MAKE REPORT ON FERTILIZER FOR TOBACCO Committee Representing 4 States Makes Report On Findings

A large number of farmers have made vows and have sworn to statements in no uncertain terms that they will not plant tobacco next year because of the prevailing low prices. However, should planting time next spring bring about a change of mind, the following information might be of some value:

Recommendations for fertilization of flue-cured bright tobacco have been released for consideration of growers by a committee representing North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia, and working with representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For heavy or more productive soils the committee recommends 8 per cent available phosphoric acid, 3 per cent ammonia, and 5 per cent potash. For light or less productive land 8 per cent available phosphoric acid, 4 per cent ammonia, and 6 per cent potash is recommended.

To control "sand down" or magnesium hunger, the committee recommends that fertilizer carry 2 per cent magnesia. This may be derived from any material carrying magnesia in forms known to be readily available to the plant, such as sulphate of potash magnesia.

A small quantity of chlorine increases the acre value of the crop, experimental data from bright tobacco sections of the four States show. An excessive amount of chlorine injures the growth and reduces quality. It also has a bad effect upon burning quality of tobacco. Not more than 2 per cent of chlorine is advised for the fertilizer mixture.

Use 800 to 1,200 pounds per acre in the drill, thoroughly mixed with the soil and applied 10 days prior to transplanting, the committee advises.

Poor stand troubles from heavy applications of soluble plant food materials may be avoided and loss from leaching reduced by applying a part of the fertilizer as a side-dressing about 20 days after transplanting.

Some sources of plant food constituents follow: phosphoric acid derived from superphosphate; potash, derived from any source of available potash, provided any chlorine content of the mixed fertilizer so compounded does not exceed 2 per cent. (If tobacco by-products are used as a source of potash, they must be sterilized to guard against spread of disease); one-half of the ammonia should be derived from high grade organic materials of plant or animal origin, such as cotton-seed meal, fish scrap, and high grade tankage, at least one-fourth of the total ammonia to be supplied by nitrate of soda, and the remainder should be derived from such materials as urea or standard inorganic sources of ammonia.

HOW ONE WOMAN LOST 10 LBS. IN A WEEK

Mrs. Betty Luedeke of Dayton, writes, "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, safely and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Get it at any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—money back.

CHILD'S HABITS INFLUENCED BY ITS HOME LIFE

Research Worker at State College Tells Result of Observations

It is in the home that the first habits are formed which are so fundamental to health and to character.

"Habits of eating, and of food likes and dislikes are formed early," says Miss Myra DeHaven Woodruff, home demonstration research worker at State College. "I know of a young woman who was unfortunately separated from her father when she was a young child and did not see him again until she was 23 years old. She and her friends had wondered why she had acquired certain peculiar food likes, such as vinegar on snap beans, gravy on pie, and certain others. She was astonished to find that her father had the same likes."

Habits of neatness also begin early, Miss Woodruff says. Some children from a crowded tenement section were given scholarships to an expensive nursery school. None of the children was over four years old at the time, but when they went back to their crowded homes, they insisted on putting away their wraps as a result of their nursery school training. The habit of being neat or not being neat usually carries through life.

Habits of being prompt are important. So are those of playing fair, of courtesy, of truthfulness, of honesty, of perseverance, of independence. All of these habits have their beginnings in the home long before the child goes to school. Not only are these habits formed in the home, but many fundamental attitudes originate within the family, says Miss Woodruff. The attitude towards religion is pretty well set before school age. Attitudes toward marriage, towards parenthood, towards people, are formed early and unfortunately frequently become fixed too soon.

The home can make or break character, she declares. It requires study and thought to prevent many maladjustments which appear later in adult life.

RUN-DOWN and WEAK

"I began taking Cardui when in a weakened, run-down condition," writes Mrs. F. S. Peritt, of Wesson, Miss. "I took one bottle, and I seemed to improve so much that I sent for six bottles. After I had taken the six bottles, I seemed entirely well.

"Before I took Cardui, I was nervous, restless, blue and out of heart. I felt depressed all the time. After I took Cardui, all this disappeared.
