Tammany and Politics

The news has finally come out that Tammany aint in politics. That sounds about as near like the truth as the statement that fish don't live in water.

Can it be that we have a great organization that fails to know it weakens it. It sounds almost exactly like the words of Peter when he cursed and swore, "I never knew Him."

It can't be that Tammany wants to appear more righteous than ordinary folks, because it would be too hard to convince folks that it is so.

As much as we doubt there being the slightest trace of truth in that statement that Tammany is not in politics, we are frank to say we hope it is out and that it will stay out forever.

We fear the desire of Tammany is not so much political in its ambitions as to be dictator of all parties and policies. It evidently has two supreme desires: One to rule New York, the other to rule the balance of the country.

Hoover and the Republican Party

Those Republicans who are against Hoover because he has never voted a Republican ticket should not be taken seriously for real honesty or good judgment. They ought to know that voting the Republican ticket would make him worse rather than better.

It seems their greatest objection to Hoover is that he is not radical enough. It makes no difference how the Republicans like him, it now seems certain that he is going to be the big wheel in Kansas City next week.

It may be that one reason the Republicans do not like Hoover is that Woodrow Wilson held him up in spite of their attacks during the war period. The fact that Wilson was for him is a very strong recommendation of his honesty.

Will It Be You?

Twenty-four thousand people are to be killed by automobiles in the United States this year, according to the rate fixed by the experience of the first five months of the year, which means 14,000 more people now living will be killed by automobiles this year. With this danger staring us in the face 'Be Careful' should be the watchword with us all. The most careful driver is in danger. Carelessness will be the chief cause of most of the deaths. It may be accidental carelessness or drunken carelessness of the victim, or it may be that of the killer. Be careful, it may be you.

The Menace of Consolidation

Nine more North Carolina cotton mills merged last week. At the present rate of consolidation the day is not so far distant when the cotton mills of the country will all be under one head.

With competition removed and only a few cotton buyers, low cotton will doubtless be the result. On the other hand, with all the manufacturers under one management the manufactured product will be higher.

Mason-Dixon Line Should Be Extended

The Mason and Dixon Line is just as strong and distinct now as it was in 1764, when it was drawn. For the first 100 years it was the dividing line between slavery and anti-slavery. A fine thing for humanity was the wiping out of the line, although it brought about the Civil War. But when human slavery was wiped out then the line was reestablished, placing the southern country in the territory of political and financial slavery.

The political whip has been cracked over our territory in nearly every campaign for 50 years. Except in one or two instances, the only thing the Democratic South has had to do in national politics was to find out what candidate New York wanted and very reverently bow down to the wishes of that State, because the cry was 'We must carry New York or we can not elect a Democratic president.'

The Woodrow Wilson election was an exception. New York and all of Tammany fought him to the last ditch and let the State go Republican.

When we say our side of the line is in financial slavery, we are sure of the truth of the statement, since New York does not only dominate the finances of this country, but since the war it has dominated the world's finance.

The Mason and Dixon line now needs to be extended from its western end northwestward, dividing the country with the agricultural belt to the south, and let the south and west do a little pulling together at Washington.

NANCY'S own kitchen had been undergoing improvements, along with the others. And, as might have been expected, its color scheme was a little out of the ordinary. For Nancy, as you may remember, was an artist, and not at all afraid to experiment with color.

Her house was Colonial in style, and the woodwork throughout was white, with mahogany trim. In her kitchen, the door and window frames were of mahogany color, with all the built-in furniture, white. Walls, lavender-gray, very light. Curtains, sea blue, bordered with French blue and lavender. Floor, light gray mosaic. Oval rugs of French blue, with bands of sea blue and lavender. Breakfast table, sea blue trimmed with French blue. Chairs, French blue, trimmed with sea blue. Oil range, pots and pans, snow-white.

"I got stage fright at the thought of cooking for you experts," she told the assembled Kitchen Club. "But I have some good sandwich recipes I'm going to give you."

"I always break the first rule of sandwich making—to use day-old bread. It does make much neater sandwiches, but they are not nearly so good as those made with fresh bread. I have a very sharp knife, and use it with the lightest pressure possible."

English Walnuts or Blanched Almonds
 in butter and salt, constantly stirring. Slice fresh bread, and spread thinly with olive oil mayonnaise. Sprinkle with the nuts, using the toasted butter as part of the spread. Are best if served immediately.

Cheese and Nut Sandwiches
 Run fresh American cheese through a food chopper until it is puffy. Mix with enough evaporated milk to make a paste. Do not use fresh milk. For this recipe, the evaporated is far better. Season with salt and red pepper. Mix with nuts and spread on fresh bread without mayonnaise. While this sandwich is better if eaten at once, it can stand for hours, if necessary, and still be good.

Cheese and Pimiento Sandwiches
 Run American cheese through food chopper until it is puffy. Mix with chopped canned pimiento and enough olive oil mayonnaise to spread nicely. This filling will keep for days, but is better eaten at once.

"Pick Up Supper" Sandwiches
 Toast bread on one side. On soft side spread mayonnaise. Lay on this a lettuce leaf, two slices of tomato and two of crisp, hot bacon. Salt and pepper. Serve at once.

Chicken Salad Sandwiches
 Chopped chicken, sweet pickle, chopped hard-boiled eggs. Pepper, salt, celery salt. A little chopped

Cheese Dreams
 These are hard to digest, but oh, so good on cold nights! Crumble fresh American cheese on fresh bread. Salt. Cover with another slice. Toast in frying pan with butter. When brown on one side turn and toast on the other. Serve at once.

Cake and Bread Box
 I showed the Kitchen Club the combination cake and bread box I found at Green's yesterday. It has two compartments. Comes in half-a-dozen different colors. I got one. But, as I already had a cake box, I'm going to put silver in the top compartment of mine.

Vanishing Garbage Bucket
 One store showed me a garbage bucket with an attachment to fasten it to the pipe under a kitchen sink. It pulls out on a lever to fill, and is pushed back out of sight when one is through with it. It comes in beautiful, bright colors, though, and it seems a shame to hide it.
