ADVISES AGAINST POISONING BOLL WEEVIL EARLY

Early Poisoning of Weevil Is Added Cost to the Control of Pest

Early poisoning of the cotton boll weevil with the so-called sweetened mixture by mopping, is an added cost to control of this pest and cannot be depended upon to give control throughout the season, according to entomology workers at State College.

These field men point out that most of the old weevils emerging from winter quarters to feed upon the young cotton will die before they can do any considerable damage. The cotton crop should be pushed into the quickest possible growth by careful and constant cultivation and by a side application of quickly available nitrogen where needed. The side dressing will be needed especially where little fertilizer was used at planting.

"The plan of fighting the boll weevil followed in this State is to dust with calcium arsenate when 10 percent of the squares are infested," says the entomologists. "If infestation does not reach ten percent, do not dust, because cotton ordinarily sheds a large amount of its squares. To spend time and money mopping the cotton to kill the old, over-wintered weevils is just so much useless expense. Those putting their dependence on this method of control may find later in the season that the cotton has been ruined. The standard dust poison method is the safe plan to follow."

C. H. Brannon, extension entomologist, says it is impossible to make any predictions about weevil damage at this time. However, indications are that insects of all kinds will be more prevalent this year than in recent years. In July and August are damp, making ideal conditions for weevil development, the pest is likely to do great damage. At any rate, those in a position to do so should prepare to fight the weevil. Such protection of the cotton crop should be considered a regular part of the farming program just as spraying peach trees is a part of any orchard enterprise.

SAYS COWS WILL BRING WEALTH

Five Cows on Every Farm Would Pay All Taxes In This State

Five good dairy cows on every farm in the State will bring wealth to North Carolina not only from the returns of the cows themselves but also because of the kind of farming that keeping these cows will demand.

A. C. Kimrey, dairy extension specialist at State College, has recently done some optimistic figuring about the value of dairy cows and says, "If every farm in North Carolina had five cows which would produce an average of one pound of butterfat a day and if this fat were sold for buttermaking purposes at 20 cents a pound, the returns would pay all the municipal, county and state taxes levied in the year 1931."

Kimrey points out further that it is not impossible to have five good cows on every farm nor is it impossible for these cows to produce one pound of butterfat a day. The price of 20 cents a pound for the fat is not excessive.

"These returns would make a down payment of over $224 for every automobile on our highways at the present time," says Kimrey. "Or they would buy and pay for two cities the size of Raleigh including all their real and personal property. The returns would give two coats of paint for every farm building of all kinds in rural North Carolina."

The moral to this is, "Grow feed crops, milk cows and enrich the State," Kimrey says.

His opinion in this matter is supported by the experiences of county described in the will of John R. Peel and willed to Susan F. Peel for life and then to H. U. Peel, and being the same land described in a deed of trust from H. U. Peel and mother, Susan Peel, to the Federal Land Bank, of record in the public record of Martin County, in book Z-1, at page 86.

This the 8th day of June, 1932.

ONE SKINNY GIRL GAINED 14 LBS. IN 3 WEEKS!

Scrawny Men Can Do The Same

You just can't help putting on firm, healthy flesh when you take mentha pepsin with your meals—a tablespoonful.

A man in Oklahoma—he's cashier in a bank—gained 19 pounds by doing it and won a salary raise. Got "renewed vigor," he says.

Mentha pepsin acts like gastric juice to draw out all the good of what you eat, so you don't have to stuff on heavy, greasy foods. Simply eat what you like and let mentha pepsin do the rest.

Be sure to get genuine mentha pepsin by asking for Dare's, Clark's, Drug Store and other first-class druggists always sell it with a guarantee of money back if even one bottle doesn't help.

RUNNER-UP

William E. White, Jr. of Hertford, winner of school, county, and district elimination contests, represented Perquimans, Washington Chowan, and Beaufort Counties and took second place in the Eastern district essay contest of the North Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association. The contest was held in Tarboro and Mildred Price of Severn High School, Northampton County, took first place.

White, a student of Perquimans High School, was the only boy in the contest, competing against three girls.

CANNED FOODS ARE BIG AID TO BALANCED DIET

County Club Women "Put Up" 38,538 Quarts Last Year

Not only does canning surplus vegetables and fruits in summer save money in winter and assures the family of an adequate food supply, but it also improves the general health of the family by balancing the diet.

Some 300 farm women in Washington County have learned this important lesson, home agent. "We have found that good nutrition and canning go hand in hand. In 1931 two canning schools held by Mrs. Stancil for canning leaders, one at Plymouth and the other at Greenville.

There was a canning demonstration given in almost every home demonstration club before the club women, and as a result over 38,538 quarts of fruits and vegetables were canned. If this food was valued at 20 cents a quart, the total would amount to $7,707.60.

While this saving is an important item at a time when money is scarce, the more important thing is the better farm agents who handled applications for governmental loans this season. Nearly all the agents said that those men who kept cows did not need to apply for loans. Some who kept only one or two such animals had to have small amounts of money but in general, the dairy farmer did not borrow like the crop farmer. His system of farming has been more profitable.

health of the farm families having a better balanced diet."

There are few club women who do not know the essentials of a good diet and how to prepare meals that will supply the balanced diet necessary to continued good health. Last year, around 34 steam pressure cookers were purchased by club women in this county.

Our canning goal in Washington County is to reach every family directly and indirectly (both white and colored) so that they may serve a balanced diet next winter.
