Served By Car tons of poultry or, to be exact, 19,998 pounds, were shipped from the county today by 275 poultry raisers to orthern markets, according to records of the loadings here Wednesday and in Robersonville yesterday. The ship-ment was the largest made this year and netted the poultrymen $4,827.31.
When the car was placed here on Wednesday morning there were around 3,000 pounds of fowls aboard. During Wednesday 14,365 pounds were loaded by farmers in this section, $6.02 less than $4,000 being paid for the offerings here. So many were the sell-ers that much waiting to weigh and sell was necessary, and a large number of the farmers sold to local merchants or returned home with their chickens rather than wait their turn at the car door. The car's representative worked through meal hours in an effort to re-lieve the congested condition, but then many farmers had to wait hours to be on. Approximately another unds would have been loaded had it been possible to handle the poultry to the car there. To the 5,633 pounds delivered there, an ordinary box car was used. The birds will be removed to a poultry car in Rocky Mount today, ready for the long ride to the Philadelphia mar-

LIBRABY IS DISCUSSED

John D. Biggs, Miss Lucille Allen and Professor Davis Make Short Addresses

A marked and valuable program featured the meeting of the parents and teeachers at the Woman's Club hall here yesterday afternoon when a large number of the school's patrons gathered to hear the general topic of libraries and their uses both by townspeople and school children

Mrs. John D. Biggs spoke highly of the use of a good library in a brief account of the early history of book making and accumulation. She pleaded for support of the state program to put books at the door of every home in North Carolina. Her talk was inspirational and a glowing tribute to the place that books have in the moulding of human lives and shaping conduct.

Miss Allen who has charge of the school libraries spoke of the actual condition in the school and then compared that with what Dr. Newlon of Columbia University gave as a test for good libraries. After telling about the seven grade libraries in which there are more than three hundred volumes and how each room uses these books, she emphasized the fact that according to these new concepts of library purposes, Williamston school was not only crowded in its library space but also many of the books were uscless and of no benefit except as counts. Numbers do not count so much according to Miss Allen's views but that the variety of selection and wisdom of choice are the essntials of library planning and equipping. Mrs. Harper Holliday sang before Mr. Davis proposed that the parent-teacher association cooperate with the school to the extent of taking it upon itself to keep the school library open during the summer. Mr. Davis gave as his reason for the school library's beink kept open during the summer the fact that all magazine subscriptions are for the full year, much money is invested in school property. there are many books in the library that are suitable for public reading the utilization of which is only twothirds of what it could be since the school building is locked during four months in the summer. The professor urged greater utilization of those things we have about us.

At the conclusion of Mr. Davis' remarks the meeting adjourned and refreshments were served by the social committee, Msdames P. B. C. A. Harrison and L. H.

Two Colored Boys Burned To Death in Fire Last Night

Meeting Is Well Attended Trapped in Second-Story Room by Fire Which Destroyed Home of Gadis Cordon, Near Jamesville, About 10 O'Clock Last Night

> Forman Smith, 17- and Andrew Boston, 11-years-old colored boys, were burned to death last night in a fire which totally destroyed the home of Gattis Cordon, about 5 miles east of Jamesville near Free Union Church.

> The origin of the firse is unknown. When first discovered, the flames were rapidly eating their way in the rear of the house where the two boys were sleeping in an upstairs room. No fires had been in that part of the house during the day.

> Cordon, the owner, stated that he went home with his car about 9 o'clock, but at that time he saw no signs of fire. He retired soon after, and about ten o'clock he was awakened by the screams of the two boys, who were, at that time, apparently trapped by the flames and smoke. There was no possible chance to save the lives of the two boys, other members of the family hardly having time to run from the house. One of the smaller members of the family was so badly frightened that she could not leave the house, but Cordon returned and brought her out just before the structure

Not even a shoe was saved, and excepting their night clothes not a garment was brought from the house, so quickly did the fire burn. Fanned by a strong wind, the flames were uncontrollable and the house with its contents was a total loss.

CONTEST CLOSES 15TH

Winning Candidates To Get Cash Prize of $150; Contest To Be Held Thursday, April 11

The queens' contest will be one of the many attractive features at the Eastern Carolina Exposition to be held in Farmville the week of April 8th, according to Mr. Newell G. Barlett, secretary-manager of the com merce organization, Mr. Bartlett, who was here recently, stated that many towns in this part of the State would be represented in the contest, and he is anxious that Williamston be repre-ented also. According to the rules of the contest, the entrant must be under 17 years of age and single. Any town outside of Pitt county is entitled to one candidate, the towns inside that county being entitled to 10 candi dates. The queens representing towns outside of Pitt county will not compete with the candidates from the various towns in that county, two prizes being offered. The contest will not extend over the entire week, but will be held all in one day, Thursday, according to present plans. All candidates will be introduced from the platform in the afternoon about 3 o'clock that day. After the introduction, ballots will be distribued to the audience, carrying the names of the candidates from Pitt County towns and the names of those from the towns only from out side of Pitt county. These ballots are taken up after voting and counted. The candidates will be introduced again at night from the platform of the exposition building after which the ballots will be distributed again. These ballots will be taken up and counted. The two winners, one Pitt county and one from outside of that county will be announced Friday night from the platform at 7:30. Mr. Joe Martin Dies In Washington, D. C.

Mr. Joe Martin, a former resident greatly shocked to learn of his death, as he was supposed to have passed the crisis of the attack the Wednesday before.

Mr. Martin was the youngest son of the late J. J. and Victoria Martin who were prominent citizens of this section for a number of years. He is survived by his widow and one adopted son besides his sister, Mrs. Fannie Carstarphen, of this pace, and Watta Martin, a brother of Norfolk. He was a brother of the late Wheeler Martin one of Williamston's most prominen' citizens during his lifetime. The funeral was held at the home and interment was made in a Wash-
