Need Still More Money

During the first week after the bank holiday, the amount of money in circulation rose to $6,700,000,000, which is a new high mark for this country.

With our debts of $175,000,000,000, it would take $8,750,000,000, at a rate of 5 per cent, to pay the annual interest, so Uncle Sam will have to give us a lot more money before we have funds enough to transact the general business and have enough left to pay our interest.

The Plight of the Farmer

The principal problem of the farmer was simply and lucidly expressed by Fred H. Sexauer, president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., when he said:

"Our biggest problem today is one of low prices, not low prices of milk alone, but of butter, cabbage, hay, beef, wheat, hogs, etc. Low prices in themselves, would not be serious were it not for the fact that those things which make up our living costs have not gone down as much as have the prices of our products."

"The solution of our problem then, lies in one of two courses: Either we must reduce the prices of the things bought to the level of those we sell, or raise the price level of those things which we sell to the level of things we buy."

The latter course is obviously the most desirable and the most feasible. Mr. Sexauer believes that it can be partly achieved by a revision of the monetary system, to recognize other mediums as well as gold, as the basis of credit. This would doubtless help to a great extent, and some such change may come. But the farmer must not believe that that alone would save him. To the efforts of cooperative leaders and public officials must be added his own individual efforts if he is to succeed in freeing himself from depression.

He must, in other words, cooperate with his fellows in any program designed for the common good. It is unquestionably true that an important factor in the collapse of the farm price level was disorganization, an every-man-for-himself policy that gave the middleman the upper hand in all dealings. All of us buy as cheaply as we can. The farmer will always sell cheaply unless he is represented by some organization with power equal to that of the purchaser.

In short, the farmer must bend his own shoulder to the wheel along with those who are seeking to solve his difficulties for him.

Tyranny in Germany

Adolph Hitler denies the Jews are being persecuted in Germany. Yet he has allowed persecutions of American newspaper men, because they printed the facts about the things Hitler is doing in Germany.

Any nation that suppresses facts about things being done by that nation is dangerous. All indications seem to justify the opinion that Jews or Gentiles are neither safe when in the power of the Hitlerites.

The German dictators propose to destroy socialism and communism by tyranny that is ten times more deadly and dangerous than any socialism or communism of which we have any history.

The new form of Germany's government seems to call for the death of all of its opponents, which sounds very much like some of the kings in the old days.

Come Again, Jake

Charlotte News.

We had almost forgotten there was such a political personality as the Hon. Jake Newell until that worthy if reluctant burgher broke into print through the medium of a Republican house organ known as the Western Carolina Tribune. We had, in fact, almost forgotten there, were such things as defeated Republican candidates until the Hon. Jake reminded us of it by declaring that:

"Congress has admitted its incompetency to enact remedial legislation or to provide for the enforcement of the laws it might enact. The result is a dictatorship which has won the unstinted praise of Mussolini."

Doubtless the gentleman has good arguments with which to support his contentions and to convince us all that Roosevelt's administration at least approximates a dictatorship. Given anything resembling failure on the part of the Democrats, he is in superb position to say, I told you so.

But at present, sire, we believe you will find a remarkable apathy among your fellow citizens as to the exact definition of what is taking place in governmental circles. Dictatorship or democracy, it happens to be the first time in 12 long years that the trash has been removed, and, truth is, we like it.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

That Advertising Speeds Up Success?

Truthful advertising is nourishment that the people can easily digest, and will pay any business concern that uses it persistently.

Competition is keener today than it has been in years, and this makes it necessary for business concerns to pay more attention to the work that advertising does.

Truthful, persistent, advertising compels attention and always creates favorable impressions. It aids sales with its convenience, economy, and effectiveness.

Advertising is vital to the success of every business. Persistent advertising indicates quality and value and creates confidence in the minds of the buying public.

Quality goods well advertised sell and keep on selling.

Advertising builds business and, by increasing volume, cuts down overhead—nothing strange about that. It is being done everywhere.

For high quality at sane prices, advertised goods are best.
