machine Built for Harvesting Soy Beans

The wheels and axle are the same as used on a mower. No tires, no cone hose, no wheel to push out of shape, so your chains won't sag. The belt is easily adjustable from 4 to 12 inches from the ground, the beater weighs about 225 pounds and averages as a balance with a cutting light draft. No matter how large your beans are, two 500 pound wheels pull "The Little Giant" with ease. The front lever on the belt throw, the beater in and out of gear without stopping your team. It evenly cuts 7 inches from center to center of tread. Will work in a 3 foot row.

I guarantee it the most durable and lightest draft machine on the market. I also sell two models of the Pretzard Machine, and two models of the Scott Machine.

"NEW-WOMAN" IDEA IN CHINA

Modern Agitators Work Along Lines That Would Rid Orient of "Clinging Vine"

About the only thing of modern things to which China has not laid claim is being so old in that country that it was outworn and discarded centuries ago. Is the new woman with a magazine of her very own, published in the interest of her development. This publication, observes the Pittsburgh Dispatch, called the New Woman, boldly states as its object the reform of the old society to give a more honorable place to women and the new woman is described as "a joyous being, of honest occupation, complete personality, free, independent and mutually helpful."

Yet the new woman of China comes in for some criticism for among the things she is exhorted to cultivate are plain living and dressing, which, the writer goes on to say, was the rule in old China, but that now women wish to keep up with the styles and wear jewels. They are reminded that the chief thing about good dressing is to wear clean clothing. Another admission to the new woman of China which might indicate she is prone to err, just like the new woman of any other land, is that she put far away from her the desire for empty glory of "face."

In other respects the things commended for the new woman seem to be along the same lines as in other lands—the cultivation of strength of will to go outside the home and mingle with others and take part in public affairs, and to discard the clinging vine habit of looking to the men for everything.

HAY FEVERITES MADE TOWN

Chance Discovery Had Great Effect on the Building Up of Potoskey, Mich.

A most unwise visitor is hay fever. With its advent a vast army of hay feverites move northward, some to the Maine woods, some to Mackinac Island and points farther north, and many to Potoskey, Mich., or its immediate vicinity, which seems to be a most popular camping ground for sufferers from the "hay."

We met a real old lady there a few summers ago, who told us that she believed she was the first person to discover that the Potoskey atmosphere had a curative effect on hay fever; she was a sufferer with that disease herself and more than fifty years ago, she said, she and her husband were en route by boat from Chicago to a point much farther north when they were driven by a violent storm into the bay at Potoskey, where they remained for two or three days, during which time she noticed that she was entirely free from hay fever. At that time the medical profession was giving hay fever an extensive study so when this lady and her husband returned to Chicago they related their experience and suggested that as Potoskey was so accessible to Chicago the hay feverites form a colony and try out the place the next summer which they did. They found Potoskey a straggling Indian village, with positively no accommodations for visitors, but as they went on and people continued to go there each year for hay fever it gradually grew into a flourishing up-to-date town with several thousand inhabitants.
