PITT COUNTY POINTS TO PONDER

When the final summing up of his speech was that only one danger lay in the way of the association and that is disloyalty of its members. His denunciation of that type was very severe and was very true.

Between you and me
Where the honey is—
When c'er the keg starts leaking
And the cider 'gins to drip,
Then comes the thirsty sneaking
Around to get a sip.

So, if one man can win you
Into some wild cat game,
They all think they can skin you
In manner just the same.

Just weaken one iota—
Dare ounce to risk—and fall,
And every fake promoter
At your front door will call.

For once the flies discover
The plate that honey's on,
They quickly 'round it hover
Till all the honey's gone.

WEEKLY COTTON REPORT

All cotton markets have been advancing this week due to settlement of the Turkish question, lighter offerings in most sections of the belt, private reports of a smaller yield than the trade expected, and a good demand from southern mills. Sales in foreign markets have also increased. This should be followed by a better demand from abroad.

The Consumption Report for September was published to-day showing 495,344 bales, against 484,718 bales last year. The total consumption of cotton during August and September amounted to 1,022,748 bales, against 951,777 bales last year.

Exports to date are slightly less than those of 1921. This is due to unsettled conditions in foreign countries. As stated above, sales of cotton in foreign markets are increasing, and exports from the Gulf port have been much larger this month than last.

Most of the crop has been picked, offerings are lighter, the demand good, and unless something unforeseen occurs, the market should continue to work higher.

CROP REPORTING SERVICE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE RALEIGH, N. C.

(Released)

In spite of the adverse wet and dry extremes experienced here this year, we have already reached the goal ahead of last year in several crops and sure to get there with others.

CORN:
Corn at 80 per cent of a full crop is better than last year, excepting in certain droun-out areas of eastern and in excessively dry parts of central sections.

COTTON:
The large increase of 12 per cent in the acreage of cotton to be picked this year over a year ago doesn't net nearly the production—130,000 bales, made last year—776,000, but the average price is better, it having increased, whereas it decreased during the previous season. The 218 pounds this year mean a decrease of perhaps 25 per cent in the per-acre yield, but fifteen per cent increase in total value at 21 cents over 16.4 cents last season. This means, too, that the per-acre value may be $45.75 as compared with $43.29 the previous season. Of the cotton states, North Carolina leads in the per-acre yield and value. She also has the most cotton mills. It is reported that 43 per cent of the mills in the 14 Southern states are hers.

TOBACCO
An increase of 13 per cent in the tobacco acreage, and a slight increase of yield, at 607 pounds per acre, insures an increased production of about 22 percent. The average prices on the auction markets are not yet equal to those of last year. The total value of the crop is less than 2 per cent more. The value-per-acre is $152.30, based on the present information available. This is over two per cent less than it was last season.

SWEET POTATOES
The acreage of sweet potatoes was increased four per cent, as well as the yield. The price has declined rapidly and an over-supply is reaching many markets. The Southern sweet potato is not appreciated in the North because they do not know how to cook them. As with the prunes and raisins, the demand must be created. At 75 cents per bushel, the average acre of 106 bushels will be worth $79.35 this year if sold.

PEANUTS
As the digging of peanuts is just begun and the previous weather was so unfavorable in the commercial north-eastern counties, it is difficult to estimate the results. The acreage was reduced; the yield expected will be perhaps nearly 900 pounds per acre giving approximately 115,000,000 lbs. production, which, at 90 pounds, will give 1,280,000 bags in this state if all are marketed. There is quite a large acreage that is not picked and not counted in the above.

OUR RALIGH LETTER (By Llewkam.)

Raleigh, N. C., October 17, 1922—
Today the commanding general of the armies of the United States is in Raleigh the guest of the State and the State Fair. The widespread news that he would be at the State Capitol on Tuesday of the State Fair week has served to attract thousands of visitors from many counties and towns of the state as well as a number of people from outside of North Carolina. Today, therefore, the opening day of the Fair finds many thousands more people in attendance than usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday as well as Wednesday will be given over more to strictly "Showing North Carolina", the object and slogan of the State Fair this year and many thousands of Tarheel people who intend to see and enjoy the exhibits, the unusual fine races, and farm and stock exhibits will swarm into Raleigh later this week.

COME ON, everybody. The grounds and auto parking places have been made large enough this year to accommodate all who come.

ABLE ADDRESS BY MR. E. M. DePONCIE

Mr. E. M. DePONCIE, sales and advertising manager of the Peanut Growers association, was in town Friday and addressed a good audience of Farmers and Business men. Mr. DePONCIE comes to the exchange from California and had been in the employ of the Farmers Organization there for a long number of years. He comes direct from the raisin growers with whom he established a great reputation, selling 400,000,000 packages of raisins. He has been a great factor in building up that great state.

In his address he gave a full statement of what the books of the Exchange showed that Mr. Birdsong had done during his management, which seems to be good grounds for the suits that have been brought by the Exchange against him. He seemed to fiddle for his partners rather than for the association that had employed him.

Mr. Brophy is an engineering student from the Colorado Agricultural College and served with the Aviation Corps in England during the World War. He has had considerable experience in his chosen profession.

EIGHTY DOLLARS AND COST

An unusual action in our here was that by which Judge Lyon at the instance of Solicitor Norris imposed a penalty of eighty dollars and costs on one of the most popular citizens and bankers of the state. The penalty was imposed because the gentleman was not present in court as a witness when he was called.

He explained that he came here from Wilmington to respond to the summons and after waiting a day or so was given to understand that the case would not be called till late in the week and returned home. While there the case was disposed of. Mr. Thomas W. Cooper the witness involved, was penalized despite his statement. Solicitor Norris stated that it was the first time an action of this character since he went into office, some twelve years ago, or more.

Mr. Simon H. Cowan was found dead in a ditch on his farm near Bear Grass Church last Friday. Mr. Cowan was forty-seven years old and had never married and lived alone on his farm. For some time he had been having fits occasionally. He was seen by a neighbor at three o'clock Wednesday watering his stock at his lot and nothing more was seen of him until Friday morning his people became alarmed at not seeing him getting around as was his usual custom and made search for him. They went to his home and not finding him there they began searching around the farm and they soon found him dead in a ditch and his body almost covered by water. He very probably had a fit and fell in the ditch and in the absence of help drowned.
