Programs, that is, where the property is given as security.
Williamston has partially solved the problem of home building by the organization of a building and loan association. These associations have been put down as the prime factor in the development of every town or city that has not stagnated in its forward march. In fact, it has been proven very conclusively that a building and loan association is a necessity where homes are to be built to any appreciable number.

It is a mutual association in which the big and little can have a part, pooling the resources of each to such an extent that the fellow of meagre means but a steady income can borrow money with which to build a home of his own. There is nothing intricate about it. Small weekly payments are made by those purchasing stock or shares in the association and the weekly payments are spread over such a long period of time that it is not burdensome for any.

For instance, there is before us the constitution and by-laws of the association showing that a person can buy $1,000 worth of shares by paying only $1.00 per week. The same person can borrow $1,000 by paying $3.66 per week. In the case of the latter, the borrower is paying $3.66 per week and probably receiving rents to an amount equaling or more likely exceeding his weekly payments on the loan.

There is no need to argue that Williamston needs more homes, not so much for speculative buying and selling, but as permanent "nests" for those who make this town their native haven. What it does need, though, is for the people to open their eyes and see the opportunities before them, to build homes by getting connected with the building and loan association and building the necessary homes that must be built in the near future to house the increasing population of Williamston. Those who already have homes can do their share by purchasing stock in the association to enable others who do need homes, and advise them, to build at the earliest possible moment.

There is no better investment for a single dollar than shares in the building and loan association. The money is not only a profit pool for their own when they get a profit from the investments in the association.

Preparations are being made for the annual Easter display. A lot of thought is being given to the new hats and other things, for spring is not far away.

Did you ever want to go out to a meeting but couldn't because you had to watch the roast in the oven? Why not leave these worries to the fireless cooker?

"Well! Strong!"
Mrs. Ann Clover, of R. F. D. 5, Winfield, Kans., says: "I began to suffer some months ago with womanly troubles, and I was afraid I was going to get in bed. Each month I suffered with my head, back and sides—a weak, aching, nervous feeling. I began to try medicines as I knew I was getting worse. I did not seem to find the right remedy until someone told me of CARDUI.
The Women's Tonic
I used two bottles before I could see any great change, but after that it was remarkable how much better I got. I am now well and strong. I can recommend Cardui, for it certainly benefited me."
If you have been experimenting on yourself with all kinds of different remedies, better get back to good, old, reliable Cardui, the medicine for women, about which you have always heard, which has helped many thousands of others, and which should help you, too. Ask your neighbor about it; she has probably used it.
