DECLINE SEEN IN CONSUMPTION OF LEAF TOBACCO

Crop Expected To Be Less Than For Any Year in Past Seven

Washington—A 500,000,000 pound flue-cured tobacco crop—the smallest in seven years—is in prospect on the basis of farmers' intentions to plant reported to the department of agriculture.

The acreage is 27 per cent less than last year's harvest. Since these reports were made, additional reduction has become evident because of cold weather, insect pests, and plant diseases with the damage most severe in Georgia and the eastern Carolinas.

The acreage reduction has been the greatest in Virginia and in the southern part of the flue-cured district.

Private trade reports, the department said, now estimate that because of plant shortage the 1932 acreage will be reduced considerably more than 27 per cent, particularly from eastern North Carolina southward. The department believes, however, that notwithstanding the relatively small crop of 1931, the carry-over on next July 1 will be fully as large as last year because of slow domestic consumption and sharply reduced exports.

Declines in consumption still continued, it was reported, with all classes affected except smoking tobacco, in which there has been a slight increase. Cheaper products, however, have not suffered as much.

Reduced 30 Pounds Never Felt Better

SAFE WAY TO LOSE FAT
Take the case of Miss Madelone Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter: "I have used Kruschen Salts for one year—when I started I weighed 140 pounds—now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life." That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight—as the fat goes you gain in health—skin clears—eyes grow bright—activity replaces indolence. Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar of Kruschen that costs but a trifle last 4 weeks—get it at Clark's Drug Store, Inc., or any druggist in the world—but for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts.

FEARS TYPHOID MAY BE SEVERE DURING SUMMER

State Health Officer Urges All People To Take Precautions

Raleigh—More precautions should be taken against typhoid fever this spring in North Carolina than ever before, according to Dr. James M. Parrott, executive secretary of the State Board of Health, and for two reasons. One is that typhoid fever has been steadily increasing in the state for the past three years. The second is that the amount of money available for typhoid prevention and control is less than ever before.

In January, February, and March of 1930, only four cases of typhoid fever were reported to the Board of Health, Dr. Parrott pointed out. In the same three months in 1931 a total of 12 cases were reported. In the same three months of this year a total of 31 cases of typhoid fever were reported, while in April 21 new cases of typhoid fever were reported, making a total of 52 cases of typhoid fever so far this year.

"This is more than three times as many cases as we had in the same length of time last year and about ten times the number of cases in the same period in 1930," said Dr. John H. Hamilton, head of the division of epidemiology. "As a result of this startling increase in typhoid, the utmost care is going to be necessary on the part of the public this spring and summer to avoid a still heavier increase."

Right now is the time for people to prepare to combat typhoid, according to both Dr. Parrott and Dr. Hamilton, and every effort should be made to eliminate flies, since they are admittedly the greatest carriers of typhoid germs. Houses should be screened as extensively as possible and all breeding places for flies, such as garbage cans, trash piles, and manure piles, should be cleaned up and removed as far as possible from houses.

"I urge the people of the State to take every sanitary precaution against typhoid fever that is possible, in view of the recent decided increase in the number of cases reported," Dr. Parrott said. Right now I particularly urge people to see their physicians and be vaccinated against typhoid, also diphtheria and smallpox.
