

CLUB GIRLS GO TO CAMP TUESDAY

Martin County 4-H Girls Will Leave Here Next Tuesday Morning

By MISS LORA SLEEPER A very interesting schedule has been arranged for the girls and boys going from this county to Camp Leach next Tuesday for the annual 4-H encampment.

Miss Elizabeth Cornelius, State Girls Club Agent, will be present at the camp Friday and speak to the campers on the "Meaning of Club Work."

All girls going to camp from Martin are urged to save all the silk scraps possible to help them in making their rug or mat, while at camp. The chaperones this year are Miss Eva I. Peel, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wildman, of Bell Arthur.

The camps are urged to meet in Williamston at the Central Service station Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. All should carry a lunch. The supper will be cooked Tuesday evening in camp. All campers are asked to be in camp by Tuesday 3 p. m.

HOUSING WILL CONSTITUTE A REAL PROBLEM

Heavy Yields Looked For From Tobacco, Peanut, and Corn Fields

Expecting, and reasonably so, a bumper production in his corn crop, Mr. Claude Green, prominent farmer of near here, is now faced with the problem of properly housing his produce next fall.

As a whole, Mr. Green has the most promising crops of any farmer in the county, and there are some mighty good ones here and there. His tobacco, all topped, and as even as a concrete road almost, is well developed, and, Mr. Green thinks, will weigh far more than did his crop last year.

His peanut crop, while not a perfect crop, was blossoming as a flower garden, and the vines were of considerable size. Careful and thorough cultivation was evident in the crop, as well as in all the others on the farm.

The farmer did not have much to say in connection with anticipated prices, the condition of his crops indicating that he tilled the soil for what it was worth.

This year, Mr. Green cut down on his fertilizers, and while his crops are better than they were last year, he

HEAVY WEEVIL INFESTATION IN THIS SECTION

No Efforts Being Made to Check Damage; Expect Heavy Damage

Contrary to expectations and in spite of the dry season, boll weevils are said to be prevalent in large numbers in the Robersonville section, where they first entered the section about seven years ago. The long dry spell last fall, the clean fields, and the efforts to destroy them last summer all combined was thought to have lessened the dangers of early infestation this year, but they are here and are possibly here to stay.

Most of the farmers of this immediate section are not making efforts this year to check them, believing that the low price of cotton will not warrant the extra cost of poisoning the weevil. With the recent rains the infestation is expected to increase.

estimates they are from 10 to 15 percent short of a normally good yield. However, a visit to his fields would lead one to believe that the crops are as near perfect as any one could grow.

BARGE CAPTAIN BURIED FRIDAY

Remains of W. T. Sawyer, 72, Carried to Norfolk For Final Rites

The body of W. T. Sawyer, 72-year-old barge captain, whose body was found last Thursday morning floating in the Roanoke River just above Hampton's Fishery, was carried to Norfolk Thursday night for burial, which took place Friday.

Captain Sawyer was last seen on the deck of his craft, "The Ashe," Tuesday night of last week, cleaning

A Great Discovery

When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of inestimable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill those germs that may enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw.

fish. He is thought to have fallen overboard as his craft was being towed from Jamesville to Plymouth.

At a coroner's inquest held here on Thursday afternoon by Roge Biggs, Martin County coroner, it was decided that Sawyer came to his death by causes unknown. Captain Sawyer had been master of barges for the last 40 years, and was in the employ of E. L. Hoagland until a month ago, when the Hertford Lumber Company purchased this line. He was a native of

New Bern, N. C., but has been a resident of Norfolk for 50 years. Surviving him are one daughter, Mrs. J. K. Graham, of Norfolk; one brother, John Sawyer, of Fayetteville, N. C., nine nieces, and two nephews and two grand children.

Modern Woodmen To Hold Special Meeting at Everetts

The Everetts Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America will hold a special meeting Monday night, July 13th, at the regular camp hall in Everetts. The secretary, Mr. Paul Bailey, insists that all members be present, as this will be the last meeting until after the tobacco crop is harvested. A new pass word will be given at this meeting.

A Certain Farmer... wanted to buy a tract of land adjoining his property. He had offered a fancy price, but the owner refused to sell. Some time later this piece of property was sold at the county courthouse door to satisfy a mortgage. The notice of sale was advertised through the local newspaper, according to law, but this certain farmer was not a subscriber to his county paper—and he knew nothing of the sale until after the property had been acquired by another party, at a bargain price. It may prove costly to be without your county paper—you should read it regularly—it is a personal and direct benefactor in many instances. Besides, it is a mighty factor in promoting the industrial, religious, educational and civic progress of your community—which is an indirect and mutual benefit to all.
