

STATE TEACHERS ARE HARD HIT BY NEW SCHOOL LAW

Fare Better at That Than Teachers in Some Other States of Union

Raleigh.—North Carolina teachers have been hard hit by the new school machinery law and the limit to the appropriations made for public school purposes, and their lot will be still harder under the new deal when their requirements will cost more on the higher schedule of salaries and costs. But North Carolina's teachers are by no means as badly off in salary reductions as are teachers of many other states, and, by comparison with 36 other states, they may well be said to be in fair condition. The teacher status in North Carolina is that they will get such salaries as they will get in actual cash and for a period of 8 months. In many other states the great reduction is not in actual salaries, but in failure of teachers to get the salaries for which they agreed to teach. This was also true in several North Carolina communities during the past two or three years, in which the local supplements could not be paid to the teachers, as promised. In this state, however, the teachers' warrants form liens on the money received from taxes levied, and in many cases these warrants are still being paid as the money comes in. This is not being done in any other states. The state of Oregon is an excellent example. Figures compiled by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction and published in the Oregon Educational Journal show that on June 20, 1933, 50 districts were three years behind in paying teachers' salaries; 112 were two years behind; 441 were one year behind; and 890 districts six months behind. In addition it is shown that there are: 830 districts whose warrants will not be cashed at par; 492 whose warrants must be discounted 10 per cent or more; 130 districts whose warrants will not be accepted for cash or credit in form of school equipment for teachers board or clothing without discount of 15 per cent or more, and 800 to 1,000 teachers will receive less than $500 for the year's teaching. North Carolina's 23,000 teachers, by comparison, will receive an average of $558 this year, white and colored. The salary range is from $360 to $720 a year. Of the 16,000 white teachers, about 10,000 fall in the classes of those getting between $560 and $720 a year, figures in the office of the State School Commission indicate. In a compilation made and issued in pamphlet form by the Office of Education, U. S. Department of the Interior, covering school activities and prospects for 36 states and the District of Columbia, an interesting picture is presented. Of special importance is the summary relative to teachers' salaries in the 36 states, furnished in each case by the State Superintendent. North Carolina's report in this publication is among the best. It states: "State schedules reduced from those of 1931-32 and 1932-33 10 per cent in addition to loss of experience increment. For 1933-34 state schedule will probably be reduced 30 per cent below 1930-31. No supplements by local funds in most cases. No loss of state's salary funds; only local funds behind, if any. Salaries well paid." In striking contrast to this are the brief reports of many of the 36 states, relative to teachers' salaries.

POTATO FARMER NOT FORGOTTEN BY "NEW DEAL"

Governor Hopes To Find Way To Check Share Planting

That the potato farmer is not forgotten by the administration at Washington and that Governor J. C. B. Ehringhaus hopes to find a way to check share planting of the crop this year with a view to doing for the potato grower what has already been done for the tobacco grower, is the assurance reaching here from an unofficial source. According to this information, while no publicity has been sought for or given to it, the Governor on his visits to Washington in the interest of tobacco growers has had the situation with reference to potatoes constantly on his mind and has mentioned it to the proper officials in the agricultural adjustment administration with the request that before planting time in Florida he be given an opportunity to present facts about the potato-growing industry to the administration and that the Governor has the evils of share planting particularly in mind in this connection. The attitude of the administration is described as sympathetic and friendly to the potato growers' interests. The United States potato crop in 1933 is expected to be the fifth smallest during the last 25 years. On November 1 the forecast was 317,000,000 bushels, or 41,000,000 less than the 1932 crop. Following two successive seasons of reduction in commercial potato acreage, growers in states from

Tobacco Payments Will Be Made Soon

Rental Payment on Tobacco Acreage Taken Out of Production Will Be Made Between December 15 and February 15, or Within 30 Days After the Grower's Contract is Accepted by the Washington Office.

Rental payment on tobacco acreage taken out of production will be made between December 15 and February 15, or within 30 days after the grower's contract is accepted by the Washington office. The price equalizing payment on tobacco sold before and after the market holiday will be paid as quickly as possible after the grower has signed a contract to reduce his acreage in 1934-35 and within 60 days after the application for payment has been accepted.
